The Great Rift Valley: Splitting a Continent

Begin your essay here. This is your introduction containing your thesis statement and brief mention of the major points to follow in the body. Use double spacing between the lines.

Each paragraph is indented. Either use the space bar five times, or press the tabulation key once. Your text is left aligned. The commonly accepted font is Times New Roman and the size is 12. Use 8.5" x 11" paper and print your text on one side only.

Note that the title of your essay is the same font and size as the rest of the details. Do not use bold, italics, or underlining for it. Margin settings are normally 1" for top and bottom and 1.25" for left and right, although 1" would probably be fine there too.

In the upper right corner of each page, including the first page, type your surname and the page number as seen above: Livingstone 1. On the second page, you would type "Livingstone 2" and so on.

Things We Know: Fifteen Essays on Problems of Knowledge Frank B. Ebersole, 2001-12-11 Reading Ebersole requires and often succeeds in producing a radical reorientation of one's thinking from a book review Things We Know is a collection of fifteen essays that focus on perennial philosophical problems about knowledge The essays let you participate in Frank Ebersole's unique struggles to come to terms with such questions as Can we know the world the past the future of God's existence whether our actions are free the foundations of logic and language This is not just another philosophy book about problems of knowledge In Things We Know Ebersole by carefully using examples exposes the problems to be the products of philosophical pictures The examples also make the pictures less compelling Thus by reading this philosophy book readers can join the author in working to free themselves from some perplexing philosophical concerns How the Second Edition differs from the First Edition This edition differs from the First Edition University of Oregon Books 1967 in three ways An essay is added Everyman's Ontological Argument has been inserted as Essay 14 following two other essays about the ontological argument Everyman's Ontological Argument was published in the Fall 1978 issue of Philosophical Investigations The original Chapter 14 Where the Action Is is now Chapter 15 An essay is replaced The original Essay 3 How Philosophers See Stars has been replaced by a modified version that was printed in Philosophy Today no 2 1969 The replacement includes some further improvements The text is improved Throughout the book the author has made corrections stylistic improvements and changed the wording as needed to make clearer his line of thought Summary Each of the fifteen essays takes up a philosophical problem In most of the essays Ebersole first clarifies the problem and reviews common attempts to resolve the problem Then he focuses on the central ideas and terms used to state the problem and creates examples of people using the terms under consideration The examples are unique because of their focus on the context and point of what we say If his investigations fail to find a use of the terms that supports the philosophical problem he is led to conclude that the problem does not really derive from a philosophical insight but rather arises from a philosophical picture or model Preface The essays in Things We Know address some of the perennial philosophical problems of knowledge. The essays are unified by being similar in method and philosophic aim. Ebersole exposes a picture behind each problem. In the essays he works through some of the ways that pictures control our thinking and tries to make the pictures less compelling. Chapters 1-6: Perception and Language. Chapter 1: Seeing Red. Philosophical problem: Must words for simple visual properties (e.g. red) refer to things because the things share some property (e.g. redness)? Can we see this property? Topics investigated: Family resemblances, properties of colors when we regard things as the same when we regard colors as the same when we regard things as having common properties, language world, philosophical pictures. Philosophers discussed: A. J. Ayer, J. Herder, J. S. Mill. Chapter 2: Seeing Things. Philosophical problem: Do hallucinations and afterimage? Bending Genre Margot Singer, Nicole Walker, 2022-12-15. Ever since the term creative nonfiction first came into widespread use, memoirists and journalists, essayists and fiction writers have faced off over where the border between fact and fiction lies. An early and influential book on questions of form in creative nonfiction, Bending Genre asks not where the boundaries between the genres should be drawn but what happens when you push the line. The expanded second edition doubles the first edition with 23 new essays that broaden the exploration of hybridity, structure, unconventionality, and resistance in creative nonfiction, pushing the conversation forward in diverse and exciting ways. Written for writers and students of creative writing, this collection brings together perspectives from leading writers of creative nonfiction, including Michael Martone, Brenda Miller, Ander Monson, David Shields, Kazim Ali, and in the new edition, Catina Bacote, Ira Sukrungruang, Ingrid Horrocks, Elena Passarello, and Aviya Kushner. Each writer's innovative essay probes our notions of genre and investigates how creative nonfiction is shaped, modeling the forms of writing being discussed. Like creative nonfiction itself, Bending Genre is an exciting hybrid that breaks new ground. Features in the second edition: Updated introduction to the new edition; Expanded sections on Hybrids, Structures, and Unconventions; A new section on Resistances. 50 essays in all. Mortality and Form in Late Modernist Literature John Whittier-Ferguson, 2014-10-27. This monograph underscores the way in which mortality functions in the later poetry and prose of major modernist writers. Teach Writing Well Ruth Culham, 2018. Ask great writers what the key to writing well is, and they will tell you: revision. Author Ruth Culham, both a successful writer and writing teacher, understands the challenges elementary teachers face when teaching writing and revision, and now shares her knowledge in Teach Writing Well: How to Assess Writing, Invigorate Instruction, and Rethink Revision. Divided into two parts, Culham's book provides ways to teach that are both accessible to the teacher and student. You will find techniques to assess writing that are practical and results-driven. Inside, you'll discover Culham's traits of writing and how to use them to read and assess student work. Ways to guide revision decisions using these traits as common language. How to address challenges students may face within the different modes of writing: narrative, expository, and persuasive. Strategic lessons to teach the writer that scaffold students towards making their own craft decisions. A chapter on mentor texts which can be used to model traits and key qualities for your students.
