Slums on Screen Igor Krstic, 2016-04-26 Near to one billion people call slums their home making it a reasonable claim to describe our world as a planet of slums But how has this hard and unyielding way of life been depicted on screen How have filmmakers engaged historically and across the globe with the social conditions of what is often perceived as the world s most miserable habitats Combining approaches from cultural globalisation and film studies Igor Krstic outlines a transnational history of films that either document or fictionalise the favelas shantytowns barrios poulares or chawls of our planet of slums exploring the way accelerated urbanisation has intersected with an increasingly interconnected global film culture From Jacob Riis How The Other Half Lives 1890 to Danny Boyle s Slumdog Millionaire 2008 the volume provides a number of close readings of films from different historical periods and regions to outline how contemporary film and media practices relate to their past predecessors demonstrating the way various filmmakers both north and south of the equator have repeatedly grappled with rejected or continuously modified documentary and realist modes to convey life in our planet of slums

Everyday Movies Haidee Wasson, 2020-11-10 Everyday Movies documents the twentieth century rise of portable film projectors It demonstrates that since World War II the vast majority of movie watching did not happen in the glow of the large screen but rather took place alongside the glitches distortions and clickety clack of small machines that transformed home classroom museum community government industrial and military venues into sites of moving image display Reorienting the history of cinema away from the magic of the movie theater Haidee Wasson illustrates the remarkable persistence and proliferation of devices that fundamentally rejected the sleek highly professionalized film show She foregrounds instead another kind of apparatus one that was accessible affordable adaptable easy to use and crucially programmable Revealing rich archival discoveries this book charts a compelling and original history of film that brings to light new technologies and diverse forms of media engagement that continue to shape contemporary life

Film and Urban Space Geraldine Pratt, 2014-06-23 Film and Urban Space Critical Possibilities traces recurring debates about what constitutes film s political potential and argues that the relation between film and urban space has been crucial to these debates and their historical transformations The book demonstrates that in the attempt to follow certain prescriptions shooting on location disrupting normalizing time experimenting with memory interlinking the spaces of screen and cinema films invariably use the relation between film and urban space as a kind of laboratory testing anew received prescriptions but invariably encountering new opportunities and new limits A wide range of key films from Dziga Vertov's 1928 Man with a Movie Camera to Jia Zhangke's 2008 24 City are discussed in depth each offering an argument for how the encounter between specific manifestations of modern urban space and politically engaged film strategies has served to challenge the status quo and stimulate critical thinking

The Extinct Scene Thomas S. Davis, 2015-12-08 In 1935 the English writer Stephen Spender wrote that the historical pressures of his era should turn the reader's and writer's attention outwards from himself to the world Combining historical formalist and archival approaches Thomas S. Davis examines late modernism's decisive turn toward everyday life locating in the heightened scrutiny of details textures and experiences an intimate attempt to conceptualize geopolitical disorder The Extinct Scene reads a range of mid-century texts films and phenomena that reflect the decline of the British Empire and seismic shifts in the global political order Davis follows the rise of documentary film culture and the British Documentary Film Movement especially the work of John Grierson Humphrey Jennings and Basil Wright He then considers the influence of late modernist periodical culture on social attitudes and customs and presents original analyses of novels by Virginia Woolf Christopher Isherwood and Colin MacInnes the interwar travel narratives of W. H. Auden Christopher Isherwood and George Orwell the wartime gothic fiction of Elizabeth Bowen the poetry of H. D. the sketches of Henry Moore and the postimperial Anglophone Caribbean works of Vic Reid Sam Selvon and George Lamming By considering this group of writers and artists Davis recasts late modernism as an art of scale by detailing the particulars of everyday life these figures could better project large-scale geopolitical events and crises

The Clear Line in Comics and Cinema David Pinho Barros, 2022-06-30 Historical and theoretical analysis of the clear line style in comics and cinema The clear line a term coined in 1977 by Dutch essayist and artist Joost Swarte has become shorthand in the field of comics studies for the style originally developed by Hergé and the cole de Bruxelles It refers to certain storytelling strategies that generate a deceptively simple lucid and hygienic narration in Philippe Marion's words it is a style made out of light fluidity and limpid clarity By cataloguing and critically analysing clear line comics from historical and theoretical perspectives this book offers a new outlook on the development of the style in the 20th and 21st centuries especially focused on the context of the European bande dessinée In addition it pioneeringly expands the concept of clear line to other artistic domains by introducing and defending its transmedial use which is particularly relevant for the understanding of the oeuvres of certain filmmakers of the 20th century working in the postwar period such as Yasujiro Ozu in Japan Jacques Tati in France and Frank Tashlin in the United States The Clear Line in Comics and Cinema is therefore a key theoretical work for both bande dessinée enthusiasts and comics scholars as well as a fundamental contribution to present-day film studies and transmedial narratology
