

This manual contains all the information necessary to properly rig the Neil Pryde Diablo and Supersonic sails. Careful attention to the instructions and suggestions presented here will help to ensure that you get the most fun and best possible service from your sails.

TECHNICAL FEATURES

1. MicroLite Batcam with Power Snap System
2. Shear Tip II Rotating Head Fitting
3. Two and Three Position Clew
4. Low Friction Tack Fitting
5. Tube/Rod battens with exclusive CNC tapering

Please see the specific instructions which apply to each of these features before you rig your sail for the first time.

1. THE BAT-CAM TENSION SYSTEM

Battens and Batcams are pre-installed and factory tuned. The battens are pre-tensioned at the factory and should require very little, if any adjustment. However, you might want to adjust and further fine-tune. Battens may be tensioned before or after you insert the mast into the luff pocket.

To open the lever, place the heel of your hand on the lower leech edge of the clamp and hook your middle fingers between the sail and the lever. Then pull back with your fingers prying the lever away from the leech, while pushing down the batten itself with your other hand (A).

To tension the batten, turn the screw anti-clockwise. To de-tension the batten turn the screw clockwise (B).

To close the lever, position the shoulder of the screw in the socket portion of the lever and align the tube with the clip at the front of the lever (C).

Apply pressure and snap the lever shut (D).

Warning: Do not over tension the battens. The screw should be extended only as much as necessary to remove wrinkles across the batten pockets. Over tensioning of the battens can damage the sail.
