links between translating and re writing increasingly blurring the line between translations and so called original works Less emphasis has been placed on the work of writers who translate and the ways in which they conceptualize or even fictionalize the task of translation This book fills that gap and thus will be of interest to scholars in linguistics translation studies and literary studies Scrutinizing translation through a new lens Judith Woodsworth reveals the sometimes problematic relations between author and translator along with the evolution of the translator s voice and visibility The book investigates the uses and abuses of translation at the hands of George Bernard Shaw Gertrude Stein and Paul Auster prominent writers who bring into play assorted fictions as they tell their stories of translations Each case is interesting in itself because of the new material analysed and the conclusions reached Translation is seen not only as an exercise and fruitful starting point it is also a way of paying tribute repaying a debt and cementing a friendship Taken together the case studies point the way to a teleology of translation and raise the question what is translation for Shaw Stein and Auster adopt an authorial posture that distinguishes them from other translators They stretch the boundaries of the translation proper their words spilling over into the liminal space of the text in some cases they hijack the act of translation to serve their own ends Through their tales of loss counterfeit and hard labour they cast an occasionally bleak glance at what it means to be a translator Yet they also pay homage to translation and provide fresh insights that continue to manifest themselves in current works of literature By engaging with translation as a literary act in its own right these eminent writers confer greater prestige on what has traditionally been viewed as a subservient art

Decolonizing Memory Jill Jarvis, 2021-05-10 The magnitude of the legal violence exercised by the French to colonize and occupy Algeria 1830 1962 is such that only aesthetic works have been able to register its enduring effects In Decolonizing Memory Jill Jarvis examines the power of literature to provide what demographic data historical facts and legal trials have not in terms of attesting to and accounting for this destruction Taking up the unfinished work of decolonization since 1962 Algerian writers have played a crucial role in forging historical memory and nurturing political resistance their work helps to make possible what state violence has rendered almost unthinkable Drawing together readings of multilingual texts by Yamina Mechakra Waciny Laredj Zahia Rahmani Fadhma A th Mansour Amrouche Assia Djebar and Samira Negrouche alongside theoretical juridical visual and activist texts from both Algeria s national liberation war 1954 1962 and war on civilians 1988 1999 this book challenges temporal and geographical frameworks that have implicitly organized studies of cultural memory around Euro American reference points Jarvis shows how this literature rewrites history disputes state authority to arbitrate justice and cultivates a multilingual archive for imagining decolonized futures The Reception of Jonathan Swift in Europe Hermann J. Love and Sexuality in Social Theory Emiliano Bevilacqua, Mariano Longo, Michael Hviid Jacobsen, 2024-11-27 Love and Sexuality in Social Theory considers the role that love and sexuality play in private and public life Drawing on both classical and contemporary social theory this book presents both theoretical and empirical studies of love and sexuality as social factors from the earliest reconstructions of modern emotional life to the most recent analyses of liquid love With attention to the consequences that passions and desires have both on morals and behaviour it departs from the analysis of society in terms of the division of labour and utilitarian mechanisms to consider how a society based on performances values human energy and emotional behaviour in a contradictory way This book therefore presents and discusses classic authors from Georg Simmel and Pitirim Sorokin to Marianne Weber and Simone De Beauvoir through the work of Erving Goffman and ending with contemporary authors such as Michel Foucault Anthony Giddens Zygmunt Bauman Ulrich Beck and Eva Illouz By presenting love as the social foundation of altruism an essential element in modern conceptions of subjectivity and a force shaping intimacy and contemporary social life this book will appeal to scholars of sociology particularly those interested in social theory and the sociology of emotions
