The Editor; the Journal of Information for Literary Workers ,1909 Touches of History ,2011-05-10 Touches of History represents a groundbreaking attempt to return to a study of May Fourth that is solidly grounded in historical fact Favours smaller stories over grand narratives concentrating on unknown marginal materials rather than familiar key documents and highlighting May Fourth's indebtedness to the cultural debates of the preceding late Qing period Chen Pingyuan reconstructs part of the actual historical scenery demonstrating the great variety of ideas expressed during those tumultuous decades

Writing of Today John William Cunliffe, Gerhard Richard Lomer, 1920 The Editor ,1909 The Future of English in Asia Michael O'Sullivan, David Huddart, Carmen Lee, 2015-10-05 This collection is unique in bringing together key thinkers on language and literature to discuss the future of English in Asia Many of the contributors are themselves responsible for important sub genres in English linguistics and literary studies and this collection gives them the opportunity to respond to each other directly The different chapters also respond to different contemporary debates and emerging trends and discourses that are hugely important for the future of English language teaching in schools across Asia This volume is also ground breaking in bringing English literary studies and Applied English Linguistics together in the contemporary Asian context The Future of English in Asia includes studies on the following subject areas Cultural Translation in World Englishes Multilingual Education English Futures and the function of Literature English Literary Studies in Japan and English and Social Media in Asia Well into this century it appears that it is still very difficult to know what to expect when it comes to the future of English The future of English will continue to be determined by complex local contexts As it has in other parts of the world the future of English in Asia will continue to rely on the proliferation of its transformations as much as its hegemonic status This volume reflects the widespread acknowledgement that whatever future English has will inevitably be shaped by its fate in Asia The collection will be a welcome resource for scholars and students of English linguistics English literary studies and topics related to the teaching of English in Asia

Fourth Estate ,1920 The Declaration in Script and Print John Bidwell, 2024-07-04 Perhaps the single most important founding document of the United States of America the Declaration of Independence became both a work of art and a mass market commodity during the nineteenth century In this book graphic arts historian John Bidwell traces the fascinating history of Declaration prints and broadsides and reveals the American public's changing attitudes toward this iconic text The new and improved intaglio letterpress and lithographic printing technologies of the nineteenth century led to increasingly elaborate reproductions of the Declaration Some were touted as precious relics others were aimed at the bottom of the market Rival publishers claimed to have produced the definitive visualization of the document attacking the character and patriotism of other firms even as they promoted their own artistic abilities and attention to detail Meanwhile painter John Trumbull attempted to sell subscriptions for an engraved version of his Declaration painting and John Quincy Adams then secretary of state commissioned an official 1823 edition in response to the feuding facsimilists seeking government patronage Bidwell unravels the intricate web of rivalries surrounding these competing publications Featuring a comprehensive checklist of nearly two hundred prints and broadsides drawn from various collections this engrossing history highlights the proliferation and widespread influence of the Declaration of Independence on American popular culture It will be equally esteemed by general readers interested in American history print and autograph collectors and art and book historians Knowledge Management: Awad,2003 Knowledge Management is a subset of content taught in the Decision Support Systems course Knowledge Management is about knowledge and how to capture it transfer it share it and how to manage it The authors take students through a process oriented examination of the topic striking a balance between the behavioral and technical aspects of knowledge management and use it EBOOK: Introduction to Mass Communication: Media Literacy and Culture BARAN, STANLEY,2011-02-16 EBOOK Introduction to Mass Communication Media Literacy and Culture Architectural Record ,1892 Education Law Michael Imber,Tyll van Geel,J. C. Blokhuis,Jonathan Feldman,2013-10-08 Education Law 5th Edition is organized around the belief that students need to read court cases to understand the subtlety and richness of the law but for legal neophytes cases without discussion and interpretation are often too difficult to comprehend This textbook provides a comprehensive survey of the legal problems and issues that confront school administrators and policymakers today Thus the text balances an explanation of the important principles of education law with actual court decisions to illuminate these concepts The court decisions are carefully edited to highlight issues most relevant to administrators and each chapter explores implications for policy and practice This new edition features additional content on bullying student privacy free speech rights teacher evaluation collective bargaining and issues relating to Internet and technology as well as revised materials dealing with education policy and updating of references and case law throughout A companion website with materials for students and instructors including links to full cases a glossary of key concepts and discussion questions to help students further engage with the content If Babel Had a Form Tze-Yin Teo,2022-04-05 The likeness of form between Chinese and English sentences writes the American Sinologist Ernest Fenollosa around 1906 renders translation from one to the other exceptionally easy If Babel Had a Form asks not if his claim may be true but what its phantasmic surprise may yet do In twentieth century intersections of China and Asia with the United States translations did more than communicate meaning across politicized and racializing differences of language and nation Transpacific translation breached the regulative protocols that created those very differences of human value and cultural meaning The result Tze Yin Teo argues saw translators cleaving to the sounds and shapes of poetry to imagine a translingual likeness of form but not of meaning or kind At stake in this form without meaning is a startling new task of equivalence As a concept equivalence has been rejected for its colonizing epistemology of value naming a broken promise of translation and false premise of comparison Yet the writers studied in this book veered from those ways of knowing to theorize a poetic equivalence negating the colonial foundations of the concept they ignited aporias of meaning into flashpoints for a radical literary translation The book s transpacific readings glean those forms of equivalence from the writing of Fenollosa the vernacular experiments of Boxer Scholar Hu Shi the trilingual musings of Shanghai born Los Angeles novelist Eileen Chang the minor work of the Bay Area Korean American transmedial artist Theresa Cha and a post Tiananmen elegy by the exiled dissident Yang Lian The conclusion returns to the deconstructive genealogy of recent debates on translation and untranslatability displacing the axiom of radical alterity for a no less radical equivalence that remains pace Fenollosa far from easy or exceptional Ultimately If Babel Had a Form illuminates the demanding force of even the slightest sameness entangled in the translator s work of remaking our differences School Newspaper Fundamentals Columbia Scholastic Press Association,1948
