Screen Design Manual Frank Thissen, 2003-09-11 The Screen Design Manual provides designers of interactive media with a practical working guide for preparing and presenting information that is suitable for both their target groups and the media they are using. It highlights background information and relationships, clarifying them with examples and encourages the further development of the language of digital media. In addition to the basics of perception and learning psychology, ergonomics, communication theory, imagery research, and aesthetics, the book also considers design navigation and orientation elements. Guidelines and checklists along with the comprehensive design of the book support the transfer of information into practice. Frank Thissen teaches multimedia didactics and information design at the University of Applied Sciences in Stuttgart. For over 10 years, he has been developing computer-based training. He has worked for international companies such as Siemens AG and SAP AG. His research project explores the role of emotion in e-learning. www.frankthissen.de

Key Topics: Interactive media, Text for the screen, Effective use of pictures, Video animation and sound, Screen layout, Orientation and navigation, Interaction, Emotions and metamessages, Intercultural communication.

Practice and Innovations in Sustainable Transport Tariq Muneer, Mehreen Saleem Gul, Eulalia Jadraque Gago, 2020-05-28 The book continues with an experimental analysis conducted to obtain accurate and complete information about electric vehicles in different traffic situations and road conditions. For the experimental analysis in this study, three different electric vehicles from the Edinburgh College leasing program were equipped and tracked to obtain over 50 GPS and energy consumption data for short distance journeys in the Edinburgh area and long range tests between Edinburgh and Bristol. In the following section, an adaptive and robust square root cubature Kalman filter based on variational Bayesian approximation and Huber's M estimation is proposed to accurately estimate state of charge (SOC), which is vital for safe operation and efficient management of lithium ion batteries. A coupled inductor DC/DC converter with a high voltage gain is proposed in the following section to match the voltage of a fuel cell stack to a DC link bus. Finally, the book presents a review of the different approaches that have been proposed by various authors to mitigate the impact of electric buses and electric taxis on the future smart grid.

Looking at numerous companies, this book defines two brand objectives that are specific to the industrial and service sectors and which must be added to the traditional functions of branding: the minimization of risk as perceived by buyers and the facilitation of the customer company's performance by the supplier brand. Different ways of classifying brands are suggested, providing a better understanding of brand strategies adopted by business to business companies as well as new concepts such as brand printability, visibility, and purchaseability Five major brand categories are dealt with in separate chapters entering goods brands intermediary equipment goods brands equipment goods brands business to business service brands and industrial distributor brands From a practical point of view the aim of the book is to address the main concerns of managers How to create and protect brand What type of visual identity is appropriate How to manage international brands An analysis of 1 500 industrial brands as we
