Negotiation for Entrepreneurship Vimal Babu, Robert Hisrich, 2023-01-10 Everyone has desires. Spiritual leaders too give up the mundane life. However they carry the deeply rooted desire to attain insights and enlightenment eventually. Irrespective of what life one leads one core but common desire is to enjoy the autonomy to make decisions. However life introduces one to several ups and downs resulting in both successes and failures. Nonetheless one desires to be happy throughout and enjoy whatever is in possession. Also one aspires to achieve all that one feels capable of achieving thus driving oneself to take risks against the opportunities identified. In the backdrop the present book is for every individual who is either an aspiring entrepreneur or serial entrepreneur irrespective of the domain expertise or industry one represents. The book attempts to focus and address a pressing pain point of entrepreneurs quite often entrepreneurs fail to strike great deals on account of poor negotiation skills. The stated pain point not only becomes a hindrance in the initial stage of start ups but it also becomes a major challenge for the entrepreneur as the start up scales up, expands, diversifies or exits from the market. The book is an attempt to eliminate the pain point of poor negotiation skills, one of the major factors responsible for the success and failure of start up ventures in modern times.

Handbook of Research on Negotiation Mara Olekalns, Wendi L. Adair, 2013-01-01 This Handbook combines a review of negotiation research with state of the art commentary on the future of negotiation theory and research. Leading international scholars give insight into both the factors known to shape negotiation and the questions that we need to answer as we strive to deepen our understanding of the negotiation process. This Handbook provides analyses of the negotiation process from four distinct perspectives: negotiators' cognition and emotion, social processes and social inferences, communication processes and complex negotiations covering trade, peace environment and crisis negotiations. Providing an introduction to key topics in negotiation written by leading researchers in the field, the book will prove insightful for undergraduate students. It also incorporates an excellent summary of past research as well as highlights new directions negotiation research might take which will be valuable for postgraduate students and

Its goal is to highlight the shortcomings of the methods that have been used to date to analyse the underlying causes that have led to a stalemate in the negotiation process. Further, it pursues an approach that considers the multiple factors that can influence the outcomes of the negotiation process. The book represents a substantial academic contribution to the field of conflict resolution by broadening the scope of the analytical framework that is needed to analyse the Palestinian Israeli negotiations and bridging the gap between theory and practice. Accordingly, it offers a valuable asset for researchers and students interested in political theory, Middle Eastern studies, international relations, conflict resolution studies, political science, negotiation theory, and contemporary Arab studies and Israeli studies.

Negotiation and Dispute Resolution for Lawyers Jordaan, Barney, 2022-06-10 Expertly combining negotiation theory and practice, Negotiation and Dispute Resolution for Lawyers demonstrates how lawyers can deliver enhanced levels of service to their clients. Comprehensive and engaging, the book is a lawyer's guide to resolving conflict, negotiating deals, preserving important client relationships, and ultimately becoming truly effective problem solvers. Learning in Work Raymond Smith, 2018-04-11 This book explores and progresses the concept of negotiation as a means of describing and explaining individuals learning in work. It challenges the undertheorised and generic use of the concept in contemporary work learning research where the concept of negotiation is most often deployed as a taken-for-granted synonym for interaction, co-participation, and collaboration, and hence used to unproblematically account for workers learning as engagement in social activity. Through a focus on workers' personal practice and based on extensive longitudinal empirical research, the book advances a conceptual framework, 'The Three Dimensions of Negotiation', to propose a more rigorous and work learning specific understanding of the concept of negotiation. This framework enables workers' personal work practices and their contributions to the personal, organisational, and occupational changes that evidence learning to be viewed as negotiations enacted and managed within contexts that are, in turn, sets of premeditated and concurrent negotiations that frame the transformations on and from which on-going negotiations of learning and practice ensue. The book does not seek to supplant understandings of the rich and valuable concept of negotiation. Rather, it seeks to develop and promote a more explicit use of the concept as a socio-personal learning concept at the same time as it opens alternative perspectives on its deployment as a metaphor for individuals learning in work. Construction Dispute Research Sai On Cheung, 2014-07-08 There are three specific purposes of Construction Dispute Research. First, this volume aims to summarise studies on construction dispute. Second, apart from the theoretical constructs where appropriate empirical tests are also included, this approach serves to go beyond the commonly used anecdotal approach for the subject matters. Third, it is the sincere hope of the authors that this book will help shaping research agenda of construction dispute The studies are mostly framed from a management perspective drawing on methods and concepts in contract law economics psychology and management science The book has twenty chapters that are arranged in four parts covering conceptualisation avoidance negotiation and mediation Part 1 is devoted for dispute conceptualisation A building is only as strong as its foundation Thus it is no better start to study construction dispute by conceptualisation The theme of Part 2 is dispute avoidance The conventional wisdom of prevention is better than cure seems can be applied to all problems As far as construction dispute is concerned equitable risk allocation and trust are the two most commonly accepted avoidance strategies Part 3 focuses on negotiation that is the gateway to resolution as almost all disputes are negotiated first before the service of other mechanisms Negotiation is sometimes described as an art because settlement may not be obtained solely from legal and rational approaches Part 3 discusses the behavioral dimensions of construction dispute negotiation Part 4 deals with Mediation a form of assisted negotiation Specially the skill of the mediators in facilitating settlement the interrelationships among dispute sources mediator tactics and mediation outcomes are explored The studies presented in Construction Dispute Research collectively demonstrate holistic approach in dispute management Each chapter can be read as a study on its own Practitioners will find the book a handy reference in dispute management and resolution Students would find the book useful in explaining in details the causes of dispute the processes to resolve them The research design and empirical approaches are particularly useful to students in construction management architectural surveying and civil engineering programs
