

Opossum

Opossums are marsupials, which means they carry their babies in a pouch. They are great climbers and have a prehensile tail that helps them grip branches. When threatened, they can play dead to fool predators. This behavior is called "playing possum".

Hedgehog

Hedgehogs are covered in spines or quills that act as their defense against predators. When they feel scared or threatened, they curl into a ball to protect themselves. Hedgehogs are mostly insectivores and love to eat bugs and other small creatures.

Badger

Badgers are strong diggers and live in underground tunnels called setts. They have a distinctive white stripe on their faces. Badgers are nocturnal animals, meaning they are active at night. They are omnivores, eating small animals and plants. They have powerful jaws and sharp claws.
