Reluctant Press Fiction:

Our Sorority ,1991      Defoe's Major Fiction Elizabeth R. Napier,2016-01-28 This book focuses on the pervasive concern with narrativity and self construction that marks Defoe s first person fictional narratives Defoe s fictions focus obsessively and elaborately on the act of storytelling not only in his creation of idiosyncratic voices preoccupied with the telling and often the concealing of their own life stories but also in his narrators repeated aversion to other untold stories that compete for attention with their own Defoe s narratives raise profound questions about selfhood and agency as well as demonstrate competing attitudes about narration in his fictive worlds His canon exhibits a broad range of first person fictional accounts from pseudo memoir A Journal of the Plague Year Memoirs of a Cavalier to criminal autobiography Moll Flanders to confession Roxana and the narrators of these accounts secretive compulsive fractive exhibit an array of resistances to the telling of their life stories Such experiments with narration evince Defoe s deep involvement in projects of self description and delineation as he interrogates the boundaries of the self and dramatizes the arduousness of self accounting Defoe s fictions are emphatically consciousness centered and the significance of such a focus to the development of the novel is patently as great as is his realistic style Defoe s narrative project in fact challenges current views on the moment at which inwardness and interiority begin as Luk cs argued to comprise the subject matter of the novel implicitly attributing to identity and consciousness a place of signal and complex importance in the new genre      WayOut World Vicky Lee,2004 Not just for the transgendered The Tranny Guide is meant to increase for all awareness and understanding of the cross dressing and transgender phenomena and the scale and diversity of this growing scene      Modern Science Fiction: A Critical Analysis James Gunn,Michael R. Page,2018-06-07 James Gunn one of the founding figures of science fiction scholarship and teaching wrote in 1951 what is likely the first master s thesis on modern science fiction Portions were in the short lived pulp magazine Dynamic but it has otherwise remained unavailable Here in its first full publication the thesis explores many of the classic Golden Age stories of the 1940s and the critical perspective that informed Gunn s essential genre history Alternate Worlds and his anthology series The Road to Science Fiction The editor s introduction and commentary show the historical significance of Gunn s work and its relevance to today s science fiction studies

American Fiction Liliana M. Naydan, 2016-05-23 Rhetorics of Religion in American Fiction considers the way in which contemporary American authors address the subject of belief in the post 9 11 Age of Terror Naydan suggests that after 9 11 fiction by Mohsin Hamid Laila Halaby Philip Roth Don DeLillo John Updike and Barbara Kingsolver dramatizes and works to resolve impasses that exist between believers of different kinds at the extremes These impasses emerge out of the religious paradox that shapes America as simultaneously theocratic and secular and they exist for instance between liberals and fundamentalists between liberals and certain evangelicals between fundamentalists and artists and between fundamentalists of different varieties Ultimately Naydan argues that these authors function as literary theologians of sorts and forge a relevant space beyond or between extremes They fashion faith or lack thereof as hybridized and hence as a negotiation among secularism atheism faith fundamentalism and fanaticism In so doing they invite their readers into contemplations of religious difference and new ways of memorializing 9 11      The English Novel, Vol I Richard W.F. Kroll, 2014-07-21 The English Novel Volume I 1700 to Fielding collects a series of previously published essays on the early eighteenth century novel in a single volume reflecting the proliferation of theoretical approaches since the 1970s The novel has been the object of some of the most exciting and important critical speculations and the eighteenth century novel has been at the centre of new approaches both to the novel and to the period between 1700 and 1750 Richard Kroll s introduction seeks to frame the contributions by reference to the most significant critical discussions These include the question of whether and how we can talk about the rise of the novel the vexed question of what might constitute a novel the relationship between the novel and possibly competing genres such as history or the romance the relationship between early male writers like Defoe and popular novels by women in the early eighteenth century the general ideological role played by novels relative to eighteenth century culture are they means of ideological conscription or liberation poststructuralist analyses of identity and gender and the emergence of sentimental and domestic codes after Richardson Since the modern European novel is often thought to have been formed in this period these debates have clear implications for students of the novel in general as well as for those interested in the early enlightenment Headnotes place each essay within the map of these wider concerns and the volume offers a useful further reading list Taken as a whole this collection encapsulates the state of criticism at the present moment

