Reminiscences Of A Stock Operator Illustrated:

The Reminiscences of a Stock Operator Collection Edwin Lefèvre, Jon D. Markman, 2012-05-04 A classic collection of titles featuring one of the world's greatest traders Jesse Livermore. Jesse Livermore won and lost tens of millions of dollars playing the stock and commodities markets during the early 1900s at one point making ten million dollars in one month of trading an astronomical sum for this time. His ideas and keen analyses of market price movements are as true today as they were when he first implemented them. Now for the first time ever The Reminiscences of a Stock Operator Collection brings together three classic titles based on this unique individual and offers profound insights into his motivations, attitudes, and strategies. Reminiscences of a Stock Operator, the fictionalized biography of Jesse Livermore, has endured over seventy years because traders and investors continue to find lessons from Livermore's experiences that they can apply to their own endeavors. Reminiscences of a Stock Operator Illustrated Edition reproduces the original articles by Edwin Lefèvre and drawings by M. L. Blumenthal published in the Saturday Evening Post in the 1920s. Reminiscences of a Stock Operator Annotated Edition bridges the gap between Edwin Lefèvre's fictionalized account of Livermore's life and the actual historical events, places, and people that populate the book. Throughout the book, there are notes that detail the actual companies, people, or situations that Livermore encountered. Engaging and informative, this collection provides a complete picture of Livermore's life and trading strategies and offers tremendous value to today's serious investor or trader.

He goes broke again only to make more than the 28 million he once had. Reminiscences of a Stock Operator by Edwin Lefèvre is a riveting story, a battle of courage, cleverness, and equanimity. Classics: Reminiscences of a Stock Operator Edwin Lefevre,2020-12-06 Reminiscences of a Stock Operator is a 1923 roman clef by American author Edwin Lefèvre It is told in the first person by a character inspired by the life of stock trader Jesse Livermore up to that point Reminiscences of a Stock Operator (Illustrated) Edwin Lefèvre,2020-05-31 There is nothing new in Wall Street There can t be because speculation is as old as the hills Whatever happens in the stock market today has happened before and will happen again The desire for constant action irrespective of underlying conditions is responsible for many losses in Wall Street even among professionals I never lose my temper over the stock market I never argue the tape Getting sore at the market doesn't get you anywhere They say you can never go poor taking profits No you don't But neither do you grow rich taking a four point profit in a bull market Where I should have made twenty thousand I made two thousand That was what my conservatism did for me Remember that stocks are never too high for you to begin buying or too low to begin selling A man may see straight and clearly and yet become impatient or doubtful when the market takes its time about doing as he figured it must do That is why so many men in Wall Street nevertheless lose money The market does not beat them They beat themselves because though they have brains they cannot sit tight After spending many years in Wall Street and after making and losing millions of dollars I want to tell you this It never was my thinking that made the big money for me It always was the sitting Got that My sitting tight Losing money is the least of my troubles A loss never bothers me after I take it But being wrong not taking the loss that is what does the damage to the pocketbook and to the soul Prices like everything else move along the line of least resistance They will do whatever comes easiest The speculator's chief enemies are always boring from within It is inseparable from human nature to hope and to fear In speculation when the market goes against you hope that every day will be the last day and you lose more than you should had you not listened to hope the same ally that is so potent a success bringer to empire builders and pioneers big and little And when the market goes your way you become fearful that the next day will take away your profit and you get out too soon Fear keeps you from making as much money as you ought to The successful trader has to fight these two deep seated instincts Instead of hoping he must fear instead of fearing he must hope

Twelve Lessons from Reminiscences of a Stock Operator Tradinformed Throughout the book Livermore describes times just where he closed or even changed his position based on how the price behaved. There's usually a reason behind why prices move. But as traders we can't expect to see why at the time. If prices move contrary to expectations we have to accept that our theory might be wrong. Illustrated by a famous French illustrator, dive into the New York of the 1920s. This book, written by Edwin Lefèvre in 1923, is a part biographical and part fictional story, possibly mythological. Someday of Jesse Livermore referred to in the narrative as Larry Livingstone, an American speculator who unleashed passions during his lifetime at the beginning of the 20th century. But beware, this text is not like others. It's not one more book on speculation that will be forgotten before the ink dries. Indeed, if you ask professional traders to name people who may have influenced their view of trading, many will spontaneously quote Jesse Livermore and Reminiscences of a Stock Operator.

Reminiscences of a Stock Operator Edwin Lefèvre, 2018-05-27

Reminiscences of a Stock Operator is a thinly veiled account of the life of securities trader Jesse Livermore. Despite the book's age, it continues to offer insights into the art of trading and speculation. In Jack Schwager's Market Wizards, Reminiscences was quoted as a major source of stock trading learning material for experienced and new traders by many of the traders who Schwager interviewed. The book tells the story of Livermore's progression from day trading in the then so-called New England bucket shops to market speculator, market maker, and market manipulator, and finally to Wall Street where he made and lost his fortune several times over. Along the way, Livermore learns many lessons which he shares with the reader.
