Should a Christian Join the Army? David Hull, 2009-03 As Christians Jesus as our Lord and Savior We are to live according to His Word and His Will And our Father Will is for Christians to love all men and to live in peace with all men The will of God is for us to save all peoples of all nations through the Word of God not to kill them with the sword of man We must no longer justify supporting armies that oppose the Holy Word and Will of God by ordering our Christian Brothers to disobey God s Will and wage war on and kill the very people that Jesus has called us all to witness to and to baptize and save them in his name Dr Martin Luther King Jr was himself against militarism and war and you shall find quotes from him expressing his opinions on them in the beginning portion of this book I would like to thank him for being one of the inspirations to me in writing this book I would also like to thank all the Veterans that have ever turned not only away from wars but all Veterans that have also turned away from armies because of their belief in Jesus and his Holy teachings for every one of those Veterans have also greatly helped inspire me to write this book And most of all I like to thank God Almighty and His Holy Son Jesus the Christ for they were the greatest inspiration to me in writing this book I know that this book will take you the reader through a deep spiritual journey of self examination towards your personal feelings of military and war World peace is possible for all things are possible with God

The Origins of Roman Christian Diplomacy Walter Stevenson,2020-11-23 This book illuminates the origins of Roman Christian diplomacy through two case studies Constantius II s imperial strategy in the Red Sea and John Chrysostom s ecclesiastical strategy in Gothia and Sasanian Persia Both men have enjoyed a strong narrative tradition Constantius as a persecuting theological fanatic and Chrysostom as a stubborn na ve reformer Yet this tradition has often masked their remarkable innovations As part of his strategy for conquest Constantius was forced to focus on Alexandria demonstrating a carefully orchestrated campaign along the principal eastern trade route Meanwhile whilst John Chrysostom s preaching and social reform have garnered extensive discussion his late sermons and letters composed in exile reveal an ambitious program to establish church structures outside imperial state control The book demonstrates that these two pioneers innovated a diplomacy that utilised Christianity as a tool for forging alliances with external peoples a procedure that would later become central to Byzantine statecraft It will appeal to all those interested in Early Christianity and late antique medieval history
