Remembrance Part I A Time For War:

War and Remembrance Renée Dickason, Delphine Letort, Michel Prum, Stéphanie A.H. Bélanger, 2022-06-15 Memory while seemingly a thing of the past has much to reveal in the present With its focus on memory War and Remembrance provides new viewpoints in the field of war representation Bringing an interdisciplinary approach to discussions of the cultural memory of war the collection focuses on narratives either fictional or testimonial that challenge ideological discourses of war The acts of remembrance and of waging war are constantly evolving A range of case studies analyzing representations of war in art film museums and literature from Nigeria Australia Sri Lanka Canada and beyond questions our current approaches to memory studies while offering reinterpretations of established narratives Throughout a commitment to Indigenous perspectives to examining the ongoing legacy of colonialism and to a continued reckoning with the Second World War foregrounds what is often forgotten in the writing of a single official history War and Remembrance invites readers to cast a reflexive look at wars and conflicts past some of them forgotten others still vividly commemorated the better to understand the cultural political and social stake of memory as a source of conflict and exchange of resistance and opposition and of negotiation and reconciliation

Handbook of Culture and Memory Brady Wagoner, 2017-10-16 In the Handbook of Culture and Memory Brady Wagoner and his team of international contributors explore how memory is deeply entwined with social relationships stories in film and literature group history ritual practices material artifacts and a host of other cultural devices Culture is seen as the medium through which people live and make meaning of their lives In this book analyses focus on the mutual constitution of people's memories and the social cultural worlds to which they belong The complex relationship between culture and memory is explored in the concept of memory and its relation to evolution neurology and history life course changes in memory from its development in childhood to its decline in old age and the national and transnational organization of collective memory and identity through narratives propagated in political discourse the classroom and the media

Rhetoric, Remembrance, and Visual Form Anne Demo, Bradford Vivian, 2012-03-12 This volume offers a multifaceted investigation of intersections among visual and memorial forms in modern art politics and society The question of the relationships among images and memory is particularly relevant to contemporary society at a time when visually based technologies are increasingly employed in both grand and modest efforts to preserve the past amid rapid social change The chapters in this book provide valuable insights concerning not only how memories may be seen or sighted in visual form but also how visual forms constitute noteworthy material sites of memory The collection addresses this central theme with a wealth of interdisciplinary and international approaches featuring conventional scholarly as well as artistic works from such disciplines as rhetoric and communication art and art history architecture landscape studies and more by contributors from around the globe

Re-Constructing Grassroots Holocaust Memory Irina Rebrova, 2020-10-26 The main objective of the book is to allocate the grass roots initiatives of remembering the Holocaust victims in a particular region of Russia which has a very diverse ethnic structure and little presence of Jews at the same time It aims to find out how such individual initiatives correspond to the official Russian hero orientated concept of remembering the Second World war with almost no attention to the memory of war victims including Holocaust victims North Caucasus became the last address of thousands of Soviet Jews both evacuees and locals While there was almost no attention paid to the Holocaust victims in the official Soviet propaganda in the postwar period local activists and historians together with the members of Jewish communities preserved Holocaust memory by installing small obelisks at the killing sites writing novels and making documentaries teaching about the Holocaust at schools and making small thematic exhibitions in the local and school museums Individual types of grass roots activities in the region on remembering Holocaust victims are analyzed in each chapter of the book Days of

