Ageing, Gender, and Illness in Anglophone Literature Heike Hartung,2015-12-07 This study establishes age as a category of literary history delineating age in its interaction with gender and narrative genre Based on the historical premise that the view of ageing as a burden emerges as a specific narrative in the late eighteenth century the study highlights how the changing experience of ageing is shaped by that of gender By reading the Bildungsroman as a coming of age novel the book asks how the telling of a life in time affects individual age narratives Bringing together the different perspectives of age and disability studies the book argues that illness is already an important issue in the Bildungsroman s narratives of ageing This theoretical stance provides new interpretations of canonical novels visiting authors such as Johann Wolfgang Goethe Frances Burney Maria Edgeworth Jane Austen Charles Dickens George Eliot Samuel Beckett and Jonathan Franzen Drawing on the link between age and illness in the Bildungsroman s age narratives the genre of dementia narrative is presented as one of the directions which the Bildungsroman takes after its classical period Applying these theoretical perspectives to canonical novels of the nineteenth century and to the new genre of dementia narrative the volume also provides new insights into literary and genre history This book introduces a new theoretical approach to cultural age studies and offers a comprehensive analysis of the

Forgotten Marlene Goldman, 2017-11-07 Since the 1860s long before scientists put a name to Alzheimer's disease Canadian authors have been writing about age related dementia Originally most of these stories were elegies designed to offer readers consolation Over time they evolved into narratives of gothic horror in which the illness is presented not as a normal consequence of aging but as an apocalyptic transformation Weaving together scientific cultural and aesthetic depictions of dementia and Alzheimer's disease Forgotten asserts that the only crisis associated with Canada's aging population is one of misunderstanding Revealing that turning illness into something monstrous can have dangerous consequences Marlene Goldman seeks to identify the political and social influences that have led to the gothic disease model and its effects on society Examining the works of authors such as Alice Munro Michael Ignatieff Jane Rule and Caroline Adderson alongside news stories and medical and historical discussions of Alzheimer's disease Goldman provides an alternative person centred perspective to the experiences of aging and age related dementia Deconstructing the myths that have transformed cognitive decline into a corrosive fantasy Forgotten establishes the pivotal role that fictional and non fictional narratives play in cultural interpretations of disease
