

Teaching is part of a life-long learning process. For effective teaching, teachers must be good learners. This certificate program in college teaching provided me with many opportunities to think about my teaching career. In this section of my teaching ePortfolio, I will answer several questions regarding teaching, ePortfolio, and the certificate program.

What was the most striking or surprising thing you learned about yourself and about teaching as you developed your ePortfolio?

Through the ePortofolio development process, I realized that teaching is one of the most difficult activities I will perform in my life. Knowing or understanding subjects does not necessarily mean I will be able to teach the subjects well. To enhance students' learning, I must create an appropriate learning environment through various teaching strategies and presentation methods. There is no single best solution; I should continuously try new things and improve my teaching skills.

Based on the materials you wrote, what will be your greatest strength as a teacher?

As I discussed in my teaching philosophy statement, I believe in the importance of repeated exposure to a subject. For "repeated exposure," I should prepare well-organized class materials so students can recall previously taught materials easily. My greatest strength as a teacher is my organization skill. I will prepare very organized lesson plans and slides for my classes.

In addition, I always like to explore new subjects – I am very flexible and will change my lesson plans if needed. I will continuously revise my teaching materials. This way, I can provide the most recent, updated information to students.

What will be your greatest challenge as a teacher?

Increasing students' engagement is the greatest challenge as a teacher, especially in the basic lower-level courses. Many students may take such basic introductory courses without strong motivation. As a student, grades are important, of course; however, I want to teach students that applying (or at least recalling) what they learned in their classes, even after college, is much more important than just focusing on class grades.

In addition, balancing between "be strict" and "be flexible" is also a great challenge for me. I want students to follow my policy, such as late work policy. However, I want to be flexible to meet students' needs and interests. Being too strict may damage students' interest and participation in the class, but being too flexible can also hurt students' engagement in the class. I should improve my teaching method to create a good teaching and learning environment.

How did the combination of workshops, experimental learning, assignment development, syllabi construction, and lesson plan creation lead to new understanding about teaching?

The combination of teaching workshops, teaching classes, class material development, and actual teaching provided a great opportunity to enhance my teaching skills. I was able to learn basic teaching principles from teaching classes, apply teaching principles in class material development and actual teaching, and learn new teaching methods and issues from teaching

Public-Private Partnership for Sub-Saharan Africa Hanna Kociemska,2019-03-15 This monograph highlights the benefits of public private partnerships PPP for Sub Saharan Africa By studying the intertwinement of mainstream and Islamic finance the author shows how PPPs have emerged as a viable and efficient organizational vehicle for fair rules of economic cooperation where the trade offs between profit maximization and social justice values required by Islamic finance occur within the organization The book shows the assumptions under which such compromise is beneficial to all parties including public entities multicultural societies and private Islamic and conventional investors It places particular emphasis on changing the principle of allocating public resources in the uncertain legal and economic environment of the region discussed Given the cultural idiosyncrasies political instability and socio economic turmoil but high development potential in Sub Saharan Africa PPPs with a heterodox approach may prove to be a game changer in the region and a platform to find a compromise between the interests of various types of investors

Sociology in South Africa R. Sooryamoorthy,2016-08-13 This book is the first comprehensive account of the history and current state of South African sociology Providing a holistic picture of the subject both as it is taught in universities and as a field of research it reveals the trajectories of a discipline in a challenging socio political context With the support of historical and scientometric data it demonstrates how the changing political situation from colonialism to apartheid to democracy has influenced the nature direction and foci of sociological research in the country The author shows how during the apartheid era sociology was professionally fragmented and divided along language and race lines It was however able to flourish with the advent of democracy in 1994 and has become a unique academic movement This insightful work will appeal to students and scholars of the social sciences and all those interested in the history and society of South Africa

The Qur'an and Its Biblical Reflexes Mark Durie,2018-08-15 This path breaking book sets aside the traditional story of the life of Muhammad and inquires into the internal history of the Qur an itself Drawing on fresh insights from linguistics and theology Durie puts forward a new and very different explanation for the Mecca Medina division attributing it to a theological crisis which arose in the Qur anic community Through careful investigation of theologically charged topics such as prophecy Satan sin the oneness of God covenant warfare divine presence and holiness Durie questions whether the Qur an and Bible really do share a deeper connection He invites the reader to set aside the frames through which the Qur an has been viewed in the past whether Biblical or Islamic and invites us to attend to the Qur an s distinctive and unique theological vision in its own terms

