as a psychiatrist and meditator it is a refreshing surprise to read something that teaches me equally about both and which brings new insights into their interplay In particular the authors present a series of intuitive and plausible models for how the brain and mind co create one another can be understood as metaphors for one another and can be used to reshape one another bidirectionally in feedback loops for positive change I m not sure exactly where their inside scoop is but Shawn and Melissa have managed to identify most of the developments in neuroscience that I ve found most interesting over the years such as neuroplasticity memory reconsolidation and mirror neurons plus a whole lot more Either they don t sleep and spend nights poring over the neuroscience literature or they have an uncanny radar for sorting the wheat from the chaff They home in on those discoveries that can provide handles by which to understand the most efficient neural avenues to effect change and explain them in straightforward lay terms they elucidate plausible mechanisms by which many old standard NLP patterns including the coaching pattern swish and fast phobia cure operate on the brain and they suggest several new technical approaches They then also flip these neural principles around translating them into metaphors by which to help clients consolidate and makes sense of their gains and inspire ongoing self discovery I would recommend this book even to expert scientists and therapists expecting that it will reshape rewire reconsolidate and re enrich understandings and enthusiasm for our fascinating field it certainly has for me