Fictions of the War on Terror D. O'Gorman, 2015-06-29 This book argues that there are a number of contemporary novels that challenge the reductive us and them binaries that have been prevalent not only in politics and the global media since 9 11 but also in many works within the emerging genre of 9 11 fiction itself      Post-9/11 Espionage Fiction in the US and Pakistan Cara N. Cilano, 2014-05-09 As the events of 11 September 2001 and their aftermath influence new developments in spy fiction as a popular genre an examination of these literary narratives concerned with espionage and terrorism can reshape our approach to non fictive representations of the same concerns Post 9 11 Espionage Fiction in the US and Pakistan examines post 9 11 American spy fictions alongside Pakistani novels that draw upon many of the same figures tropes and conventions As the Pakistani texts replace spy fiction's conventions they offer another vantage point from which to view the affective appeals common to these conventions usual deployment in American texts This book argues that the appropriation by Pakistani writers of these conventions insistently tracks how the formulaic and popular nature of post 9 11 American espionage thrillers forwards and reinforces appropriate affective responses often linked to domestic sites and relations to terrorism It also analyses and compares American and Pakistani representations of the twinned figures of the spy or his proxy and the terrorist a term frequently conflated with fundamentalist The insights of these analyses can serve as interpretive interruptions of non fictive representations of Pakistani US war on terror relations Offering an innovative analysis of the reflection of narrative conventions in our view of the real life events this book will attract scholars with an interest in Pakistani literature Postcolonial literature Asian Studies and Terrorism studies A Companion to the Eighteenth-Century English Novel and Culture Paula R. Reflecting 9/11 Heather Pope, Victoria Bryan, 2016-06-22 In over fifteen years the cultural and artistic response to 9 11 has been wide ranging in form and function As the turbulent post 9 11 years have unfolded years that have been shaped and characterized by the War on Terror the Patriot Act the Wars in Afghanistan and Iraq 7 7 Abu Ghraib and Guant namo Bay these texts have been commemorative and heroic have attempted to work through collective and individual traumas and have struggled with trying to represent the terrorist other Many of these earlier domestic heroic and traumatic works have so often been read as limitations in narrative This collection however challenges the language of limitation and provides re readings of earlier work but also traces the emergence of a new paradigm for discussing the artistic responses to 9 11 one that frames these narratives as dialogic self conscious and self reflexive interventions in the responses to the attacks the initial representations of the attacks and the ever shifting social and geopolitical continuities of the 9 11 decade These texts widen the conversation about the lasting impacts of 9 11 and incorporate strands of discussion on American exceptionalism and imperialism torture and otherness whilst still remaining invested in the personal and collective traumas of the attacks The authors included here ask crucial questions about the way 9 11 is being historicized will it for example be read as a moment of rupture or epoch Will it inevitably be attached to the War on Terror or the Wars in Iraq and Afghanistan As they trace the emergent patterns of reflexivity politicization and dissent the contributions here are also implicitly invested in asking how far they extend Children's Writers' & Artists' Yearbook 2019 Bloomsbury Publishing,2018-07-26 The annual bestselling guide to all aspects of the media and how to write and illustrate for children and young adults Acknowledged by the media industries and authors as the essential guide to how to get published The 70 articles are updated and added to each year Together they provide invaluable guidance on subjects such as series fiction writing historical or funny books preparing an illustration portfolio managing your finances interpreting publishers contracts self publishing your work Foreword by Sarah Crossan Carnegie Medal winner and author of One Breathe Moonrise published July 2018 and We Come Apart with Brian Conaghan NEW articles for the 2019 edition include LGBT characters in children s fiction by Lauren James The hybrid author by Shelli R Johannes A jobbing writer s lot by Joanna Nadin Adapting children s books for stage and screen by Emma Reeves Where does your book sit by Jasmine Richards Murderous inventions by Robin Stevens The long and winding road to publication by Paul Stewart Writing picture books by Tessa Strickland The ups and downs of being a writer by Theresa Tomlinson All of the 2 000 listings of who to contact across the media have been reviewed and updated The essential guide for any writer for children The Postcolonial Arabic Novel Muhsin Al-Musawi,2003-04-09 This is the first study of its kind to tackle the postcolonial in Arabic fiction In ten chapters a lengthy preface and an extensive bibliography the author discusses and questions a large number of novels that demonstrate cultural diversity and richness in the Arab World Using current methodologies and discourse analysis the author highlights engagements with postcolonial issues that relate to identity formation the modern nation state individualism nationalism gender and class demarcations and micro politics With this intention the book locates Arabic narrative in the mainstream of world literature and establishes the modern Arabic novel in the contemporary literary critical world of postcolonial studies The author s lucid style and thorough knowledge of the field should recommend the book to students and scholars alike as it comes in time to meet the needs of the academy for solid writing on Islam and the Arabs Animals and Desire in South African Fiction Jason D. Price,2017-07-15 This book considers the political potential of affective experiences of desire as reflected in contemporary South African literature Jason Price argues that definitions of desire deployed by capitalist and colonial culture maintain social inequality by managing relations to ensure a steady flow of capital and pleasure for the dominant classes whereas affective encounters with animals reveal the nonhuman nature of desire a biopower that in its unpredictability can frustrate regimes of management and control Price wonders how animals different desires might enable new modes of thought to positively transform and resist the status quo This book contends that South African literary works employ nonhuman desire and certain indigenous notions of desire to imagine a South Africa that can be markedly different from the past
