

TITANIC

The RMS Titanic set sail from Southampton on her very first voyage to New York on April 10th, 1912. Aboard were some of the richest and most influential entrepreneurs of this century. Their total assets were worth $600 million back in 1912. Not only did the Titanic have some of the most prominent millionaires on board but some of the most poorest emigrants from Europe and the Middle East, desiring a chance for a better economy and social freedom that they could find in America.

The RMS Titanic was the largest and most luxurious ship of her day. All passengers marveled at the design, the comfort, and the unsinkable attributes of this massive ship.

She left Southampton, England and stopped at Cherbourg, France, and then made another stop in Queenstown, Ireland and then set off to sea. There were 2,227 passengers including crew personnel onboard when she set off for New York.

During her maiden and only voyage, the Titanic's crew was warned several times about icebergs in the area by other ships that had navigated through this region. Even with the danger of navigating through these large icebergs, the Titanic was traveling at almost top speed of around 20.5 knots.

The Titanic was owned by the British White Star Line and flew the British flag. She was under all the rules and regulations of the British government. She had been designed to carry a total of 42
