Leung, 2017-10-11 This book intends to provide a comprehensive introduction to the status of development of Chinese mathematics education in the 21st century To this end the book summarizes and presents the research and practices of Chinese mathematics education in the following aspects 1 characteristics of Chinese school mathematics curriculum and textbooks 2 Chinese ways and strategies of teaching mathematics and the characteristics of mathematics classroom instruction in China 3 Chinese instructional practices in developing both gifted and underachieving students mathematical capabilities 4 how professional development of mathematics teachers is promoted in China including mathematics teachers pre service and in service education and how Chinese mathematics teachers design and implement teaching and research activities and 5 how mathematics education is assessed and evaluated including how to evaluate teachers teaching and students achievements Relevant research in Chinese mathematics education involving methods of surveys interviews text analysis etc are reviewed and analyzed Results of a number of video studies of Chinese mathematics classroom teaching and learning are also integrated into this book Planning the Development of Builders, Leaders and Managers for 21st-Century Business: Curriculum Review at Columbia Business School N. Capon, 2012-12-06 Business and management education has an important impact on business practice throughout the world To a very large extent possession of the MBA degree is a passport into the upper reaches of management and CEOs of many major corporations have earned an MBA It is a reasonable inference that the education received by these leaders and managers during their MBA experience has an important impact on the way that businesses throughout the world are led and managed and that major corporate decisions are made The heart of the MBA education is the curriculum and curriculum design is perhaps the most important strategic function for a business school faculty to undertake In order to understand the many issues concerning this contemporary curriculum review this book examines three related contextual domains First it details the long term growth of business and management education Second it examines the major theoretical and empirical literatures on organizational evolution and decision making paying special attention to decision making in institutions of higher education Finally the book describes the previous major curriculum review at Columbia Business School in the late 1950s and the subsequent changes that formed the curriculum that was changed in 1992 This book demonstrates what can be achieved by an institution that sets high standards for its business education and assists faculty and administrators in other schools of business and management as they contemplate revision of their curricula In addition it provides a prime example of curriculum design effort in one of the leading institutions worldwide Finally it will be of interest to scholars in several different fields notably higher education curriculum review organizational decision making and long run organizational evolution Mathematics

Homeschooling in the 21st Century Robert Maranto, Debra A. Bell, 2018-10-18 Education began on the most intimate levels the family and the community With industrialization education became professionalized and bureaucratized typically conducted in schools rather than homes Over the past half century however schooling has increasingly returned home both in the United States and across the globe This reflects several trends including greater affluence and smaller family size leading parents to focus more on child well being declining faith in professionals including educators and the Internet whose resources facilitate home education In the United States students who are homeschooled for at least part of their childhood outnumber those in charter schools Yet remarkably little research addresses homeschooling This book brings together work from 20 researchers addressing a range of homeschooling topics including the evolving legal and institutional frameworks behind home education why some parents make this choice home education educational environments special education and outcomes regarding both academic achievement and political tolerance In short this book offers the most up to date research to guide policy makers and home educators a matter of great importance given the agenda of the current presidential administration The chapters in this book were originally published as articles in the Journal of School Choice
