Kimball,2015-06-15 In their initial effort to end the Vietnam War Richard Nixon and Henry Kissinger attempted to lever concessions from Hanoi at the negotiating table with military force and coercive diplomacy They were not seeking military victory which they did not believe was feasible Instead they backed up their diplomacy toward North Vietnam and the Soviet Union with the Madman Theory of threatening excessive force which included the specter of nuclear force They began with verbal threats then bombed North Vietnamese and Viet Cong base areas in Cambodia signaling that there was more to come As the bombing expanded they launched a previously unknown mining ruse against Haiphong stepped up their warnings to Hanoi and Moscow and initiated planning for a massive shock and awe military operation referred to within the White House inner circle as DUCK HOOK Beyond the mining of North Vietnamese ports and selective bombing in and around Hanoi the initial DUCK HOOK concept included proposals for tactical nuclear strikes against logistics targets and U S and South Vietnamese ground incursions into the North In early October 1969 however Nixon aborted planning for the long contemplated operation He had been influenced by Hanoi s defiance in the face of his dire threats and concerned about U S public reaction antiwar protests and internal administration dissent In place of DUCK HOOK Nixon and Kissinger launched a secret global nuclear alert in hopes that it would lend credibility to their prior warnings and perhaps even persuade Moscow to put pressure on Hanoi It was to be a special reminder of how far President Nixon might go The risky gambit failed to move the Soviets but it marked a turning point in the administration s strategy for exiting Vietnam Nixon and Kissinger became increasingly resigned to a long route policy of providing Saigon with a decent chance of survival for a decent interval after a negotiated settlement and U S forces left Indochina Burr and Kimball draw upon extensive research in participant interviews and declassified documents to unravel this intricate story of the October 1969 nuclear alert They place it in the context of nuclear threat making and coercive diplomacy since 1945 the culture of the Bomb intra governmental dissent domestic political pressures the international nuclear taboo and Vietnamese and Soviet actions and policies It is a history that holds important lessons for the present and future about the risks and uncertainties of nuclear threat making      Learning Places Masao Miyoshi,Harry Harootunian,2002-11-15 Examines the institutions and productions of area studies and explores what it