Remembrance, April 22-29, 1990, 1990 Communities of Memory William James Booth, 2018-07-05 Memory has fueled merciless violent strife and it has been at the core of reconciliation and reconstruction It has been used to justify great crimes and yet it is central to the pursuit of justice In these and more everyday ways we live surrounded by memory individual and social in our habits our names the places where we live street names libraries archives and our citizenship institutions and laws Still we wonder what to make of memory and its gifts though sometimes we are hardly even certain that they are gifts Of the many chambers in this vast palace I mean to ask particularly after the place of memory in politics in the identity of political communities and in their practices of doing justice from the Preface W James Booth seeks to understand the place of memory in the identity ethics and practices of justice of political communities Identity is he believes a particular kind of continuity across time one central to the possibility of agency and responsibility and memory plays a central role in grounding that continuity Memory identity takes two forms a habitlike form the deep presence of the past that is part of a life led in common and a more fragile vulnerable form in which memory struggles to preserve identity through time notably in bearing witness a form of memory work deeply bound up with the identity of political communities Booth argues that memory holds a defining place in determining how justice is administered Memory is tied to the very possibility of an ethical community one responsible for its own past able to make commitments for the future and driven to seek justice Underneath and motivating the politics of memory understood as contests over the writing of history over memorials museums and canons he writes there lies an intertwining of memory identity and justice Communities of Memory both argues for and maps out that intertwining Crosses of Memory and Oblivion Miguel Ángel del Arco Blanco, 2023-07-31 This book explores the history and legacy of monuments to the fallen from the Francoist side in the Spanish Civil War Del Arco Blanco studies thousands of monuments in towns and cities across Spain to provide a detailed account of the history and memory of the civil war Francoism and the transition to democracy Chapters in the book focus on the myth of those said to have fallen for God and for Spain a phrase that encapsulated and shaped the dichotomy between good and bad Spaniards They also focus on the use of monuments to control political and ideological ideals and to legitimise the Francoist dictatorship Further chapters study Spanish society's struggle to deal with its past of mass killing, denial and exclusion. Del Arco Blanco also pays attention to the way the Francoist authorities used monuments and memory for their political and ideological advantage and to control people power as well as the political agenda. The book draws on extensive research to reconstruct both the specific history of monuments scattered throughout the country and their role within manipulative Francoist memory of the Spanish Civil War. In these ways, monuments helped shape the Francoist narrative and memory but they also became part of the landscape of contemporary Spanish history. This book is an excellent resource for postgraduate students and professional researchers studying the aftermath of the Spanish Civil War and the influence of monuments on the construction of national memory culture and society in Spain both at the time and through to the present day.

The Great War in Post-Memory Literature and Film Martin Löschnigg, Marzena Sokolowska-Paryz, 2014-10-14. The twenty-seven original contributions to this volume investigate the ways in which the First World War has been commemorated and represented internationally in prose, fiction, drama, film, docudrama and comics from the 1960s until the present. The volume thus provides a comprehensive survey of the cultural memory of the war as reflected in various media across national cultures, addressing the complex connections between the cultural post-memory of the war and its mediation. In four sections, the essays investigate: 1. the cultural legacy of the Great War including its mythology and iconography; 2. the implications of different forms and media for representing the war; 3. national memories foregrounding the differences in post-memory representations and interpretations of the Great War; and 4. representations of the Great War within larger temporal or spatial frameworks focusing specifically on the ideological dimensions of its remembrance in historical, socio-political, gender-oriented and post-colonial contexts.

Remembering the Caribbean Breeze Fred Press, 2010-02-02. Fred Press is perhaps one of the most versatile and prolific of America's present-day artist-designers. Hundreds of his original sculptures have been numerous reproduced and collected by many people throughout the United States. His paintings, which have been exhibited in one-man shows as well as group shows and competitions, have brought critical acceptance as well as prizes and have been acquired by such notable institutions as the Worcester Art Museum. His product designs, which have been distinguished by New York's Museum of Modern Art with a good design award, have been executed in a multitude of media and distributed widely into virtually every corner of America. Author of the book Sculpture At Your Fingertips, he has written, illustrated and taught.

Memorial Services in the Congress of the United States and Tributes in Eulogy of Dwight David Eisenhower, Late a President of the United States United States Congress, 1970. Memorial Day, 1922. Army, 1999. Renegotiating First World War Memory Ashley Garber, 2021-06-29. First World War-based ex-servicemen's organisations found themselves facing an existential crisis with the onset of the Second World War. This book examines how two such groups, the British and American Legions, adapted cognitively to the emergence of yet another world war and its veterans in the years 1938 through 1946. With collective identities and socio-political programmes based in First World War memory, both Legions renegotiated existing narratives of that war and the lessons they derived from those narratives as they responded to the unfolding Second World War in real time Using the previous war as a learning experience for the new one privileged certain understandings of that conflict over others inflecting its meaning for each Legion moving forward Breaking the Second World War down into its constituent events to trace the evolution of First World War memory through everyday invocations this unprecedented comparison of the British and American Legions illuminates the ways in which differing international national and organisational contexts intersected to shape this process as well as the common factors affecting it in both groups The book will appeal most to researchers of the ex service movement First World War memory and the cultural history of the Second World War
