Introduction

The Quiet Before

The city shimmered like a polished lie Billboards blinked like artificial constellations and the night hummed with manufactured meaning Neon light washed the streets in colors that promised everything and delivered almost nothing Yet beneath all that noise a deeper silence lingered patient ancient undisturbed This world was never meant to be an endless feast It was a guesthouse beside eternity a passing inn along the way to a truer homeland Its pleasures were sweet but always laced with poison honey stirred with venom temporary and meant as a test Every taste demanded a trade Every heartbeat spent something you could never earn back Most forgot They mistook the inn for a palace the market for the reward and arranged their rooms as though they would never leave They decorated the temporary as though it were permanent forgetting that the doors of the inn always opened outward toward the road of no return And so beneath that restless sky four travelers drifted back into one another's orbit friends not by blood but by the long habit of walking the same noisy streets Zach Kian and Ezra had once been inseparable bright rooms restless nights the next thrill Into their circle stepped Elisha again as quiet as memory and just as impossible to ignore The silence beneath the noise seemed to gather around her This world a testament to the King's creative genius was treated by its people as nothing more than a backdrop for fleeting dramas They forgot that it was only a guesthouse beside eternity a temporary stage on the way to their true homeland Its pleasures were sweet but impermanent laced with trial It was here in the glow of that restless city that four young travelers came together again companions by circumstance not by lineage Their reunion was not planned yet it felt inevitable as though fate had patiently drawn their paths back together Each carried a different way of seeing the world a different trade at the market of life Zach the procrastinating traveler moved with ease through the noise words sharp and a smile always ready He did not reject the Creator outright instead he postponed reckoning leaving questions unopened like sealed letters gathering dust on a shelf To him life was meant to be enjoyed in the moment death was only a rumor eternity a metaphor He thrived in the now until the now began to fracture Though he knew the world was a marketplace where every moment was an investment toward the Hereafter he kept spending his wealth of time on things that would vanish like smoke forgetting that what is spent for God's sake endures forever Kian the entertaining traveler burned brighter yet hollower He lived as though youth were infinite capital repeating We're too young to worry His belief in the Creator was veiled in distraction neither denial nor seeking but a drifting laughter that mocked whatever could not be touched Eternity to him was a hashtag not a horizon He distracted himself with jokes and frivolity blind to the trade every breath demands He drank eagerly from the chalice of the world but its sweetness was always mixed with bitterness leaving him emptier with each sip Ezra the denying traveler filled every corner with noise sarcasm stories endless chatter anything to cover the silence he dreaded His life was a string of shallow pleasures chasing spectacle parties and games Yet his disbelief ran deeper than distraction it was a rejection of the testimony written across the universe Every star every leaf every atom bore witness to the Creator but Ezra dismissed them all To him the afterlife was a myth the reckoning a fable He wanted lightness yet the true weight the unveiling waited at the end of the road And then came Elisha the knowing traveler She entered not with fanfare but like a remembered truth quiet and enduring Unlike the others she saw life as a trust and a test a brief stage where every choice planted seeds for eternity For her the Creator was not an abstract idea but the One speaking through every created sign the stars the trees even the passing hours The afterlife was no metaphor but the truer country beyond the Threshold where death became reunion She understood both origin and destination trading the temporary for the eternal To her faith was not a crutch but a mirror showing both what a person was and what they must become Time was not something to spend but something to plant Belief was not mere comfort it was a key unlocking the garden hidden beneath the smoke For her the world was a marketplace of deeds a place to prepare for the harvest of eternity where true happiness pure and unending awaited So the four stood again beneath the same sky friends reunited yet already divided by belief In the distance the Gate loomed veiled in mist and edged with quiet fire Each would walk toward it in his own way one postponing one mocking one denying one remembering And one of them at last would be forced to stop walking as before Not because the answers had suddenly arrived but because the questions could no longer be ignored
