Policy Change Public Attitudes And Social Citizenship:

Policy Change, Public Attitudes and Social Citizenship Humpage, Louise, 2014-11-05 Neoliberal reforms have seen a radical shift in government thinking about social citizenship rights around the world But have they had a similarly significant impact on public support for these rights This unique book traces public views on social citizenship across three decades through attitudinal data from New Zealand the United Kingdom and Australia It argues that support for some aspects of social citizenship diminished more significantly under some political regimes than others and that limited public resistance following the financial crisis of 2008 2009 further suggests the public rolled over and accepted these neoliberal values Yet attitudinal variances across different policy areas challenge the idea of an omnipotent neoliberalism providing food for thought for academics students and advocates wishing to galvanise support for social citizenship in the 21st century

Policy Change, Public Attitudes and Social Citizenship Louise Humpage, 2015 Neoliberal reforms have seen a radical shift in government thinking about social citizenship rights around the world But have they had a similarly significant impact on public support for these rights This book traces public views on social citizenship across three decades through attitudinal data from New Zealand the UK and Australia It argues that support for some aspects of social citizenship slipped more significantly under some political regimes than others and that limited public resistance following the financial crisis of 2008 2009 further suggests the public accepted these neoliberal values

The Feasibility of Citizen's Income Malcolm Torry, 2016-06-07 This book is the first full length treatment of the desirability and feasibility of implementing a citizen's income also known as a basic income It tests for two different kinds of financial feasibility as well as for psychological behavioral administrative and political viability and then assesses how a citizen's income might find its way through the policy process from proposal to implementation Drawing on a wide variety of sources of evidence from around the world this new book from the director of the Citizen's Income Trust UK provides an essential foundation for policy and implementation debates Governments think tanks economists and public servants will find this thorough encompassing book indispensable to their consideration of the economic and social advantages and practicalities of a basic income

The Oxford Handbook of the Welfare State Daniel Béland, Kimberly J. Morgan, Herbert Obinger, Christopher Pierson, 2021-10-27 This is the comprehensively revised second edition of a volume that was welcomed at its first appearance as the most authoritative survey and critique of the welfare state yet published Its fifty one chapters have been written by acknowledged experts in the field from across Europe Australia and North America Some chapters are brand new all have been systematically revised and they are right up to date The first seven sections of the book cover the themes of Ethics History Approaches Inputs and Actors Policies Policy Outcomes and Worlds of Welfare A final chapter is devoted to the future of welfare and well being under the imperatives of climate change Every chapter is written in a way that is both comprehensive and succinct introducing the novice reader to the essentials of what is going on while providing new insights for the more experienced researcher Wherever appropriate the handbook brings the very latest empirical evidence to bear It is a book that is thoroughly comparative in every way The Oxford Handbook of the Welfare State second edition is a comprehensible and comprehensive survey of everything that it is important to know about the welfare state in these troubled times It is an indispensable source for everyone who wants to know what is really going on now and what is likely to happen next Why We Need a Citizen's Basic Income Malcolm Torry,2018-05-09 In the five years since Money for Everyone was published the idea of a Citizen's Basic Income has rocketed in interest to an idea whose time has come In moving the debate on from the desirability of a basic income this fully updated and revised edition now includes comprehensive discussions on feasibility and implementation Using the consultation undertaken by the Institute of Chartered Accountants in England and Wales as a basis Torry examines a number of implementation methods for Citizen's Basic Income and considers the cost implications Including real life examples from the UK and data from case studies and pilots in Alaska Namibia India Iran and elsewhere this is the essential research based introduction to the Citizen's Basic Income Applied and Clinical Sociology in Aotearoa New Zealand Zarine L. Rocha,Kathy L. Davidson,2023-12-19 This is the first volume to explore clinical and applied sociology in Aotearoa New Zealand while also providing unique insights into the practice of sociology internationally Drawing out the intersections between sociological research public sociology and applied sociology the chapters in this volume enrich the rapidly growing field of international clinical sociology Aotearoa New Zealand presents an important case study in the development and practice of sociology with a vibrant social scientific community and a significant diversity of scholars and practitioners local research and practice highlight the country's innovative and often unusual approaches to addressing social problems This volume brings together a diversity of scholars and practitioners from the country's top sociologists to early career researchers and provides a comprehensive and valuable exploration of sociology and its many practical applications in this unique context It covers a wide range of key topics in the field from the challenges of practicing a public sociology in Aotearoa New Zealand to the role of applied and clinical sociologists in government and consultancies Contemporary social issues are explored as case studies including practising sociological psychotherapy indigenous applications of sociology and M ori language learning and applying sociology within healthcare This is a key addition to applied and clinical sociology literature Social Suffering in the Neoliberal Age Karen Soldatic,Louise St Guillaume,2022-04-27 This book provides a rich synthesis of research and theory of nascent and emergent critically engaged work examining changing welfare structures regimes and technologies and the social suffering that is generated in everyday lives By rigorously examining social security restructuring with the turn to austerity governance and its daily practices of managing regulating and subordinating individuals peoples and communities this collection delineates the machinery of state power and logics designed to manage contain and control the lives of some of the most poorest and marginalised citizens who are reliant on social welfare income payments A core strength of the book is first its unpacking of austerity governance across diverse communities and second the elevation of community resistance and mobilisation against the very measures of austerity Combined the work maps out the logics of state power and everyday practices of embedded contestation and confrontation Using the case study of Australia to discuss sociolegal recategorisations automation of welfare governance technologies of policy design and delivery conditionality and systems of penalisation this book will be of interest to all scholars and students of sociology critical theory social policy social work and disability studies Indigenous studies and settler colonialism