Institutional Reforms and Peacebuilding Nadine Ansorg,Sabine Kurtenbach,2016-09-13 This book deals with the question how institutional reform can contribute to peacebuilding in post war and divided societies In the context of armed conflict and widespread violence two important questions shape political agendas inside and outside the affected societies How can we stop the violence And how can we prevent its recurrence Comprehensive negotiated war terminations and peace accords recommend a set of mechanisms to bring an end to war and establish peace including institutional reforms that promote democratization and state building Although the role of institutions is widely recognized their specific effects are highly contested in research as well as in practice This book highlights the necessity to include path dependency pre conflict institutions and societal divisions to understand the patterns of institutional change in post war societies and the ongoing risk of civil war recurrence It focuses on the general question of how institutional reform contributes to the establishment of peace in post war societies This book comprises three separate but interrelated parts on the relation between institutions and societal divisions on institutional reform and on security sector reform The chapters contribute to the understanding of the relationship between societal cleavages pre conflict institutions path dependency and institutional reform This book will be of much interest to students of peacebuilding conflict resolution development studies security studies and IR Religion in the

Post-Yugoslav Context Branislav Radeljic, Martina Topic, 2015-07-01 Religion in the Post Yugoslav Context brings together a diverse group of scholars each of them specializing in the role of religion in one of the Yugoslav successor states In addition to providing the readership with the understanding of both the general context religion during the disintegration of the Yugoslav state as well as more specific aspects individual post Yugoslav states this rich collection complements the existing research in the fields of religious studies and political science It represents an important source for scholars and students interested in the post Yugoslav dynamic Moreover this kind of analysis is of major relevance for state and non state actors involved in promotion of religious tolerance The European Higher Education Area Adrian Curaj, Liviu Matei, Remus Pricopie, Jamil Salmi, Peter Scott, 2015-10-12 Bridging the gap between higher education research and policy making was always a challenge but the recent calls for more evidence based policies have opened a window of unprecedented opportunity for researchers to bring more contributions to shaping the future of the European Higher Education Area EHEA Encouraged by the success of the 2011 first edition Romania and Armenia have organised a 2nd edition of the Future of Higher Education Bologna Process Researchers Conference FOHE BPRC in November 2014 with the support of the Italian Presidency of the European Union and as part of the official EHEA agenda Reuniting over 170 researchers from more than 30 countries the event was a forum to debate the trends and challenges faced by higher education today and look at the future of European cooperation in higher education The research volumes offer unique insights regarding the state of affairs of European higher education and research as well as forward looking policy proposals More than 50 articles focus on essential themes in higher education Internationalization of higher education Financing and governance Excellence and the diversification of missions Teaching learning and student engagement Equity and the social dimension of higher education Education research and innovation Quality assurance The impacts of the Bologna Process on the EHEA and beyond and Evidence based policies in higher education The Bologna process was launched at a time of great optimism about the future of the European project to which of course the reform of higher education across the continent has made a major contribution Today for the present that optimism has faded as economic troubles have accumulated in the Euro zone political tensions have been increased on issues such as immigration and armed conflict has broken out in Ukraine There is clearly a risk that against this troubled background the Bologna process itself may falter There are already signs that it has been downgraded in some countries with evidence of political withdrawal All the more reason for the voice of higher education researchers to be heard Since the first conference they have established themselves as powerful stakeholders in the development of the EHEA who are helping to maintain the momentum of the Bologna process Their pivotal role has been strengthened by the second Bucharest conference Peter Scott Institute of Education London General Rapporteur of the FOHE BPRC first edition

The Political Economy of Latin America Peter Kingstone, 2018-03-09 This brief text offers an unbiased reflection on debates about neoliberalism and its alternatives in Latin America with an emphasis on the institutional puzzle that underlies the region's difficulties with democratization and development In addition to providing an overview of this key element of the Latin American political economy Peter Kingstone also advances the argument that both state led and market led solutions depend on effective institutions but little is known about how and why they emerge Kingstone offers a unique contribution by mapping out the problem of how to understand institutions why they are created and why Latin American ones limit democratic development This timely and thorough update includes A fresh discussion of the commodity boom in the region and the resulting Golden Era in Latin America The recent explosion of social policy innovation and concerns about the durability of social reform after the boom A discussion of the knowledge economy and the limits to economic growth with case studies of successful examples of fostering innovation
