Critical Sexuality Studies, Lavender Languages, and Everyday Life Michelle Marzullo, William L. Leap, 2024-09-05 Critical Sexuality Studies CSS and Lavender Languages Linguistics LLL are leading modes of inquiry in two different fields of sexuality studies. In this edited collection, chapters reveal how these can be combined to produce a new approach to analyzing language use, sexuality, and gender, and discourse on authority and power. The book demonstrates how together LLL and CSS iterate each other through their mutual concern with sexuality, gender, and power, especially when considering the materiality of daily life. Authors then compare CSS to other fields of sexuality studies to reveal commonalities and tensions that are addressed via the LLL-based interventions exemplified in this volume. The body of the book organizes examples of Lavender Languages projects around a four-part CSS framework with an introductory essay for each section indicating the connections between the CSS theme and the LLL examples. The volume concludes with reflections showing how CSS interests in sexuality and power benefit from LLL with its emphasis on socially focused studies of discourse and text. Strengthening pathways to future knowledge making this book provides a detailed roadmap for scholarly and activist engagements in language-centered critical sexuality studies.

75 Years After Partition Amit Ranjan, Farooq Sulehria, 2025-07-24 This book explores how the 1947 Partition of British India not only divided people and territories but also deepened cultural rifts in postcolonial India, Pakistan, and Bangladesh, especially between Hindus and Muslims. The colonial divide-and-rule strategy, which intensified religious divides, laid the foundation for ongoing tensions. Even as the 75th anniversary of Partition approached in 2022, this cultural segregation remains prevalent. Over the years, mass media such as films, press, and television have significantly evolved in India, Bangladesh, and Pakistan, playing a pivotal role in manufacturing, disseminating, and perpetuating the narrative of cultural differences based on religion. These cultural platforms have gained even more influence with the rise of majoritarian nationalism in both India and Pakistan. The chapters in this volume analyse how language, cinema, and textbooks contributed to the divide instead of bridging gaps and why unresolved questions from the Partition continue to affect the region The chapters cover the communalization of Hindi and Urdu how textbooks in India Bangladesh and Pakistan narrate Partition the role of mass media in India and Pakistan in presenting Partition and the portrayal of Partition in films across India Bangladesh and Pakistan This book is aimed at students researchers and scholars interested in postcolonial studies South Asian history cultural studies and media analysis The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of India Review
