

Rain is Falling Down

The clouds are grey
The sky is dark
We must stay in
Can't go to the park

The rain can fall steadily
Softly all around
But sometimes it falls loudly
Making puddles on the ground!

With raincoats and boots
We head through the rain
Watching as the drops
Feed the trees and terrain

Bringing new life
And helping the earth
We're thankful for the rain
As it brings it rebirth.

Dripping and dropping
As we huddle together
Colorful umbrellas go up
To protect from the weather

As the sun slowly comes out
A rainbow we can see
We need to thank the rain
For keeping our world clean

Lawler, 1997 Baudelaire ascribed exceptional importance to the arrangement of Les Fleurs du mal His book he said constituted a perfect whole which he had arranged according to a preconceived plan One of his earliest readers the novelist and critic Barbey d Aureville spoke of a secret architecture and a plan calculated by the solitary meditative poet though he did not go into details and ever since scholars have pursued the question of structure This new study offers an exciting reading of the 127 poems of the second edition 1861 which shows that beyond the meanings of its individual poems the collection has a sense that we ignore at substantial cost The author presents a precise dialectical method a somber and limpid tete a tete of the poet with himself The argument is pursued between the poems which ask to be read with and against each other
