✓ Exclusively available on IvyPanda

Being a nurse is a great privilege for me as my dreams have come true and I am helping people when they need assistance most. For me, each day spent in the hospital is full of valuable experiences as I learn a lot every minute. Therefore, it is quite difficult to think of the most valuable experience clinically. One of such cases was during my first days in the hospital when I had to work with a very specific patient who was angry and demanding. Of course, I understood that the man was in pain and his irritation was due to his poor health condition but he was quite abusive several times. I could lose my temper and tell him off but I pulled myself together. I would come to his ward and complete my tasks always smiling and talking to him. In a few days, I knew about his major concerns and could comfort him. When he left, we parted as old friends and he was grateful for my attitude. Now I know that I can find a way to every patient's heart to comfort him/her.

This experience is closely connected with one of my 'preceptors'. She was a great model for me as she was always positive and used humor as her major weapon. She could communicate even with the 'hardest' patients who seemed to try their best to insult healthcare professionals. I learnt from her loads of valuable lessons. One of them was to be positive and try to find a path to each patient. What is more, I learnt to develop proper relationships with other healthcare professionals. This woman managed to gain authority among her colleagues and patients and everyone was respectful. Another important thing I learnt from her is teaching patients to cope with their health conditions. I noticed that those who refuse to move have more health problems than those who are trying to be active. Some of my colleagues said it was an attempt to complete fewer tasks but I believe this is a good strategy which makes patients more responsible, more active and, as a result, makes them healthier. Now I am using lots of her tricks to develop relationships with everybody and I have to say that she is a genius as all these tools really work.

As has been mentioned above, I believe I have chosen the right way and I am a good nurse who can function in all sites. However, I think that the ward is where the nurse belongs. I like being with patients and try to spend as much time as possible with them. I believe that patients need our psychological help even more than clinical services and I will go into detail on that matter below. I admire nurses who work in

Handbook of Reflection and Reflective Inquiry Nona Lyons, 2010-04-07 Philosophers have warned of the perils of a life spent without reflection but what constitutes reflective inquiry and why it's necessary in our lives can be an elusive concept. Synthesizing ideas from minds as diverse as John Dewey and Paulo Freire, the Handbook of Reflection and Reflective Inquiry presents reflective thought in its most vital aspects not as a fanciful or nostalgic exercise but as a powerful means of seeing familiar events anew, encouraging critical thinking and crucial insight teaching and learning. In its opening pages, two seasoned educators, Maxine Greene and Lee Shulman, discuss reflective inquiry as a form of active attention, Thoreau's wide awakeness, an act of consciousness and a process by which people can understand themselves, their work, particularly in the form of life projects, and others. Building on this foundation, the Handbook analyzes through the work of 40 internationally oriented authors definitional issues concerning reflection, what it is and is not, worldwide social and moral conditions contributing to the growing interest in reflective inquiry in professional education, reflection as promoted across professional educational domains including K-12 education, teacher education, occupational therapy, and the law, methods of facilitating and scaffolding reflective engagement, current pedagogical and research practices in reflection, approaches to assessing reflective inquiry, educators across the professions as well as adult educators, counselors, and psychologists, and curriculum developers concerned with adult learning. You will find the Handbook of Reflection and Reflective Inquiry an invaluable teaching tool for challenging times. Nursing Nancy R. Venneti, 2002. About twenty pages of entries on books provide basic information such as where published, page numbers, and dimensions, subject tracings, and LC and Dewey classification. The bulk of the book consists of annotated bibliographies of journal articles, some with quite lengthy descriptions, 300 words or so. Indexes are by author, subject, and title. ePortfolios in Australian Universities Jennifer Rowley, 2016-09-14. This book focuses on essential findings concerning emerging practices of student learning through the teaching and learning benefits of the electronic portfolio, ePortfolio, in a range of disciplines at Australian universities. It explores the latest research on ePortfolios, teaching quality, future research directions for tertiary learning, and teaching institutional agendas in higher education and the role that the ePortfolios can play in supporting improvements in pedagogic practice and student outcomes. Included in these agendas is research into the development of higher education through the technologising of pedagogy, learner identities in discrete disciplines, and the praxis of individual university teachers. The book covers accounts of academic learning success and challenges across current higher education subject areas. By presenting case study accounts of ePortfolio use, it reveals the importance of defining and documenting how we can meaningfully develop learner portfolios in research teaching and learning at Australian universities. With an intentional research base, the book draws on work conducted inside and outside Australia and highlights how the ePortfolio can help tertiary staff prepare for the impact of a student-created portfolio on teaching, learning, and subsequent academic scholarship. Theory Into Practice Timothy S. O'Connell, Janet E. Dymont, 2013-06-01. Reflective journals have been used by post-secondary educators in a wide variety of teacher training courses to encourage students to better understand the topics that they are studying. Reflective journals are often used in courses in which pre service and in service teachers are studying both the theoretical and practical aspects of the subject matter such as secondary teaching methods language and literacy teacher education and outdoor education While there are books on the market that address some facets of reflective journaling there are no integrative books such as Reflective Journaling Unlocking the Power and the Potential that are targeted specifically to pre service and in service teachers There are few resources currently available to teachers wishing to use reflective journals that include the theoretical underpinnings of reflection the integration and impacts of research on the praxis of journaling in each chapter and practical strategies for successful fun journal writing for students This book addresses this need by providing full coverage of using reflective journals as a pedagogical tool Reflective Journaling Unlocking the Power and the Potential includes four figures 15 tables 25 works of art four cartoons and 10 photos that enhance each chapter Reflective Practice in Nursing Chris Bulman,Sue Schutz,2013-01-10 From reviews of previous editions This excellent book provides useful guidance on the use of reflection in practice a helpful addition to any nursing library Primary Health Care an excellent investment in any nurses library portfolio Journal of Advanced Nursing An extremely welcome addition to nursing s literature on thoughtful knowledgeable practice Nursing Times This is an excellent practical guide to reflective practice I would highly recommend this book to all practice teachers and students Journal of Practice Nursing The ability to reflect on practice has become a competency demanded of every healthcare professional in recent years It can be a daunting prospect but this practical and accessible text guides the way using the latest research and evidence to support the development of skills in reflective practice and provides help and advice on how to get started how to write reflectively and how to continue to use reflective practice in everyday situations This fifth edition of Reflective Practice in Nursing is an indispensable guide for students and practitioners alike who wish to learn more about reflective practice as well as containing essential information for teachers and lecturers Formative Assessments and Teacher Professional Learning Dineke Tigelaar,Douwe Beijaard,2017-10-02 How can formative assessment be used as a means to support teacher professional learning This book presents several studies from different countries on approaches to formative assessment of teachers both before they start working and during their careers These approaches draw on insights from studies into effective teacher professional development Together the chapters in this book provide an overview of the various ways in which formative assessment may be used to support teacher professional learning and shed light on choices that can be made in designing such assessments The studies illustrate how teachers may perceive formative assessment methods how their learning processes might unfold during formative assessment processes and which struggles they may have to deal with during the process The book furthermore addresses questions concerning the impact of formative assessments on teacher learning As such this volume provides theoretical as well as practical prospects as well as challenging ideas for how formative assessment may move further towards being an effective means for supporting teacher learning This book was originally published as a special
