Discoveries Among the Ruins of Ninevah and Babylon Austen Henry Layard, 1856 Discoveries Among the Ruins of Nineveh and Babylon Austen Henry Layard, 1853 The Northernmost Ruins of the Globe Bjarne Grønnow, Jens Fog Jensen, 2003-10-15 An important part of the heritage of Count Eigil Knuth 1903-1996 is his archaeological archive containing contextual information on prehistoric sites gathered during six decades of research in High Arctic Greenland. The finds and observations are a key to the understanding of human life under extreme conditions in a long term perspective and represent a unique piece of evidence concerning the early cultural history of the Eastern Arctic. Knuth's expeditions from 1932 to 1995 took him to Greenland and Canada in particular High Arctic Greenland. In a number of important articles Knuth published the findings dating back to the earliest human settlement in Greenland. However, he never managed to present the complete body of information and results from his many investigations. The present authors have thus compiled a computer database on the basis of his archive which constitutes the starting point of the present book. The book focuses on Knuth's most substantial contribution to archaeology: the prehistory of Peary Land and adjacent areas. In the catalog emphasis has been placed on topographical and architectural information, site structure, artefact statistics and radiocarbon dates. A total of 154 archaeological sites are presented. Fifty-one sites with a total of 244 features are Independence I sites c. 2460-1860 cal BC; twenty-three sites with a total of 416 features belong to Independence II c. 900-400 cal BC; and sixty-three sites with a total of 626 features are of Thule origin c. 1400-1500 ca AD. This study presents some new information on the faunal material from Peary Land based on Christyann Darwent's recent analyses as well as new data on the dwelling features on the Adam C. Knuth Site which was visited by a multidisciplinary team in 2001. It also offers an introduction presenting an overview and evaluation of Knuth's remarkable curriculum vitae as an independent arctic archaeologist. In the concluding chapters some basic statistics on the archaeological sites are presented. We evaluate Knuth's radiocarbon datings of the Independence I, Independence II and Thule cultures in High Arctic Greenland and settlement distributions and settlement patterns for the three cultures represented in Peary Land are discussed.

Archeological Research Series, 1959 The Cambridge Medieval History Series volumes 1-5, A Story of Ruins Wu Hung, 2013-02-15 This richly illustrated book examines the changing significance of ruins as vehicles for cultural memory in Chinese art and visual culture from ancient times to the present The story of ruins in China is different from but connected to ruin culture in the West This book explores indigenous Chinese concepts of ruins and their visual manifestations as well as the complex historical interactions between China and the West since the eighteenth century Wu Hung leads us through an array of traditional and contemporary visual materials including painting architecture photography prints and cinema A Story of Ruins shows how ruins are integral to traditional Chinese culture in both architecture and pictorial forms It traces the changes in their representation over time from indigenous methods of recording damage and decay in ancient China to realistic images of architectural ruins in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries to the strong interest in urban ruins in contemporary China as shown in the many artworks that depict demolished houses and decaying industrial sites The result is an original interpretation of the development of Chinese art as well as a unique contribution to global art history
