Adaptations Deborah Cartmell, Imelda Staunton, 2013-06-17 Adaptations considers the theoretical and practical difficulties surrounding the translation of a text into film and the reverse process the novelisation of films Through three sets of case studies the contributors examine the key debates surrounding adaptations whether screen versions of literary classics can be faithful to the text if something as encapsulated as Jane Austen's irony can even be captured on film whether costume dramas always of their own time and do adaptations remake their parent text to reflect contemporary ideas and concerns Tracing the complex alterations which texts experience between different media Adaptations is a unique exploration of the relationship between text and film

Rigorous Curriculum Design Larry Ainsworth, 2011-04-16 The need for a cohesive and comprehensive curriculum that intentionally connects standards instruction and assessment has never been more pressing For educators to meet the challenging learning needs of students they must have a clear road map to follow throughout the school year Rigorous Curriculum Design presents a carefully sequenced hands on model that curriculum designers and educators in every school system can follow to create a progression of units of study that keeps all areas tightly focused and connected

Insight Series: American literature Erwin Ray Steinberg, 1968 Doctrine and Difference Michael J. Colacurcio, 2013-10-23 The enduring power of many antebellum American texts trace their inspiration to Puritanism From Melville's preposterous but irresponsible quarrels with God to Hawthorne's instructed yet edgy evocations of earlier New England to Dickinson's finely turned little blasphemies Can one imagine that such texts were written anywhere but in the latter days of Puritanism Doctrine and Difference shows how the spirit and forms of liberalism are a necessary but by no means sufficient explanation for the flowering of literature in this period The colonialist writers were attempting to have things their own provincial way amidst an air of rejection by the cosmopolitan literary establishment Capturing the violence of repression the energy required to meet its moral argument head on and the disease of embattled survival this book shows how these works are in many ways the literary remnants of Puritanism

The Half-vanished Structure Magnus Ullén, 2004 This book takes issue with the tendency in twentieth century Hawthorne criticism to blur the distinction between symbolism and allegory Rejecting the long standing notion that Hawthorne is a symbolist in allegorical disguise Ullén argues that allegory is the key to understanding how religion sexuality aesthetics and politics are interwoven in Hawthorne's writings The study presents a model for allegorical interpretation of general applicability which is brought to bear on each of Hawthorne's mature romances and on the oft neglected Wonder Books written for children An unparalleled analysis of the formal intricacies of Hawthorne's writings this book is an eloquent plea for the necessity of grounding ideological analysis in aesthetical considerations
