York, Pennsylvania City Directory ,1993 Sustainable Consumer Services Minna Halme, 2012-05-16 The goal for consumer oriented business should be to make a profit and to do it without costing the Earth Yet exactly how to satisfy the needs and wants of consumers without contributing to environmental degradation is proving to be the essential but elusive goal for businesses in the 21st century The leading solution is to substitute material consumption with the consumption of services that offer consumers convenience and value but eliminate much of the inefficiency and waste associated with our throw away society Sustainable consumer services for households services that are delivered to consumers at the premises such as home delivery of organic food appliance leasing mobile laundry services internet marketing of homeservices or car pool schemes provide a key part of the answer of how to reduce material consumption and waste while still turning a profit Yet until now there has been little information to guide the development of such business models and practices and to develop ways to make service based consumption more attractive to consumers than object ownership based models This book equally a practical business handbook and business course text provides the missing link in sustainable household service competitiveness by examining the issues looking at business models providing dozens of real life best practice examples and presenting data from the first large scale consumer survey that explains consumer behaviour and what they want from home service provision The book is an essential resource for businesses and public or nonprofit organizations and housing organizations entering the growing consumer services market It provides a wealth of business know how on what works and what doesn't how to avoid potential pitfalls and how to provide consumer services at the household level that are profitable environmentally sustainable and that add to consumers quality of life Senate documents United States, 1975

Print and Electronic Text Convergence Bill Cope, Diana Kalantzis, 2001 With the progressive digitisation of the book production processes we see the emergence of a potentially potent mix of new technologies Not potent because these technologies are capable of driving change alone but potent for the commercial and cultural drivers which may work in concert with new technologies to transform the world of books and reading Central to these technological developments is the convergence of the technologies of etext and digital print This book examines recent technological changes in book production Our focus is in part on technological actuality centred mostly on the digitisation of text and its consequences Our focus is also on the realm of possibility Where might these technological shifts lead us What are the commercial and cultural conditions under which technological possibility might bear fruits Within this volume we look specifically at the changing definition of a book A book is no longer a tangible thing a book is what a book does It is information architecture We examine the various manifestations of electronic book readers and imminent technologies such as electronic ink including case study on the use of ebook reading devices by a lending library and speculate about other uses of such devices We see the convergence of print and etext manifestations of the same thing electronically stored text with the difference demonstrated only in the shift in mindset necessary to accommodate emergent forms of digital text as information services within a product service system the changing shape of digital design and changes in printing technologies from letterpress to the rise of digital printing
