Revisiting Museums of Influence Mark O'Neill, Jette Sandahl, Marlen Mouliou, 2020-12-29 Revisiting Museums of Influence presents 50 portraits of a range of European museums that have made striking innovations in public quality over the past 40 years In so doing the book demonstrates that excellence can be found in museums no matter their subject matter scale or source of funding Written by leading professionals in the field of museology who have acted as judges for the European Museum of the Year Award the portraits describe museums that had or should have had an influence on other museums around the world The portraits aim to capture the moment when this potential was identified and the introduction will locate the institutions in the wider history of museums in Europe over the period as well as drawing out common themes of change and innovation that unite the portraits Providing many very diverse portraits Revisiting Museums of Influence captures the immense capacity of the museum to respond to changing societal needs As a result the book will be essential reading for students of museology and museum professionals around the world in shaping the museums they wish to create Scholars and students of art history archaeology ethnography anthropology cultural and visual studies architecture memory studies and history will also find much to interest them

Crisis, Reinvention and Resilience in Museums Philip W. Deans, 2024-10-08 This book explores museum crises Through an investigation into the experience of the Imperial War Museum during the Second World War era 1933 1950 it considers how crises disrupt museums and the contrasting defensive and revolutionary strategies which museums must adopt when mitigating crises It is situated in a small but emergent literature concerning museums and

crisis Existing works mainly comprise contemporary studies on difficult museum experiences predominantly financial difficulty wherein the term crisis has been applied to describe an institution's general state of malaise This book by contrast presents an innovative and groundbreaking historical case study on a single museum facing wholesale physical and ideological collapse deploying original crisis concepts to analyse different critical situations and the pathology underlying them Augmented Reality in Tourism, Museums and Heritage Vladimir Geroimenko,2021-04-24 This book provides extensive research into the use of augmented reality in the three interconnected and overlapping fields of the tourism industry museum exhibitions and cultural heritage It is written by a virtual team of 50 leading researchers and practitioners from 16 countries around the world The authors explore the opportunities and challenges of augmented reality applications their current status and future trends informal learning and heritage preservation mixed reality environments and immersive installations cultural heritage education and tourism promotion visitors with special needs and emerging post COVID 19 museums and heritage sites Augmented Reality in Tourism Museums and Heritage A New Technology to Inform and Entertain is essential reading not only for researchers application developers educators museum curators tourism and cultural heritage promoters but also for students both graduates and undergraduates and anyone who is interested in the efficient and practical use of augmented reality technology The Handbook of Photography Studies Gil Pasternak,2020-08-13 The Handbook of Photography Studies is a state of the art overview of the field of photography studies examining its thematic interests dynamic research methodologies and multiple scholarly directions It is a source of well informed analytical and reflective discussions of all the main subjects that photography scholars have been concerned with as well as a rigorous study of the field's persistent expansion at a time when digital technology regularly boosts our exposure to new and historical photographs alike Split into five core parts the Handbook analyzes the field's histories theories and research strategies discusses photography in academic disciplinary and interdisciplinary contexts draws out the main concerns of photographic scholarship interrogates photography's cultural and geopolitical influences and examines photography's multiple uses and continued changing faces Each part begins with an introductory text giving historical contextualization and scholarly orientation Featuring the work of international experts and offering diverse examples insights and discussions of the field's rich historiography the Handbook provides critical guidance to the most recent research in photography studies This pioneering and comprehensive volume presents a systematic synopsis of the subject that will be an invaluable resource for photography researchers and students from all disciplinary backgrounds in the arts humanities and social sciences Towards Tate Modern Caroline Donnellan,2017-09-22 Towards Tate Modern provides a new interdisciplinary account of Tate's shifting position as a national arts institution The book examines how earlier government directives impacted on Tate which saw the organisation refocusing its aims and resulted in it pioneering new models for working across the public and private sectors The decade prior to the opening of Tate Modern witnessed a changing political economic cultural and social landscape As London was rebuilding its own vision Tate re configured its role as a public museum and gallery by engaging with the market Tate re imagined what a public museum and gallery can do what it can look like and where it can be and in doing so responded to a new kind of audience with a larger appetite than before Re cast as a cultural and social forum Tate Modern turned itself into a popular public event This research considers how Tate Modern generated a set of new debates and what this might mean for the future role of the public museum and gallery Towards Tate Modern will be of particular interest to academics and students art practitioners and policy makers working in the fields of museum studies policy studies cultural studies urban studies and political and economic history as well as those involved in archival research It will also engage those wishing to widen their understanding of how an institution such as Tate Modern was created

Museums and the Ancient Middle East Geoff Emberling, Lucas P. Petit, 2018-09-06

Museums and the Ancient Middle East is the first book to focus on contemporary exhibit practice in museums that present the ancient Middle East Bringing together the latest thinking from a diverse and international group of leading curators the book presents the views of those working in one particular community of practice the art archaeology and history of the ancient Middle East Drawing upon a remarkable group of case studies from many of the world's leading museums including the British Museum the Louvre the Metropolitan Museum of Art the Ashmolean Museum and the Vorderasiatisches Museum in Berlin this volume describes the tangible actions curators have taken to present a previously unseen side of the Middle East region and its history Highlighting overlaps and distinctions between the practices of national art and university museums around the globe the contributors to the volume are also able to offer a unique insight into the types of challenges and opportunities facing the twenty first century curator Museums and the Ancient Middle East should be of interest to academics and students engaged in the study of museums and heritage archaeology the ancient Near East Middle Eastern studies and ancient history The unique insights provided by curators active in the field ensure that the book should also be of great interest to museum practitioners around the globe

