Managing Time Y.C. Halan, 2005-01-01 The term time management creates a false impression that a person has control over time Time cannot be managed as it is beyond the power of any human being We can only manage ourselves to get the best out of the time on self management It is interesting that the skills we need to manage others are the same we need to manage ourselves the ability to plan delegate organise direct and control

An Analysis of Hannah Arendt's The Human Condition Sahar Aurore Saeidnia,Anthony Lang,2017-07-05 Hannah Arendt's 1958 The Human Condition was an impassioned philosophical reconsideration of the goals of being human In its arguments about the kind of lives we should lead and the political engagement we should strive for Arendt's interpretative skills come to the fore in a brilliant display of what high level interpretation can achieve for critical thinking Good interpretative thinkers are characterised by their ability to clarify meanings question accepted definitions and posit good clear definitions that allow their other critical thinking skills to take arguments deeper and further than most In many ways The Human Condition is all about definitions Arendt's aim is to lay out an argument for political engagement and active participation in society as the highest goals of human life and to this end she sets about defining a hierarchy of ways of living a vita activa or active life The book sets about distinguishing between our different activities under the categories of labor work and action each of which Arendt carefully redefines as a different level of active engagement with the world Following her clear and careful laying out of each word's meaning it becomes hard to deny her argument for the life of action as the highest human goal

If the Bible Is as Much Fable as Fact, Did God Create Man or Did Man Create God? Peter Seiler, 2015-07-10 If the Bible is as Much Fable as Fact Did God Create Man or Did Man Create God searches for a reasonable and reasoned foundation upon which to speak of the relationship between God and humanity The author Peter Seiler marshals his education in both science and history in his exploration of the Bibles claims of faith shedding the light of scientific findings and historical analysis on the biblical texts Spanning ten parts the text begins with an extended introduction to the author and his method before conducting a four part examination of the history of faith from the ancient past through the Enlightenment Then the author examines in three parts the case for the involvement of alien life in human history Finally he turns to the future before summarizing his conclusions If the Bible is as Much Fable as Fact Did God Create Man or Did Man Create God will satisfy the hunger of readers who desire to shed the light of reason bolstered by verifiable facts upon the claims of faith It also will intrigue people with deeply held beliefs who desire to know the yearnings of their friends and family members who find those same claims of faith on the far side of a chasm they cannot traverse by a leap of faith In either case If the Bible is as Much Fable as Fact Did God Create Man or Did Man Create God makes a powerful case for its perspective on the titles question
