concentration in their own ways By these means both nations became major trading countries However current economic and business conditions differ greatly between Germany and Japan In trade American influence on Japanese business is still strong Japan could not and cannot establish a complementary relationship with American industrial sectors and their products in the American market In addition a common market structure like the E U does not exist in Asia In contrast to Japan Germany developed independently from the American influence and became part of a well integrated regional economy What were the driving forces that created those differences That question is approached from a Japanese point of view in this book based on the assumption that the origins of distinct characteristics of German business management after World War II were developed in the 1950s and 60s The book analyzes the transformation of business management in Germany and explains the characteristics and structures of German management The author describes how the development of German companies determined the current German condition the Europeanization of Germany while the world faced the globalization process Demonstrating the basic foundation of European integration by analyzing market factors in Europe as well as the internal structural transformation of management in Germany this book is a valuable resource for undergraduate and graduate students educators and researchers in the fields of businessmanagement business history and economic history