The Neoliberal State, Recognition and Indigenous Rights Deirdre Howard-Wagner, Maria Bargh, Isabel Altamirano-Jiménez, 2018-07-25 The impact of neoliberal governance on indigenous peoples in liberal settler states may be both enabling and constraining This book is distinctive in drawing comparisons between three such states Australia Canada and New Zealand In a series of empirically grounded interpretive micro studies it draws out a shared policy coherence but also exposes idiosyncrasies in the operational dynamics of neoliberal governance both within each state and between them Read together as a collection these studies broaden the debate about and the analysis of contemporary government policy The individual studies reveal the forms of actually existing neoliberalism that are variegated by historical geographical and legal contexts and complex state arrangements At the same time they present examples of a more nuanced agential bottom up indigenous governmentality Focusing on intense and complex matters of social policy rather than on resource development and land rights they demonstrate how indigenous actors engage in trying to govern various fields of activity by acting on the conduct and contexts of everyday neoliberal life and also on the conduct of state and corporate actors

Civil Society, Rhetoric of Resistance, and Transatlantic Trade Leif Johan Eliasson, Patricia Garcia-Duran Huet, 2019-03-20 This book investigates the politics of transatlantic trade specifically the Transatlantic Trade and Investment Partnership negotiations Using a novel approach the authors analyze the rhetorical choices made by opponents and supporters of an agreement and the logic behind their arguments Opponents used emotive frames and strategically chosen issues to increase public opposition to the negotiations supporters countered but also accommodated parts of opponents rhetoric in hopes of quelling discontent The study also highlights the resulting changes to EU trade policy thus contributing to the literatures on trade policy politicization and rhetorical analysis

Basic Income in Australia and New Zealand J. Mays, G. Marston, J. Tomlinson, 2016-04-08 Basic income is an innovative powerful egalitarian response to widening global inequalities and poverty experiences in society one that runs counter to the neoliberal transformations of modern welfare states social security and labor market programs This book is the first collective volume of its kind to ask whether a basic income offers a viable solution to the income support systems in Australia and New Zealand Though often neglected in discussions of basic income both countries are advanced liberal democracies dominated by neoliberal transformations of the welfare state and therefore have great potential to advance debates on the topic The contributors essays and case studies explore the historical basis on which a basic income program might stand in these two countries the ideological nuances and complexities of implementing such a policy and ideas for future development that might allow the program to be put into practice regionally and applied internationally

Intersections of Inequality, Migration and Diversification Rachel Simon-Kumar, Francis L. Collins, Wardlow Friesen, 2019-06-11 This book examines the relationship between migration diversification and inequality in Aotearoa New Zealand The authors advance a view of migration as a diversifying force arguing that it is necessary to grapple with the intersection of group identities state policy and economic opportunities as part of the formation of inequalities that have deep historical legacies and substantial future implications Exploring evidence for inequality amongst migrant populations the book also addresses the role of multicultural politics and migration policy in entrenching inequalities and the consequences of migrant inequalities for political participation youth development and urban life

Research Handbook on Curriculum and Education Elizabeth Rata, 2024-04-12 This incisive Handbook brings together a wealth of innovative research from international curriculum and education experts to ask the question what knowledge should be taught in school how should it be taught and for what purpose

Sociologies of New Zealand Charles Crothers, 2018-04-13 This book provides the first comprehensive analysis of the various sociologies of New Zealand from the late 19th century to the present day Opening with previously undocumented insights into the history of proto sociology in New Zealand the book then explores the parallel stories of the discipline both as a mainstream subject in Sociology departments and as a more diffuse sociology within other university units The rise and fall of departments specialties and research networks is plotted and the ways in which external and internal factors have shaped these is explained Different generations of sociologists including many immigrants are each shown to have left their unique mark on New Zealand sociology The author demonstrates that the rising interest in topics specific to New Zealand has been accompanied by increasing capacities to contribute to world sociology This book will have inter disciplinary appeal across the social sciences and provides a valuable study of the development of sociology in a semi peripheral country

Democracy Under Siege? Timothy Hellwig, Yesola Kweon, Jack Vowles, 2020 The consequences of the Global Financial Crisis GFC and Great Recession of 2008 2010 continue to be debated among economists journalists and policymakers This book examines how these economic shocks which originated largely outside of nations reshaped politics within them

