Anti-Money Laundering Regulation Nkechikwu Azinge-Egbiri, Nicholas Ryder, Ehi Eric Esoimeme, 2024-11-25 This book explores the politics of money laundering and terrorist financing ML TF regulation in several countries across Africa and the Small Island States Developed countries created the Financial Action Task Force FATF to combat ML TF globally Expectedly the FATF s standards mirror existing banking regulations within the G7 countries Yet the standards apply to all countries irrespective of the limited ML TF risks they pose to the global economy their weak pre conditions for effective regulation and their non involvement in the FATF s framing Still such countries mainly within the Global South have worked hard to amplify their compliance with the regime due to fears of the repercussions of their non compliance This collection demonstrates how the global ML TF regulation is treated as an implicitly superior legal regime where the Global South must comply irrespective of their perception of the FATF s legitimacy challenges It shows that beyond exogenous factors such as neo colonialism endogenous factors such as weak institutions and corruption undermine the compliance trajectory of the Global South Furthermore it analyses the unintended consequences of transplanting FATF standards into diverse legal and cultural contexts The volume contributes to our understanding of the challenges of transplantation from the Global North and how the Global South is steering within the constraints created by the FATF It advocates for a comprehensive understanding of the nuanced compliance challenges of developing countries It further proposes practical solutions to address them emphasizing the importance of risk based understanding accountability capacity building and coordination in achieving effective anti money laundering and counter terrorist financing measures The collection will be essential reading for researchers academics and policy makers working in financial crime regulation and international economic law

African Initiated Christianity and the Decolonisation of Development Philipp Öhlmann, Wilhelm Gräb, Marie-Luise Frost, 2020-01-07 This book investigates the substantial and growing contribution which African Independent and Pentecostal Churches are making to sustainable development in all its manifold forms Moreover this volume seeks to elucidate how these churches reshape the very notion of sustainable development and contribute to the decolonisation of development Fostering both overarching and comparative perspectives the book includes chapters on West Africa Nigeria Ghana and Burkina Faso and Southern Africa Zimbabwe and South Africa It aims to open up a subfield focused on African Initiated Christianity within the religion and development discourse substantially broadening the scope of the existing literature Written predominantly by scholars from the African continent the chapters in this volume illuminate potentials and perspectives of African Initiated Christianity combining theoretical contributions essays by renowned church leaders and case studies focusing on particular churches or regional contexts While the contributions in this book focus on the African continent the notion of development underlying the concept of the volume is deliberately wide and multidimensional covering economic social ecological political and cultural dimensions Therefore the book will be useful for the community of scholars interested in religion and development as well as researchers within African studies anthropology development studies political science religious studies sociology of religion and theology It will also be a key resource for development policymakers and practitioners

Governing After War Shelley X. Liu,Shelley Liu,2024 Governing after War examines how civilians and rebels wartime relations affect post war state building development and violence When rebels win the war how do they govern afterwards Drawing from multiple cases in Africa Shelley Liu argues that wartime rebel civilian ties are important to answer this question Her findings offer implications for recent rebel victories and more broadly for understanding the termination trajectories and political legacies of such conflicts around the world

World Development Report 2016 World Bank Group,2016-01-14 Digital technologies are spreading rapidly but digital dividends the broader benefits of faster growth more jobs and better services are not If more than 40 percent of adults in East Africa pay their utility bills using a mobile phone why can t others around the world do the same If 8 million entrepreneurs in China one third of them women can use an e commerce platform to export goods to 120 countries why can t entrepreneurs elsewhere achieve the same global reach And if India can provide unique digital identification to 1 billion people in five years and thereby reduce corruption by billions of dollars why can t other countries replicate its success Indeed what s holding back countries from realizing the profound and transformational effects that digital technologies are supposed to deliver Two main reasons First nearly 60 percent of the world s population are still offline and can t participate in the digital economy in any meaningful way Second and more important the benefits of digital technologies can be offset by growing risks Startups can disrupt incumbents but not when vested interests and regulatory uncertainty obstruct competition and the entry of new firms Employment opportunities may be greater but not when the labor market is polarized The internet can be a platform for universal empowerment but not when it becomes a tool for state control and elite capture The World Development Report 2016 shows that while the digital revolution has forged ahead its analog complements the regulations that promote entry and competition the skills that enable workers to access and then leverage the new economy and the institutions that are accountable to citizens have not kept pace And when these analog complements to digital investments are absent the development impact can be disappointing What then should countries do They should formulate digital development strategies that are much broader than current information and communication technology ICT strategies They should create a policy and institutional environment for technology that fosters the greatest benefits In short they need to build a strong analog foundation to deliver digital dividends to everyone everywhere

