

Mandela's poet laureate Zolani Mkiva awards Nicaraguan president

LULAMILE FENI

Nelson Mandela's poet laureate, Zolani Mkiva, has awarded Nicaragua President Daniel Ortega with the Mkiva Humanitarian Foundation Award, declaring him the 2024 Global Champion for People's Freedom.

Mkiva was invited as a guest of honour to the 45th Anniversary of the Sandinista National Liberation Front in Nicaragua in Central America on Friday, where he awarded Ortega.

"President Ortega was honoured for his revolutionary leadership and for having transformed the economy of Nicaragua tremendously and bettering the lives of the citizens of his country.

"Nicaragua's economic growth has positively impacted the other states in the region," Mkiva said.

He said the progressive Sandinista revolution in Nicaragua had inspired a myriad of revolutions across the world.

"Many countries benchmark the Sandinista revolution and President Daniel Ortega is highly regarded for his political acumen and strategic leadership.

"Even though Nicaragua is a small country in size, its influence in the international arena is beyond question," he said.

Ortega was presented with the award in front of a large crowd at Revolutionary Square in Managua, the capital city of Nicaragua.

Mkiva has close relationships with iconic leaders worldwide.

He is an Order of Ikhamanga in Silver recipient for having achieved international recognition in praise poetry and as an outstanding champion of African oral traditions, who has done not only SA proud, but the continent as a whole.

Mkiva started using his gift of praise poetry at a young age but only rose to prominence in 1990 as a young imbongi (praise singer) when he had the honour of praising former Mandela at a welcome home rally in the then Transkei.

Consolidating this role, Mkiva was then appointed Imbongi Yesizwe (Poet to the Nation).

He was also the praise singer at Mandela's presidential inauguration in 1994, and subsequently became the former president's poet laureate.

He has served as master of ceremonies for the international conference of writers at the Haus der Kulturen der Welt (House Of World Cultures) in Berlin, participated in numerous local and international events (including Poetry Africa 2000), and worked with Salit Keita, Bayete, Angelique Kidjo, Papa Wemba and Ismael Lo, among other celebrated artists.

Mandela Moments Kate Sidley,2018-06-01 How do you retell the well worn life story of a national icon One way is this a palimpsest of a hundred memories of the great man revolutionary world leader and family figure to celebrate the 100th anniversary of his birth Kate Sidley offers renewed and touching insight into Mandela by retelling humorous heart warming and momentous moments from his life roughly chronologically drawing from his own writing and the memories of contemporaries historians and ordinary people The reading experience is multi varied and complex touching and inspiring like Madiba himself 100 Mandela Moments is divided into sections according to the many roles Mandela played in his lifetime the school boy the student the lawyer the outlaw the prisoner the negotiator the statesman the elder Each story or moment is short and encapsulates something about the man behind the legend and the book can be read cover to cover or dipped into

Stranger at Home Ashlee Naser,2011-05 This book is about the poetry vision and deeply inhospitable context of one of South Africa's most talented praise poets The praise poet imbongi is a familiar cultural icon in contemporary South Africa Public events as diverse as presidential inaugurations openings of parliament fashion shows and boxing contests begin with the rousing declamations of charismatic iimbongi Yet until the institution of majority rule praise poets who sought to shock their audiences with dangerous truths could claim none of the prestige enjoyed by their present day counterparts Under apartheid many praise poets either ceased to perform or abandoned the imbongi s duty to diagnose and criticize political and social ills There was however one brilliant Xhosa imbongi called David Manisi a poet widely acclaimed in his youth as the successor to the great SEK Mqhayi who refused to capitulate to the ease of silence or complicity As documented by Jeff Opland in The Dassie and the Hunter UKZN Press Manisi worked tirelessly and in embattled contexts to address his audiences with demands criticisms and aspirations they frequently misunderstood The author of five volumes of Xhosa poetry and performer of inspired and elegantly crafted izibongo praise poems Manisi saw himself as a man of multiple places allegiances and identities at a time when these markers of self were rigidly policed Manisi's entrance on the local Transkeian poetry scene was legendary He was for a time the most famous poet in Kaiser Mathanzima's court He also wrote the first published poem about Nelson Mandela in 1954 hailing him prophetically as Gleaming Road Despite these early accomplishments Manisi ended his career as a lonely performer in American and South African universities He never met Mandela his hero of old Ashlee Naser examines Manisi as an inventive negotiator of rural and urban spaces modernity and tradition performance and publication the local and the foreign Beyond Memory Max Mojapelo, 2008 South Africa possesses one of the richest popular music traditions in the world from marabi to mbaqanga from boeremusiek to bubblegum from kwela to kwaito Yet the risk that future generations of South Africans will not know their musical roots is very real Of all the recordings made here since the 1930s thousands have been lost for ever for the powers that be never deemed them worthy of preservation And if one peruses the books that exist on South African popular music one still finds that their authors have on occasion jumped to conclusions that were not as foregone as they had assumed Yet the fault lies not with them rather in the fact that there has been precious little documentation in South Africa of who played what or who recorded what with whom and when This is true of all music making in this country though it is most striking in the musics of the black communities Beyond Memory Recording the History Moments and Memories of South African Music is an invaluable publication because it offers a first hand account of the South African music scene of the past decades from the pen of a man Max Thamagana Mojapelo who was situated in the very thick of things thanks to his job as a deejay at the South African Broadcasting Corporation This book astonishing for the breadth of its coverage is based on his diaries on interviews he conducted and on numerous other sources and we find in it not only the well known names of recent South African music but a countless host of others whose contribution must be recorded if we and future generations are to gain an accurate picture of South African music history of the late 20th and early 21st centuries Christian Environmentalism and Human Responsibility in the 21st Century Katherine M. Quinsey, 2023-11-16 Christian Environmentalism and Human Responsibility in the 21st Century comprises original scholarly essays and creative works exploring the implications of Christian environmentalism through literary and cultural criticism and creative reflection The volume draws on a flourishing recent body of Christian ecocriticism and environmental activity incorporating both practical ethics and environmental spirituality but with particular emphasis on the notion of human responsibility It discusses responsibility in its dual sense as both the recognized cause of environmental destruction and the ethical imperative of accountability to the nonhuman environment The book crosses boundaries between traditional scholarly and creative reflection through a global range of topics African oral tradition Ohio artists off the grid immigrant self metaphors of land and sea iconic writers from Milton to O'Connor to

