Noise From The Writing Center Elizabeth Boquet:

Noise From The Writing Center Elizabeth Boquet, 2002-03 In Noise from the Writing Center Boquet develops a theory of noise and excess as an important element of difference between the pedagogy of writing centers and the academy in general. Addressing administrative issues, Boquet strains against the bean counting anxiety that seems to drive so much of writing center administration. Pedagogically, she urges a more courageous practice developed via metaphors of music and improvisation and argues for noise, excess, and performance as uniquely appropriate to the education of writers and tutors in the center. Personal even irreverent in style, Boquet is also theoretically sophisticated and she draws from an eclectic range of work in academic and popular culture from Foucault to Attali to Jimi Hendrix. She includes as well the voices of writing center tutors with whom she conducted research and she finds some of her most inspiring moments in the words and work of those tutors.

The Writing Center Director's Resource Book Christina Murphy, Byron Stay, 2012-11-12 The Writing Center Director's Resource Book has been developed to serve as a guide to writing center professionals in carrying out their various roles, duties, and responsibilities. It is a resource for those whose jobs not only encompass a wide range of tasks but also require a broad knowledge of multiple issues. The volume provides information on the most significant areas of writing center work that writing center professionals both new and seasoned are likely to encounter. It is structured for use in diverse institutional settings, providing both current knowledge as well as case studies of specific settings that represent the types of challenges and possible outcomes writing center professionals may experience. This blend of theory with actual practice provides a multi-dimensional view of writing center work. In the end, this book serves not only as a resource but also as a guide to future directions for the writing center, which will continue to evolve in response to a myriad of new challenges that will lie ahead.

Everyday Writing Center Anne Ellen Geller, Michele Eodice, Frankie Condon, Meg Carroll, Elizabeth H. Boquet, 2007-04-01 The Everyday Writing Center challenges some of the most comfortable traditions in its field and it does so with a commitment and persuasiveness that one seldom sees in scholarly discussion. The book at its core is an argument for a new writing center consciousness, one that makes the most of the writing center's unique and uniquely fluid identity. Writing center specialists live with a liminality that has been acknowledged but not fully explored in the literature. Their disciplinary identity is with the English department but their mission is cross-disciplinary; their research is pedagogical but they often report to central administration. Their education is in humanities but their administrative role demands constant number crunching. This fluid identity explains why Trickster, an icon of spontaneity, shape-shifting, and the creative potential of chaos, has come to be a favorite cultural figure for the authors of this book. Adapting Lewis Hyde and others, these authors use Trickster to develop a theme of ordinary disruptions, the everyday as a source of provocative learning moments that can liberate both student writers and writing center staff. At the same time, the authors parlay Etienne Wenger's concept of community of practice into an ethos for a dynamic learner-centered pedagogy that is especially well suited to the peculiar teaching situation of the writing center Through Trickster they question not only accepted approaches to writing center pedagogy but conventional approaches to race time leadership and collaboration as well They encourage their field to exploit the creative potential in ordinary events that are normally seen as disruptive or defeating and they challenge traditions in the field that tend to isolate a writing center director from the department and campus Yet all is not random for the authors anchor this high risk high yield approach in their commitment to a version of Wenger s community of practice Conceiving of themselves their colleagues student writers and student tutors as co learners engaged together in a dynamic life of learning the authors find a way to ground the excess and randomness of the everyday while advancing an ethic of mutual respect and self challenge Committed to testing a region beyond the edge of convention the authors of The Everyday Writing Center constantly push themselves and their field toward deeper more significant research and more reflective dynamic teaching

Peripheral Visions for Writing Centers Jackie Grutsch McKinney, 2013-04-15 Peripheral Visions for Writing Centers aims to inspire a re conception and re envisioning of the boundaries of writing center work Moving beyond the grand narrative of the writing center that it is a solely comfortable yet iconoclastic place where all students go to get one on one tutoring on their writing Grutsch McKinney shines light on other representations of writing center work Grutsch McKinney argues that this grand narrative neglects the extent to which writing center work is theoretically and pedagogically complex with ever changing work and conditions and results in a straitjacket for writing center scholars practitioners students and outsiders alike Peripheral Visions for Writing Centers makes the case for a broader narrative of writing center work that recognizes and theorizes the various spaces of writing center labor allows for professionalization of administrators and sees tutoring as just one way to perform writing center work Grutsch McKinney explores possibilities that lie outside the grand narrative allowing scholars and practitioners to open the field to a fuller richer and more realistic representation of their material labor and intellectual work

