Reflections Of A Longtime Textbook Author Or History:

Writing World War II Sylvie Murray, Robert D. Johnston, 2025-09-23 An indispensable tool for high schoolers undergraduates or even amateur enthusiasts Writing World War II teaches the craft of history writing by example In a series of thoughtful essays Sylvie Murray examines American involvement in World War II and how it has subsequently been portrayed by historians Murray addresses three broad topics the prelude to war the war effort on the home front and the atypical experiences of soldiers in an effort to recapture the mixed emotions of the time and the larger forces shaping public opinion Her work challenges the traditional notions of the greatest generation and the good war and explores viewpoints that have been largely ignored in popular retellings The book serves a dual purpose critiquing the approaches of various historians while at the same time offering Murray's own writing as a model for constructing a persuasive essay But as Murray is rightly critical of one-sided historical arguments Writing World War II offers another layer of analysis and instruction throughout At various points in the book her fellow historian Robert D Johnston chimes in to assess Murray's prose demystifying her techniques while helping you to become more critical of all sorts of historical writing including your own

A Century in Books Princeton University Press Staff, 2021-10-12 It all began atop a drugstore in Princeton New Jersey in November 1905 From its modest beginnings Princeton University Press was to become one of the world's most important scholarly publishers embracing a wealth of disciplines that have enriched our cultural academic and scientific landscape Both as a tribute to our authors and to celebrate our centenary Princeton University Press here presents A Century in Books This beautifully designed volume highlights 100 of the nearly 8 000 books we have published Necessarily winnowed from a much larger list these books best typify what has been most lasting most defining and most distinctive about our publishing history from Einstein's The Meaning of Relativity 1922 to the numerous mathematical and other works that marked the Press's watershed decade of the 1940s including von Neumann and Morgenstern's Theory of Games and Economic Behavior from milestones of literary criticism by Erich Auerbach and Northrop Frye to George Kennan's Pulitzer Prize winning book on Soviet American relations from Milton Friedman and Anna Jacobson Schwartz's A Monetary History of the United States 1867-1960 to more recent landmarks such as L. Luca Caviglioli's Paolo Menozzi and Alberto Piazza's The History and Geography of Human Genes and Robert Shiller's Irrational Exuberance. In addition to succinct descriptions of the 100 titles and a short introduction on the history of the Press, the book features five essays by prominent scholars and writers. Michael Wood discusses the impact on Princeton University Press of intellectuals who fled Nazi Germany and authored many influential books. Anthony Grafton recounts our rich publishing tradition in history, politics, and culture. Sylvia Nasar traces our evolution into a leading voice in economics publishing. Daniel Kevles reflects on Einstein, a figure of special importance to Princeton. And Lord Robert May writes on our long-standing tradition of publishing in mathematics and science. A Century in Books is more than a celebration of 100 years of publishing at Princeton University Press; it is a treasure trove of 100 years of books that have added to the richness of twentieth-century intellectual life.

America, History and Life, 2005. Article abstracts and citations of reviews and dissertations covering the United States and Canada.

History Education in Lebanon and the Borders of the Nation Bouchra Saab, 2025-09-01. This study shows that widely used history textbooks in Lebanon are more standardized and censored than in most liberal democratic countries and relatively similar in form and content to textbooks from Syria and Iraq. A diversity of historical narratives has progressively converged into one dominant narrative which entails a standard definition of the self. In contrast, the other is defined through the exclusion of religious groups considered exogenous and ethnicities considered inferior In addition women are marginalized Surprisingly the textbooks affiliated with Hezbollah a Shiite militia financed by the Iranian regime depart to a certain extent from this definition While most previous research on Lebanese history textbooks has focused on the diverging narratives of religious communities this study views these textbooks as the outcome of a tension between two major forces educational traditions on the one hand and contemporary politics on the other

Christian Reflection in Africa Paul Bowers,2018-07-05 This reference collection presents academic reviews of more than twelve hundred contemporary Africa related publications relevant for informed Christian reflection in and about Africa The collection is based on the review journal BookNotes for Africa a specialist resource dedicated to bringing to notice such publications and furnishing them with a one paragraph description and evaluation Now assembled here for the first time is the entire collection of reviews through the first thirty issues of the journal s history The core intention both of the journal and of this compilation is to encourage and to facilitate informed Christian reflection and engagement in Africa through a thoughtful encounter with the published intellectual life of the continent Reviews have been provided by a team of more than one hundred contributors drawn from throughout Africa and overseas The books and other media selected for review represent a broad cross section of interests and issues of personalities and interpretations including the secular as well as the religious The collection will be of special interest to academic scholars theological educators libraries ministry leaders and specialist researchers in Africa and throughout the world but will also engage any reader looking for a convenient resource relating to modern Africa and Christian presence there

Bellamy ,1748 The First European Pierre Briant,2017-01-02 A truly remarkable forgotten chapter of European intellectual history laid out with passion and integrity The Wall Street Journal The exploits of Alexander the Great were so remarkable that for centuries after his death the Macedonian ruler seemed a figure more of legend than of history Thinkers of the European Enlightenment searching for ancient models to understand contemporary affairs were the first to critically interpret Alexander s achievements As Pierre Briant shows in the minds of eighteenth century intellectuals and philosophers Alexander was the first European a successful creator of empire who opened the door to new sources of trade and scientific knowledge and an enlightened leader who brought the fruits of Western civilization to an oppressed and backward Orient In France Scotland England and Germany Alexander the Great became an important point of reference in discourses from philosophy and history to political economy and geography Voltaire Montesquieu and Robertson asked what lessons Alexander s empire building had to teach modern Europeans They saw the ancient Macedonian as the embodiment of the rational and benevolent Western ruler a historical model to be emulated as Western powers accelerated their colonial expansion into Asia India and the Middle East This important work confirms once more that the life trajectory of the Macedonian conqueror remains an inexhaustible cultural resource Sanjay Subrahmanyam University of California Los Angeles author of Empires Between Islam and Christianity The Publishers Weekly ,1894 The Skeptic Encyclopedia of Pseudoscience Michael Shermer,2002-11-14 A thorough objective and balanced analysis of the most prominent controversies made in the name of science from the effectiveness of proposed medical treatments to the reality of supernatural claims Edited by Michael Shermer editor and publisher of The Skeptic magazine this truly unique work provides a comprehensive introduction to the most prominent pseudoscientific claims made in the name of science Covering the popular the academic and the bizarre the encyclopedia includes everything from alien abductions to the Bermuda Triangle crop circles Feng Shui and near death experiences Fifty nine brief descriptive summaries and 23 investigations from The Skeptic magazine give skeptical analyses of subjects as far ranging as acupuncture chiropractic and Atlantis The encyclopedia also gives for and against debates on topics such as evolutionary psychology and case studies on topics like police psychics and the medical intuitive Carolyn Myss Finally the volumes include five classic works in the history of science and pseudoscience including the speech William Jennings Bryan never delivered in the Scopes trial and the first scientific and skeptical investigation of a paranormal spiritual phenomenon by Benjamin Franklin and Antoine Lavoisier A New History of Ecclesiastical Writers: Containing an Account of the Authors of the Several Books of the Old and New Testament Louis Ellies Du Pin,1699
