

Unpleasant Awakening

From The Metamorphosis by Franz Kafka

One morning, when Gregor Samsa woke from troubled dreams, he found himself transformed in his bed into a horrible vermin. He lay on his armour-like back, and if he lifted his head a little he could see his brown belly, slightly domed and divided by arches into stiff sections. The bedding was hardly able to cover it and seemed ready to slide off any moment. His many legs, pitifully thin compared with the size of the rest of him, waved about helplessly as he looked.

"What's happened to me?" he thought. It wasn't a dream. His room, a proper human room although a little too small, lay peacefully between its four familiar walls. A collection of textile samples lay spread out on the table – Samsa was a travelling salesman – and above it there hung a picture that he had recently cut out of an illustrated magazine and housed in a nice, gilded frame. It showed a lady fitted out with a fur hat and fur boa who sat upright, raising a heavy fur muff that covered the whole of her lower arm towards the viewer.

Gregor then turned to look out the window at the dull weather. Drops of rain could be heard hitting the pane, which made him feel quite sad. "How about if I sleep a little bit longer and forget all this nonsense", he thought, but that was something he was unable to do because he was used to sleeping on his right, and in his present state couldn't get into that position. However hard he threw himself onto his right, he always rolled back to where he was. He must have tried it a hundred times, shut his eyes so that he wouldn't have to look at the floundering legs, and only stopped when he began to feel a mild, dull pain there that he had never felt before.

Giunta, Mary Anne Trasciatti, 2022-03-22 Candid and intimate accounts of the factory worker tragedy that shaped American labor rights On March 25 1911 a fire broke out on the eighth floor of the Asch Building in Greenwich Village New York The top three floors housed the Triangle Waist Company a factory where approximately 500 workers mostly young immigrant women and girls labored to produce fashionable cotton blouses known as waists The fire killed 146 workers in a mere 15 minutes but pierced the perpetual conscience of citizens everywhere The Asch Building had been considered a modern fireproof structure but inadequate fire safety regulations left the workers inside unprotected The tragedy of the fire and the resulting movements for change were pivotal in shaping workers rights and unions A powerful collection of diverse voices Talking to the Girls Intimate and Political Essays on the Triangle Fire brings together stories from writers artists activists scholars and family members of the Triangle workers Nineteen contributors from across the globe speak of a singular event with remarkable impact One hundred and eleven years after the tragic incident Talking to the Girls articulates a story of contemporary global relevance and stands as an act of collective testimony a written memorial to the Triangle victims A Manual for the High Schools of Wisconsin J.T. Giles, Wisconsin. Department of Public Instruction, 1924 The High School Teacher, 1925 Baltimore Bulletin of Education, 1927 Take Me to School Serena Casey, 2021-04-18 Serena Casey takes us on a journey through her life and career as an educator It is both a personal tale of growth and an insightful look at what constitutes good teaching Her own teachers her colleagues her bosses and mostly her students star in this touching story of what a life of teaching has meant to one woman Anyone who is a teacher or who has ever been a student will be glad to have taken this journey with her To Right the Unrightable Wrong Robert L. Pirtle, 2007-11-16 A century ago Americans were still moving west settling in new states establishing themselves in new environments That pattern was followed by the grandparents then by the parents of Robert L. Pirtle the author of this autobiography The eventual home of the author's parents and his family was Roswell New Mexico a sleepy little town in southeastern New Mexico To begin with however the book traces the author's lineage even including fascinating familial connections to the compilation of the King James Version of the Bible to the Cherokee Indian Tribe and to the Commander of the Alamo Readers will certainly enjoy the picture the author draws of small town America in the 1930s and 1940s of the vicissitudes of growing up of junior and senior high school days and high jinks The author displayed an interest in fairness and justice from his earliest days indeed he proposes that every child has an inherent instinct for justice As the author moved through childhood and school years he encountered numerous incidents in which the concept of fairness played a decisive part Though such incidents of childhood are of minimal significance yet they play a part in shaping a child's character and perception of the world and can lead to incidents of real significance in adulthood The author describes incidents which did just that in his own life In one instance the author shamefacedly admits being the cause of a hurtful injustice to others yet that incident too played its part in his maturation It is said after all that good judgment comes from experience and experience comes from bad judgment By the time the author graduated from high school his interest in science in mathematics rose to the forefront of his mind and he entered Purdue University with a four year scholarship from the University Before the year was out however he knew he did not want to pursue science as a career and he switched to the University of Arizona where he majored in mathematics his easiest subject while he sampled the liberal arts and pondered what his life work would be He first considered entering the ministry and becoming a Methodist Preacher but little by little he decided that he could prove of greater help to people and especially to the cause of justice as a lawyer Accordingly his last year in the undergraduate program was his first year in the law school of the University of Arizona After graduating he took his commission as a 2nd lieutenant in the United States Air Force working as a mathematician at the Special Weapons Center of Kirtland Air Force Base in Albuquerque New Mexico The authors function was as target analyst designing an atomic weapon delivery system for fighter aircraft Fascinating is the authors description of his witnessing the explosion of an atomic bomb named Zucchini in Nevada in 1955 The author entered the University of Colorado upon completing his Air Force term and was hired by the largest law firm in Seattle Holman Mickelwait Marion Black Perkins upon his graduation from law school During his brief Air Force career The author had studied Shakespeare at the University of New Mexico later entered into negotiations with the popular TV show The 64 000 Question and was being scheduled to appear on the show after his graduation from law school But the TV show collapsed after Charlie Van Doren son of the internationally known Shakespeare scholar Mark Van Doren lied to a grand jury in New York concerning whether he had been fed answers when he appeared on the show And a year or so of performing legal work for corporate clients discouraged the author to the point that he left the Firm and hung out his shingle as a sole practitioner but simultaneously entered the graduate school of philosophy of the University of Washington contemplating becoming a philosophy professor In the end the author d