Around the Texts of Writing Center Work R. Mark Hall, 2017-05-01 Around the Texts of Writing Center Work reveals the conceptual frameworks found in and created by ordinary writing center documents The values and beliefs underlying course syllabi policy statements website copy and comments assessment plans promotional flyers and annual reports critically inform writing center practices including the vital undertaking of tutor education In each chapter author R Mark Hall focuses on a particular document He examines its origins its use by writing center instructors and tutors and its engagement with enduring disciplinary challenges in the field of composition such as tutoring and program assessment He then analyzes each document in the contexts of the conceptual framework at the heart of its creation and everyday application activity theory communities of practice discourse analysis reflective practice and inquiry based learning Around the Texts of Writing Center Work approaches the analysis of writing center documents with an inquiry stance a call for curiosity and skepticism toward existing and proposed conceptual frameworks in the hope that the theoretically conscious evaluation and revision of commonplace documents will lead to greater efficacy and more abundant research by writing center administrators and students      CounterStories from the Writing Center Frankie Condon, Wonderful Faison, 2022-04-15 CounterStories from the Writing Center gathers emerging scholars of colour and their white accomplices to challenge some of the most cherished lore about the work of writing centres Writing within an intersectional feminist frame this volume's contributors name and critique the dominant role that white straight cis gendered women have played in writing centre administration as well as in the field of writing centre studies This work will shake the field's core assumptions about itself Practicing what Derrick Bell has termed creative truth telling these writers are not concerned with individual white women in writing centres but with the social political and cultural capital that is the historical birthright of white straight cis gendered women particularly in writing centre studies The essays collected in this volume test defy and overflow the bounds of traditional academic discourse in the service of powerful testimony witness and counterstory CounterStories from the Writing Center is a must read for writing centre directors scholars and tutors who are committed to antiracist pedagogy and offers a robust intersectional analysis to those who seek to understand the relationship between the work of writing centres and the problem of racism Accessible and usable for both graduate and undergraduate students of writing centre theory and practice this work troubles the field's commonplaces and offers a rich envisioning of what writing centres materially committed to inclusion and equity might be and do Contributors Dianna Baldwin Nicole Caswell Mitzi Ceballos Romeo Garcia Neisha Anne Green Doug Kern T Haltiwanger Morrison Bernice Olivas Moira Ozias Trixie Smith Willow Trevino      Writing Centers and Learning Commons Steven J. center scholarship the editors of this volume have created a rich resource for writing center tutors administrators and scholars Motivated by a scholarly interest in race and whiteness studies and by an ethical commitment to anti racism work contributors address a series of related questions How does institutionalized racism in American education shape the culture of literacy and language education in the writing center How does racism operate in the discourses of writing center scholarship lore and how may writing centers be unwittingly complicit in racist practices How can they meaningfully operationalize anti racist work How do they persevere through the difficulty and messiness of negotiating race and racism in their daily practice The conscientious nuanced attention to race in this volume is meant to model what it means to be bold in engagement with these hard questions and to spur the kind of sustained productive multi vocal and challenging dialogue that with a few significant exceptions has been absent from the field

The Embodied Playbook J. Michael

Rifenburg,2018-08-15 The Embodied Playbook discovers a new approach to understanding student literacy in a surprising place the university athletics department Through analysis of a yearlong case study of the men s basketball team at the University of North Georgia J Michael Rifenburg shows that a deeper and more refined understanding of how humans learn through physical action can help writing instructors reach a greater range of students Drawing from research on embodiment theory the nature and function of background knowledge jazz improvisation and other unexpected domains The Embodied Playbook examines a valuable but unexplored form of literacy the form used by student athletes when learning and using scripted plays All students extracurricular prior knowledge is vital for the work they undertake in the classroom and student athletes understand the strengths and constraints of written text much as they understand the text of game plays through embodying text and performing it in a competitive space The book focuses on three questions What are plays and what do they do How do student athletes learn plays How can teachers of composition and rhetoric better connect with student athletes The Embodied Playbook reveals the literacy of the body as a rich and untapped resource for writing instruction Given the numbers of students who are involved in athletics whether intramural community related or extracurricular Rifenburg s conclusions hold important implications not only for how we define literacy but also for how writing programs can serve all of their students most effectively

The Origins of the Art and Practice of Professional

Writing Kathryn Rosser Raign,2024-04-01 The Origins of the Art and Practice of Professional Writing addresses the classic divide in teaching written skills between rhetoric composition and technical professional communication TPC It explores a body of texts that were created earlier than any yet identified by either field ancient Mesopotamian documents produced in the eighth century BCE The book debunks two myths it shows that rhetoric was practiced consciously and taught systematically long before the Greek civilization existed and because a large swathe of the public while not fully literate had access to the services of scribes not just men but women merchants and even slaves utilized writing as a tool for social justice From their earliest writings humans consciously applied principles of persuasion to the documents that they produced

Rather than being two distinct fields rhetoric and professional communication are intertwined in their histories