Museum Gallery Interpretation and Material Culture Juliette Fritsch, 2012-12-06
Museum Gallery Interpretation and Material Culture publishes the proceedings of the first annual Sackler Centre for Arts Education conference at the Victoria and Albert Museum V A in London The conference launched the annual series by addressing the question of how gallery interpretation design and management can help museum visitors learn about art and material culture The book features a range of papers by leading academics museum learning professionals graduate researchers and curators from Europe the USA and Canada The papers present diverse new research and practice in the field and open up debate about the role design and process of exhibition interpretation in museums art galleries and historic sites The authors represent both academics and practitioners and are affiliated with high quality institutions of broad geographical scope The result is a strong consistent representation of current thinking across the theory methodology and practice of interpretation design for learning in museums

Design Objects and the Museum Liz Farrelly, Joanna Weddell, 2016-01-28
Design Objects and the Museum brings together leading design historians curators educators and archivists to consider the place of contemporary design objects within museums Contributors draw on a wide range of 20th century and contemporary examples from international museums to consider how design objects have been curated and displayed within and beyond the museum The book continues contemporary global debates on the ways in which museums of design engage and educate their public Chapters are grouped into three thematic sections addressing The Canon and Design in the Museum Positioning Design within and Beyond the Museum and Interpretation and the Challenge of Design with chapters exploring museological practice and issues the roles people play in creating meaning and the challenges contemporary design presents to interpretation and learning within the museum

Making Early Histories in Museums Nick Merriman, 1999
This text examines the debate about interpretation and making history in the context of archaeological museums the reliance of those working on the early periods of the past on the fragmentary information provided by archaeology as well as an imperfect documentary record brings its own interpretative challenges While much has been written in the context of archaeological theory about the partiality and subjectivity of archaeologists interpretations of the past less has been written about the implications of this for the interpretations of archaeology by a non specialist audience in museums As a result the past presented in archaeological museums has tended to follow a traditional and uncritical model

Museum Storage and Meaning Mirjam Brusius, Kavita Singh, 2017-09-07
Beyond their often beautiful exhibition halls many museums contain vast hidden spaces in which objects may be stored conserved or processed Museums can also include

unseen archives study rooms and libraries which are inaccessible to the public This collection of essays focuses on this domain an area that has hitherto received little attention Divided into four sections the book critically examines the physical space of museum storage areas the fluctuating historical fortunes of exhibits the growing phenomenon of publicly visible storage and the politics of objects deemed worthy of collection but unsuitable for display In doing so it explores issues including the relationship between storage and canonization the politics of collecting the use of museum storage as a form of censorship the architectural character of storage space and the economic and epistemic value of museum objects Essay contributions come from a broad combination of museum directors curators archaeologists historians and other academics

Ancient Narratives in the Modern Museum Abigail Baker,2015 Style and Media in Chimúart Kirsten Maclean Halliday,2018 Contested Holdings Felicity Bodenstern,Damiana Otoiú,Eva-Maria Troelenberg,2022-02-14 Going beyond strictly legal and property oriented aspects of the restitution debate restitution is considered as part of a larger set of processes of return that affect museums and collections as well as notions of heritage and object status Covering a range of case studies and a global geography the authors aim to historicize and bring depth to contemporary debates in relation to both the return of material culture and human remains Defined as contested holdings differing museum collections ranging from fine arts to physical anthropology provide connections between the treatment and conceptualization of collections that generally occupy separate realms in the museum world Museums and Silent Objects: Designing Effective Exhibitions Francesca Monti,Suzanne Keene,2016-04-15 In a society where split second decisions about the value of things are grounded on how they look museum visitors are often drawn to visually striking or iconic objects This book investigates the question of the treatment of items on display in museums which are less conspicuous but potentially just as important as the striking objects arguing that it is important to show that all objects illustrate potentially interesting cultural contexts and content The authors explore the disciplines of architecture design cognitive science and museology and offer a methodology by which the quality of museum exhibitions can be judged from a visitor centred perspective They provide new insights into the visitor object encounter and the relationship between visitors objects and museums In addition the book offers a set of useful practical tools for museum professionals for audience research evaluating museum displays and for designing new galleries and striking exhibitions Richly illustrated with photos and diagrams and based on studies of famous galleries in world renowned museums the book will be essential reading for all those concerned with creating effective exhibitions in museum Museums and Restitution Dr Kostas Arvanitis,Ms Louise Tythacott,2014-09-28 This book examines contemporary approaches to restitution from the perspective of museums It focuses on the ways in which these institutions have been addressing the subject at a regional national and international level In particular it explores contemporary practices and recent claims and investigates to what extent the question of restitution as an issue of ownership is still at large or whether museums have found additional ways to conceptualise and practice restitution by thinking beyond the issue of ownership The challenges benefits and drawbacks of recent and current museum practice are explored
