Leadership Capital Index Dave Ulrich, 2015-10-19 When it comes to evaluating a firm leadership matters. We know that financial outcomes can predict about 50 percent of a firm's market value. Intangibles like strategy, brand, talent, R&D, innovation, risk, and so on account for the rest. But leadership underlies them all. And despite how important we know it is, we've been forced to rely on subjective and unreliable ways to measure its impact until now. In this landmark book, leadership scholar, author, and consultant Dave Ulrich proposes a leadership capital index, a Moody's or Standard and Poor's rating for leadership. Drawing on research from investors and business leaders and synthesizing the work of dozens of consulting firms and leadership experts, Ulrich analyzes two broad domains, each comprising five factors. The individual domain includes personal qualities, strategic prowess, execution proficiency, interpersonal skills, and fit between the leader's style and the organization's market promises. The organizational domain encompasses a leader's ability to create customer-focused cultures, manage talent demand, accountability, use information to gain competitive advantage, and set up work processes to deal with change. Ulrich details rigorous metrics and methods for evaluating leaders on each of these factors. The result is a groundbreaking book that will be of vital interest not only to equity and debt investors but also to boards of directors, executive teams, human resource, and leadership development professionals, government, and ratings agencies, and of course to leaders themselves.