Police Powers and Citizens' Rights Layla Skinns, 2019-01-31 Police detention is the place where suspects are taken whilst their case is investigated and a case disposal decision is reached It is also a largely hidden but vital part of police work and an under explored aspect of police studies This book provides a much needed comparative perspective on police detention It examines variations in the relationship between police powers and citizens rights inside police detention in cities in four jurisdictions in Australia England Ireland and the US exploring in particular the relative influence of discretion the law and other rule structures on police practices as well as seeking to explain why these variations arise and what they reveal about state citizen relations in neoliberal democracies This book draws on data collected in a multi method study in five cities in Australia England Ireland and the US This entailed 480 hours of observation as well as 71 semi structured interviews with police officers and detainees Aside from filling in the gaps in the existing research this book makes a significant contribution to debates about the links between police practices and neoliberalism In particular it examines the police not just the prison as a site of neoliberal governance By combining the empirical with the theoretical the main themes of the book are likely to be of utmost importance to contemporary discussions about police work in increasingly unequal societies As a result it will also have a wide appeal to scholars and students particularly in criminology and criminal justice

Young Children's Community Building in Action Louise Gwenneth Phillips, Jenny Ritchie, Lavina Dynevor, Jared Lambert, Kerry Moroney, 2019-07-04 Rethinking the concepts of citizenship and community in relation to young children this groundbreaking text examines the ways in which indigenous understandings and practices applied in early childhood settings in Australia and New Zealand encourage young children to demonstrate their care and concern for others and so in turn perceive themselves as part of a larger community Young Children's Community Building in Action acknowledges global variations in the meanings of early childhood education of citizenship and community building and challenges widespread invisibility and disregard of Indigenous communities Through close observation and examination of early years settings in Australia and New Zealand chapters demonstrate how practices guided by Aboriginal and M ori values support and nurture children's personal and social development as individuals and as citizens in a wider community Exploring what young children's citizenship learning and action looks like in practice and how this may vary within and across communities the book provides a powerful account of effective pedagogical approaches which have been long excluded from mainstream dialogues Written for researchers and students of early childhood education and care this book provides insight into what citizenship can be for young children and how Indigenous cultural values shape ways of knowing being doing and relating

Haemophilia in Aotearoa New Zealand Julie Park, Kathryn Scott, Deon York, Michael Carnahan, 2019-01-24 Haemophilia in Aotearoa New Zealand provides a richly detailed analysis of the experience of the bleeding disorder of haemophilia based on longterm ethnographic research The chapters consider experiences of diagnosis how parents children and adults care and integrate medical routines into family life the creation of a gendered haemophilia the use and ethical dilemmas of new technologies for treatment testing and reproduction and how individuals and the haemophilia community experienced the infected blood tragedy and its aftermath which included extended and ultimately successful political struggles with the neoliberalising state The authors reveal a complex interplay of cultural values and present a close up view of the effects of health system reforms on lives and communities While the book focuses on the local biology of haemophilia in Aotearoa New Zealand the analysis allows for comparison with haemophilia elsewhere and with other chronic and genetic conditions

Neo-Liberalism and Austerity Peter Kelly, Jo Pike, 2016-12-26 This collection examines the relationships between a globalising neoliberal capitalism a post GFC environment of recession and austerity and the moral economies of young people's health and well being Contributors explore how in the second decade of the 21st century many young people in the OECD EU economies and in the developing economies of Asia Africa and Central and South America continue to be carrying a particularly heavy burden for many of the downstream effects of the 2008 09 Global Financial Crisis The authors explore the ways in which increasing local and global inequalities often have profound consequences for large populations of young people These consequences are not just related to marginalisation from education training and work They also include obstacles to their active participation in the civic life of their communities to their transitions to their sense of belonging The book examines the choices that are made or not made by governments businesses and individuals in relation to young people s education training work health and well being sexualities diets and bodies in the context of a crisis of neoliberalism and of austerity

Immigration and the State Alex Balch, 2016-07-30 This book examines how and why liberalism and human rights have proven insufficient to protect immigrants Contemporary immigration systems are characterized by increasing complexity and expanding enforcement and frequently criticized for violating human rights and for causing death exclusion and exploitation The migrant crisis can also be understood as a crisis of hospitality for liberal democracies Through analysis of the immigration histories and political dynamics of Britain and the US the book explains how these two archetypal liberal states have both sought to create a hostile environment for unwanted immigrants The book provides a fresh and original perspective on the development of immigration systems showing how they have become subject to the politics of fear and greed and revealing how different traditions of hospitality have evolved survived and renewed

The Indian Farmers' Protest of 2020-2021 Christine Moliner, David Singh, 2024-08-21 The Kisan Andolan or the Indian farmers protest of 2020 2021 is one of the longest and biggest and victorious social movements in the history of independent India This book adopts a multidisciplinary approach to contextualise the movement in the long run It engages with the historical social and religious roots of the Andolan examining what makes it so unique and transformative for Indian polity It explores the discontinuities with previous resistance and contestation movements in India and globally and debates the role so far of regional religious and class caste gender identities Through interviews the volume also gives a specific voice and platform to grassroots activists and farmers from the movement Part of the Social Movements and Transformative Dissent series the book will appeal to scholars activists and a wider audience interested in social movements and dissent politics in India and the Global South It will also be of interest to students of economics political science anthropology sociology government agrarian studies Sikh and Punjab studies politics international relations and diaspora studies