Redefining Roles Megan Swihart Jewell, Joseph Cheatle, 2021-07-12 Redefining Roles is the first book to recognize and provide sustained focus on the presence of professional faculty and graduate student consultants in writing centers A significant number of writing centers employ non peer consultants yet most major training manuals are geared toward undergraduate tutoring practices or administrators This collection systematically addresses this gap in the literature while initiating new conversations regarding writing center staffing Thirty two authors consultants and administrators from diverse centers from large public four year institutions to a private online for profit university provide both theoretical frameworks and practical applications in eighteen chapters Ten chapters focus on graduate consultants and address issues of authority training professional development and mentoring and eight focus on professional and faculty consultant training as well as specific issues of identity and authority By sharing these voices Redefining Roles broadens the very idea of writing centers while opening the door to more dialogue on the important role these practitioners play Redefining Roles is designed for writing center practitioners scholars and staff It is also a necessary addition to help campus administrators in the ongoing struggle to validate the intellectually complex work that such staff performs Contributors Fallon N Allison Vicki Behrens Cassie J Brownell Matt Burchanoski Megan Boeshart Burelle Danielle Clapham Steffani Dambruch Elise Dixon Elizabeth Festa Will Fitzsimmons Alex Frissell Alex Funt Genie Giaimo Amanda Gomez Lisa Lamson Miriam E Laufer Kristin Messuri Rebecca Nowacek Kimberly Fahle Peck Mark Pedretti Irina Ruppo Arundhati Sanyal Anna Scanlon Matthew Sharkey Smith Kelly A Shea Anne Shiell Anna Sicari Catherine Siemann Meagan Thompson Lisa Nicole Tyson Marcus Weakley Alex Wulff

Matsuda, 2012-04-30 Kelly Ritter and Paul Kei Matsuda have created an essential introduction to the field of composition studies for graduate students and instructors new to the study of writing The book offers a careful exploration of this diverse field focusing specifically on scholarship of writing and composing Within this territory the authors draw the boundaries broadly to include allied sites of research such as professional and technical writing writing across the curriculum programs writing centers and writing program administration Importantly they represent composition as a dynamic eclectic field influenced by factors both within the academy and without The editors and their sixteen seasoned contributors have created a comprehensive and thoughtful exploration of composition studies as it stands in the early twenty first century Given the rapid growth of this field and the evolution of it research and pedagogical agendas over even the last ten years this multi vocal introduction is long overdue

WPA, Writing Program Administration ,2004     The Oxford Guide for Writing Tutors Melissa Iannetta,Lauren Fitzgerald,2016 The Oxford Guide for Writing Tutors introduces two conversations to the tutor s preparation one about the creation of knowledge in writing programs the other about tutor research This approach to tutor training provides several benefits First it allows tutors to test their theories of what might work in a writing center session and helps them to move professional conversation towards why such things happen They bridge the theory practice divide that often frustrates both novices and experienced tutors By conducting research to answer such questions tutors can help themselves the writers with whom they work their fellow tutors and the writers with whom they work And further this approach gives the reader new methods for appreciating and critiquing scholarly work making it easier to understand the best ways to help writers and to move the field forward As writing tutoring programs take on a variety of forms and pursue a range of missions this book aims to create a flexible text whose contents can be easily rearranged to support a broad spectrum of reader needs Each chapter accordingly can be read independently the text does not rely on a sequential reading to create meaning The book also includes intra textual and extra textual references for the reader who wants to inquire further That is throughout the book are references to material in other chapters that might be of interest to the reader intrigued by the topic at hand So too in each chapter we include references to and citations of the scholarship that supports much of the common knowledge of the field including in the Handbook both previous tutor education textbooks and research from the field The aim is to aid the interested reader s inquiry into the scholarship of the field as well as to ground advice about practice in research that testifies to the effectiveness a range of tutoring practices Much of the scholarship cited throughout the book is authored by undergraduate tutor researchers as well as several former tutors who were graduate students when they published their articles This crucial aspect best models the ways in which tutors themselves can bring together practice and research in their day to day work and in their informed thinking about this work Including tutor voices is an important tradition of the tutor education textbook because these are voices that speak to the issues concerning tutors in a range of institutions and programs across the country

College Writing and Beyond Anne Beaufort,2008-02-06

Composition research consistently demonstrates that the social context of writing determines the majority of conventions any writer must observe Still most universities organize the required first year composition course as if there were an intuitive set of general writing skills usable across academic and work world settings In College Writing and Beyond: A New Framework for University Writing Instruction Anne Beaufort reports on a longitudinal study comparing one student's experience in FYC in history in engineering and in his post college writing Her data illuminate the struggle of college students to transfer what they learn about general writing from one context to another Her findings suggest ultimately not that we must abolish FYC but that we must go beyond even genre theory in reconceiving it Accordingly Beaufort would argue that the FYC course should abandon its hope to teach a sort of general academic discourse and instead should systematically teach strategies of responding to contextual elements that impinge on the writing situation Her data urge attention to issues of learning transfer and to developmentally sound linkages in writing instruction within and across disciplines Beaufort advocates special attention to discourse community theory for its power to help students perceive and understand the context of writing

Writing Center Talk over Time Jo Mackiewicz, 2018-06-27 In the last 15 to 20 years writing centers have placed greater importance on tutor training focusing on teaching tutors best practices in fostering student writers engagement and writing skills Writing Center Talk over Time explores the importance of writing center talk and demonstrates the efficacy of tutor training The book uses corpus driven analysis and discourse analysis to examine the changes in writing center talk over time to provide a baseline understanding of the very heart of writing center work the talk that unfolds between tutors and student writers It is this talk that at its best motivates student writers to continue to improve their writing and scaffolds their learning and that makes tutors proud of the service that they provide The methods and analysis of this study are intended to inform other researchers so that they may conduct further research into the efficacy of writing center talk
