Refugees And The State:

Refugees, the State and the Politics of Asylum in Africa J. Milner, 2009-11-06 How do African states respond to the mass arrival and prolonged presence of refugees This book answers this question by drawing on recent case studies and examining the politics behind refugee policy in Africa The implications of this approach are important not only for the study of asylum in Africa but also for the future of refugee protection The Ethics of State Responses to Refugees Bradley

Hillier-Smith, 2024-08-05 This book appears at a time of intense debate on how states should respond to refugees some philosophers argue states are not necessarily obligated to admit a single refugee others argue states should continually admit refugees until the point of societal collapse Some politicians argue for increasing refugee resettlement others seek to prevent refugees from arriving at the border Some countries provide expansive welcome schemes and have taken in over a million refugees others have erected concrete walls and barbed wire fences The Ethics of State Responses to Refugees provides an account of what an ethical response would be by developing an understanding of the moral duties that states have towards refugees The first half of the book analyses state practices used in response to refugees to understand the negative duties of states not to harm or violate the rights of innocent refugees The second half analyses morally significant features of contemporary refugee displacement to understand the positive duties of states to alleviate the distinctive harms and injustices that refugees face The two halves together thereby outline the negative and positive duties of states towards refugees which together constitute the elements of an ethical response The book then demonstrates this ethical response is not only urgently required but is also within reach Rethinking Refugees Peter Nyers, 2013-11-15 Rethinking Refugees

Beyond State of Emergency examines the ways in which refugees have been made objects of the complex discourse practices and strategies of humanitarianism making visible the link between our knowledge of refugees and questions about the changing status of political power space and identity The author draws upon post structural analytical tools to develop a critique of humanitarianism and to sketch a bio political framework for understanding the relationship between the humanity of refugees and their capacity or lack thereof for political voice and action Rethinking Refugees is a radically fresh approach to understanding refugees their movements and their place within an increasingly globalized international politics

Refugees Worldwide Doreen Elliott, Uma A. Segal, 2012-08-03 Utilizing international perspectives this unprecedented collection of essays from leading authorities on refugee studies spotlights the realities and challenges of the global refugee population With increasing changes in the socio political climate of the world as well as with the rising numbers of natural disasters people of all ethnicities and nationalities are frequently forced from their homes and their homelands While there is a substantial body of work that addresses refugee policies post traumatic stress disorder and other specific issues there have been few attempts to understand refugee health or comprehend overall refugee adaptation until now This is the first work to address refugee issues worldwide addressing the psychological health human rights political public policy law economic social and personal aspects of this universal problem Refugees Worldwide also includes examples of first person refugee stories from around the world eye opening information not available in any other work Drawing on the expertise of myriad international researchers theoreticians and practitioners from representative nations around the world this four volume set effectively speaks to a number of refugee issues from a truly global perspective

German Political Refugees in the United States During the Period from 1815-1860 Ernest Bruncken,1904

Migration, Refugee Policy, and State Building in Postcommunist Europe Oxana Shevel,2011-10-24 Why do similar postcommunist states respond differently to refugees Why do some states privilege certain refugee groups while other states do not This book presents a theory to account for this puzzle and it centers on the role of the politics of nation building and of the office of the UN High Commissioner for Refugees UNHCR A key finding of the book is that when the boundaries of a nation are contested and thus there is no consensus on which group should receive preferential treatment in state policies a political space for a receptive and nondiscriminatory refugee policy opens up The book speaks to the broader questions of how nationalism matters after communism and under what conditions and through what mechanisms international actors can influence domestic policies The analysis is based on extensive primary research the author conducted in four languages in the Czech Republic Poland Russia and Ukraine

The Collective Responsibility of States to Protect Refugees Agnès G. Hurwitz,2009 This title analyses the concept of sharing responsibility between states for protecting refugees under international law and how this mechanism highlights serious concerns for the protection of refugees rights

Memories in the Service of the Hindu Nation Pranav Kohli,2023-11-16 This book is based on fourteen months of ethnographic fieldwork with Partition survivors from west Punjab and the North West Frontier Province in Delhi and its surroundings between 2017 18 It locates the global rise of far right nationalism within globalisation and memories of victimhood Focussing on Hindu nationalism in India this book is an important and timely contribution to the literature on South Asian Partition Studies that shows how tragedy begets tragedy It tries to answer an urgent provocative but nevertheless necessary question What does it mean to remember the Partition in the time of fascism The author shows what makes up cycles of violence by connecting the reinscription of trauma in Partition memories to the self serving justifications of the contemporary violence of Hindu nationalism It analyses how the hegemony of Hindu nationalism has structured the narratives of Hindu Partition survivors and recruited them in service of a putative Hindu nation
