Plus 90 Manual 398:

Cassell's manual of the French language J L de Lolme, 1853 Revolution and Counterrevolution Seymour Lipset, 2017-09-29 This collection of Lipset's major essays in political sociology is in a real sense a follow up or sequel to Political Mind and The First New Nation. It provides a broad panorama of continuing interest developing a sociological perspective in comparative and historical analysis with particular reference to politics, modernization and social stratification. Robert E. Scott in The Midwest Journal of Political Science said this book has an essential unity. The subjects discussed are interesting and important to the political scientists and the observations offered stimulating and significant. Both the student and the mature scholar can benefit. Professor Lipset describes this collection of his major essays in political sociology as in a real sense a follow up or sequel to Political Man and The First New Nation. This volume provides a broad panorama of continuing interest developing a sociological perspective in comparative and historical analysis with particular reference to politics, modernization and social stratification. The opening section of the book contains in addition to a valuable new introductory chapter, essays that interpret varying levels of socioeconomic development in the United States, Canada and Latin America. Other essays deal with such matters as the contrasting modes of modernization in Europe and Asia, the role of values and religious beliefs in the emergence of political systems, the effect of religion on American politics from the founding of the Republic to the present. A concluding section analyzes major works of political sociology in the light of contemporary ideas. Many chapters have been revised to include recent data. Seymour Martin Lipset is Munro Distinguished Professor of Political Science and Sociology at Stanford University and Senior Fellow at the Hoover Institution on War, Revolution and Peace. Prior to his current appointment, he was Markham Professor of Manual of the Motor Transport Corps United States. Army. Motor Transport Corps, 1919 Manual of Online Search Strategies C.J. Armstrong, J.A. Large, 2018-12-20 Published in 1992, like the first, this second edition is not intended as an introductory textbook; command-driven Boolean searching. It is targeted at online searchers who already have some knowledge of command languages and may be proficient searchers on databases in one or two subject areas but when required to venture into new and less familiar territory still need guidance. It is also offered to end users who possess the subject expertise but lack of information retrieval know-how. The Manual is offered as a guide to database selection and a navigational aid through the twists and turns of the retrieval maze; at least some of the dead ends and backtracking may thereby be avoided. This volume, written by experts in their various fields, deals with the subject coverage and record structures of specific databases, offers comparisons between databases, context indexing procedures, updating policies, etc. It discusses the choice between online and CD-ROM sources and between hosts if online is selected and illustrates strategies with numerous search extracts Air Force Manual United States.
