

Writing Observation Guide

Writing high-quality observations of children is an important part of the planning, teaching and assessment cycle of learning through play. You may have one staff member with responsibility for writing observations for their own group of key children, or staff may write observations for any child in the setting.

Observations can be used in several ways. One is to document and evidence the learning of individual children, which feeds into planning their next steps. Another use for observations is to form part of the responsive planning for the nursery or class. From observations, staff may add to or change resources to extend learning and may plan experiences and activities based around children's current interests.

A high-quality observation will include:

- information on what the child is doing/saying/creating
- precise language of skills and progression
- the curricular area(s) or the relevant experience(s) and outcome(s)
- the significance of the learning for this child (for example, whether it is the first time that they have done this independently)
- possible next steps

Next Steps

Below are next steps are possible and achievable for the child

The Early Years Foundation Stage is a useful tool when thinking about next steps.

Remember that you are writing a possible next step for the child. Their interests and learning may now be different from the planned next step.

The key next steps with parents will allow them to support their child's learning and evidence their achievement. It also important to show next steps with the child. The following have help in the learning journey and enable them to be proud of their progress.

Parenting Culture Studies Ellie Lee, Jennie Bristow, Charlotte Faircloth, Jan Macvarish, 2015-12-04 Why have the minutiae of how parents raise their children become routine sources of public debate and policy making This book provides in depth answers to these features drawing on a wide range of sources from sociology history anthropology and psychology covering developments in both Europe and North America

South Pacific Jim Lovensheimer, 2010-08-26 Rodgers and Hammerstein s Tony and Pulitzer Prize winning musical South Pacific has remained a mainstay of the American musical theater since it opened in 1949 and its powerful message about racial intolerance continues to resonate with twenty first century audiences Drawing on extensive research in the Rodgers and the Hammerstein papers including Hammerstein s personal notes on James A Michener s Tales of the South Pacific Jim Lovensheimer offers a fascinating reading of South Pacific that explores the show s complex messages and demonstrates how the presentation of those messages changed throughout the creative process Indeed the author shows how Rodgers and especially Hammerstein continually refined and softened the theme of racial intolerance until it was more acceptable to mainstream Broadway audiences Likewise Lovensheimer describes the treatment of gender and colonialism in the musical tracing how it both reflected and challenged early Cold War Era American norms The book also offers valuable background to the writing of South Pacific exploring the earlier careers of both Rodgers and Hammerstein showing how they frequently explored serious social issues in their other works and discussing their involvement in the political movements of their day such as Hammerstein s founding membership in the Hollywood Anti Nazi League Finally the book features many wonderful appendices including two that compare the original draft and final form of the classic songs I m Gonna Wash That Man Right Out a My Hair and I m In Love With a Wonderful Guy Thoroughly researched and compellingly written this superb book offers a rich intriguing portrait of a Broadway masterpiece and the era in which it was created

Developmental Group Care of Children and Youth Jerome Beker, Henry W Maier, 2014-02-04 A recognized leader in the professional development of the child and youth care field presents in this single volume a collection of his work related to group care work with children and youth Henry Maier shares his observations about human development in the group care context the perceptions of children and youth the environments in which we work with them the role of the worker and the preparation of child and youth care workers Dr Maier s practical approaches reflect the most recent research and thinking in human development This book is a practical text for courses in the child and youth field as well as a useful handbook for child and youth caseworkers already on the job BACKCOVER COPY In what way can group care non familial living assure children a developmental progress similar to that of children growing up within regular family care settings In his practical new text Henry Maier one of the most vibrant creative and humane figures in child and youth care work today answers that question for child care professionals using a developmental perspective in his approach to residential group care He focuses on the developmental requirements of children and adolescents in relation to the care they receive while they are in no familial group living situations and also highlights training for the caregivers in order that they can effectively provide the kind of caring involvement that children and youth require. The real contribution of this book is that it cuts through the confusion of competing values and competing points of view to focus on the care at the heart of child care work. attests Richard W Small PhD Executive Director of the Walker Home and School Needham Massachusetts from the Preface

Transforming Asian Economy and Business Administration Katsuhiko Hirasawa, Tsuyako Nakamura, Yutaka Takakubo, 2022-05-19 Are there any countries now days that do not use products and parts made in Asia In this sense Asia is a production base that supports the world economy The entry of multinational corporations into Asian countries has been carried out from early on But it was the collapse of the socialist planned economy that clinched the expansion of MNEs into Asia The collapse of the socialist planned economy was accompanied by the introduction of the market economy in the countries with the socialist planned economy The ideology of neo liberalism with emphasis on the market economy became the principle for the reconstruction of these countries Against the backdrop of this global standard the activities of MNEs in Asian countries have advanced Accompanying this the construction of an economic structure based on the MNEs has progressed there This is the emergence of so called Asian capitalism However the spread of COVID 19 and its countermeasures appear to be transforming this global order As is well known the spread of COVID 19 and its countermeasures are suppressing international human exchanges and logistics advanced by globalization and promoting the restructuring of local economies In this context the way of business activities in Asian countries probably defines the future world order Based on this awareness of the issues this book deals with various problems of the economy and business management especially human resources in Asian countries