Secured Transactions Law Reform in Africa Marek Dubovec, Louise Gullifer, 2019-10-31 Over the last few decades many countries have reformed their secured transactions law One of the main reasons has been the clear link between reform and the availability of credit and the drive to improve access to finance particularly for micro small and medium sized enterprises This book focuses particularly on developing economies in Africa which have legal frameworks influenced by English French Belgian Roman Dutch and other laws Reform in this area of law across African countries has taken a number of forms which are explored and discussed in this book Secured Transactions Law Reform in Africa is a mixture of a critical description of the pre reform law and practice and the reform process itself It also includes a comparative analysis of the legal provisions and an examination of the early results of the reforms The book sets out a road map for the future of secured transactions reform primarily in Africa but also in other countries that have undertaken or are contemplating similar reforms This book is the second in a series of books about

Secured Transactions Law in countries around the world and its reform both on a national and an international scale The first book Secured Transactions Law Reform Principles Policies and Practice was published in 2016

Gender Parity and Multicultural Feminism Ruth Rubio-Marín, Will Kymlicka, 2018-09-25 Around the world we see a participatory turn in the pursuit of gender equality exemplified by the adoption of gender quotas in national legislatures to promote women's role as decision makers We also see a pluralism turn with increasing legal recognition given to the customary law or religious law of minority groups and indigenous peoples To date the former trend has primarily benefitted majority women and the latter has primarily benefitted minority men Neither has effectively ensured the participation of minority women In response multicultural feminists have proposed institutional innovations to strengthen the voice of minority women both at the state level and in decisions about the interpretation and evolution of cultural and religious practices This volume explores the connection between gender parity and multicultural feminism both at the level of theory and in practice The authors explore a range of cases from Europe Latin America the Middle East and Africa in relation to state law customary law religious law and indigenous law While many obstacles remain and many women continue to suffer from the paradox of multicultural vulnerability these innovations in theory and practice offer new prospects for reconciling gender equality and pluralism

SADC Gender Protocol 2013 Barometer Lowe Morna, Kubi Rama, 2013-09-15 In August 2008 Heads of State of the Southern African Development Community adopted the ground breaking SADC Protocol on Gender and Development This followed a concerted campaign by NGOs under the umbrella of the Southern Africa Gender

Protocol Alliance By the 2013 Heads of State summit 13 countries had signed and 12 countries had ratified the SADC Gender Protocol The Protocol is now in force With two years to go time is ticking to 2015 when governments need to have achieved 28 targets for the attainment of gender equality In keeping with the Alliance slogan Yes we must this 2013 Barometer provides a wealth of updated data against which progress will be measured by all those who cherish democracy in the region The SADC Gender and Development Index SGDI introduced in 2011 complements the Citizen Score Card CSC that has been running for five years to benchmark progress

Financial Inclusion and Digital Transformation Regulatory Practices in Selected SADC Countries Howard Chitimira,Tapiwa Victor Warikandwa,2023-03-28 This book investigates the regulation and promotion of financial inclusion and provides a comparative analysis of the regulation promotion and enforcement of the relevant laws in the SADC in particular South Africa Namibia Botswana and Zimbabwe as well as the challenges of financial inclusion In turn it evaluates financial inclusion in the context of specific challenges faced by unbanked and underbanked customers who are easy targets for cyber criminals because they tend to have lower levels of digital literacy The book presents novel discussions that identify the challenges and flaws associated with the enforcement of financial inclusion laws and related measures intended to promote financial inclusion in the SADC region This is primarily done in order to reveal the current strengths and weaknesses of financial inclusion laws in relation to certain aspects of the companies securities and financial markets in the region For example there is no common financial inclusion instrument law that is effectively and uniformly applied throughout the SADC This has impeded the enforcement authorities efforts to effectively combat financial exclusion across the region The book is likely the most comprehensive study to date on the regulation and promotion of financial inclusion in the SADC region and fills a major gap in SADC and African legal jurisprudence As such it offers a valuable asset for policymakers attorneys bankers securities share holders and other market participants who deal with financial inclusion as well as undergraduate and graduate students interested in the topic