Atwood and Indigenous Canadian models for listening to the nonhuman Mother of us all In its incorporation of academic and creative pieces from scholars and creative artists across North America this volume shows how environmental work of its nature and necessity crosses traditional academic and community boundaries In both form and orientation this collection speaks to the most urgent intellectual physical social and spiritual needs of the present day This book will appeal to scholars researchers and upper level students interested in the relationship between religion and environment ethics animal welfare poetry memoir and post secularism Of Land, Bones, and Money Emily McGiffin, 2019-07-18 The South African literature of iimbongi the oral poets of the amaXhosa people has long shaped understandings of landscape and history and offered a forum for grappling with change Of Land Bones and Money examines the shifting role of these poets in South African society and the ways in which they have helped inform responses to segregation apartheid the injustices of extractive capitalism and contemporary politics in South Africa Emily McGiffin first discusses the history of the amaXhosa people and the environment of their homelands before moving on to the arrival of the British who began a relentless campaign annexing land and resources in the region Drawing on scholarship in the fields of human geography political ecology and postcolonial ecocriticism she considers isiXhosa poetry in translation within its cultural historical and environmental contexts investigating how these poems struggle with the arrival and expansion of the exploitation of natural resources in South Africa and the entrenchment of profoundly racist politics that the process entailed In contemporary South Africa iimbongi remain a respected source of knowledge and cultural identity Their ongoing practice of producing complex spiritually rich literature continues to have a profound social effect contributing directly to the healing and well being of their audiences to political transformation and to environmental justice South African journal of African languages ,2003 Milk and Honey Michele Leggott, 2013-11-01 Deft word play allusion and quotation meet intense images and stirring rhythms in this compendium from one of New Zealand's top poets The verse in this demanding body of work represents a step forward it contains a sense of a wider world beyond the pages and enough substance to yield pleasure over many readings Lovers of words verse and rhyme will find delight in this distinctive collection from a poet further developing her voice and her craft

An Annotated Bibliography of Southern Bantu Praise Poetry David Westley, 1999 The Cambridge History of South African Literature David Attwell, Derek Attridge, 2012-01-12 South Africa's unique history has produced literatures in many languages in both oral and written forms reflecting the diversity in the cultural histories and experiences of its people The Cambridge History offers a comprehensive multi authored history of South African literature in all eleven official languages and more minor ones of the country produced by a team of over forty international experts including contributors from all of the major regions and language groups of South Africa It will provide a complete portrait of South Africa's literary production organised as a chronological history from the oral traditions existing before colonial settlement to the post apartheid revision of the past In a field marked by controversy this volume is more fully representative than any existing account of South Africa's literary history. It will make a unique contribution to Commonwealth international and postcolonial studies and serve as a definitive reference work for decades to come. The Cambridge Companion to World Literature

Ben Etherington, Jarad Zimble, 2018-10-31 The Cambridge Companion to World Literature introduces the significant ideas and practices of world literary studies. It provides a lucid and accessible account of the fundamental issues and concepts in world literature including the problems of imagining the totality of literature, comparing literary works across histories, cultures and languages, and understanding how literary production is affected by forces such as imperialism and globalization. The essays demonstrate how detailed critical engagements with particular literary texts call forth differing conceptions of world literature and conversely how theories of world literature shape our practices of readings. Subjects covered include cosmopolitanism, transnationalism, internationalism, scale and systems, sociological criticism, translation, scripts and orality. This book also includes original analyses of genres and forms ranging from tragedy to the novel and graphic fiction, lyric poetry to the short story and world cinema. Biko Lives! A. Mngxitama, A. Alexander, N. Gibson, 2008-07-07 This collection looks at the on-going significance of Black Consciousness, situating it in a global frame, examining the legacy of Steve Biko, the current state of post-apartheid South African politics, and the culture and history of the anti-apartheid movements.
