Veil Institute of International Visual Arts, 2003      Veil New Art Gallery Walsall, Bluecoat Gallery, Open Eye Gallery, 2003
Published to coincide with an Institute of International Visual Arts exhibition a study of the historical cultural and artistic significance of the veil features commissioned essays and a range of excerpts from classical historical texts      Postcolonial Representations of Women Rachel Bailey Jones, 2011-06-11 In this accessible combination of post colonial theory feminism and pedagogy the author advocates using subversive and contemporary artistic representations of women to remodel traditional stereotypes in education It is in this key sector that values and norms are molded and prejudice kept at bay yet the legacy of colonialism continues to pervade official education received in classrooms as well as unofficial education ingested via popular culture and the media The result is a variety of distorted images of women and gender in which women appear as two dimensional stereotypes The text analyzes both current and historical colonial representations of women in a pedagogical context In doing so it seeks to recast our conception of what difference is challenging historical patriarchal gender relations with their stereotypical representations that continue to marginalize minority populations in the first world and billions of women elsewhere These distorted images the book argues can be subverted using the semiology provided by postcolonialism and transnational feminism and the work of contemporary artists who rethink and recontextualize the visual codes of colonialism These resistive images created by women who challenge and subvert patriarchal modes of representation can be used to create educational environments that provide an alternative view of women of non western origin      Under the Skin Ceren Özpınar, Mary Kelly, 2020-09-24 Under the Skin examines contemporary women s art from the Middle East and North Africa introducing the latest scholarship on art production histories and methods in approaching modern and contemporary visual culture      Making and Remaking Mosques in Senegal Cleo Cantone, 2012-04-03 This book constitutes a seminal contribution to the fields of Islamic architectural history and gender studies It is the first major empirical study of the history and current state of mosque building in Senegal and the first study of mosque space from a gender perspective The author positions Senegalese mosques within the field of Islamic architectural history unraveling their history through pre colonial travelers accounts to conversations with present day planners imams and women who continually shape and reshape the mosques they worship in Using contemporary Dakar as a case study the book s second aim is to explore the role of women in the making and remaking of mosques In particular the rise of non tariqa grass roots movements i e the Sunni Ibadou movement has empowered women particularly young women and has greatly strengthened their capacity to use mosques as places of spirituality education and socialization The text is aimed at several specialized readerships readers interested in Islam in West Africa in the role of women in Islam as well as those interested in the sociology and art history of mosques      Iranian National Cinema Anne Demy-Geroe, 2020-01-23 This book examines transformations in the production and domestic and international reception of Iranian cinema between 2000 and 2013

through the intersection of the political markers the presidential terms of Reformist president Mohammad Khatami and his successor the conservative Mahmoud Ahmadinejad and filmic markers particularly Jafar Panahi's The Circle 2000 and Asghar Farhadi's About Elly 2009 Through extensive field and media research the book considers the interaction of a range of factors including government policy Iranian national cinema genres and categories intended audience funding source and domestic and international reception to demonstrate the interplay between filmmakers and the government over these two successive presidencies While the impact of politics on Iranian filmmaking has been widely examined this work argues for a more nuanced understanding of politics in and of the Iranian cinema than has generally been previously acknowledged Drawing on both personal experience as a juror at the Fajr International Film festival and interviews with significant filmmakers producers actors and other industry insiders including senior bureaucrats and politicians the volume is a key resource for anyone interested in politics and Iranian cinema

Arab, Muslim, Woman Lindsey Moore, 2008-05-14 This groundbreaking book analyzes a wide range of literary and visual texts many of which have not received treatment elsewhere and promotes an emergent canon of women's writing and film

Constitutional Secularism in an Age of Religious Revival Susanna Mancini, Michel Rosenfeld, 2014 Traditional models of constitutional secularism have struggled to accommodate the modern revival of religious politics The concept has been criticised as empty or illegitimate while political and legal struggles have contested its meaning This book gathers leading experts to examine the scope and substance of constitutional secularism today

Feminist Critique and the Museum Kathy Sanford, Darlene E. Clover, Nancy Taber, Sarah Williamson, 2020-08-31 Thousands of diverse museums including art galleries and heritage sites exist around the world today and they draw millions of people audiences who come to view the exhibitions and artefacts and equally importantly to learn from them about the world and themselves This makes museums active public educators who imagine visualise represent and story the past and the present with the specific aim of creating knowledge Problematically the visuals and narratives used to inform visitors are never neutral Feminist cultural and adult education studies have shown that all too frequently they include epistemologies of mastery that reify the histories and deeds of great men Despite pressures from feminist scholars and professionals normative public museums continue to be rife with patriarchal ideologies that hide behind referential illusions of authority and impartiality to mask the many problematic ways gender is represented and interpreted the values imbued in those representations and interpretations and their complicity in the cancellation of women's stories in favour of conventional masculine historical accounts that shore up male superiority entitlement privilege and dominance Feminist Critique and the Museum Educating for a Critical Consciousness problematises museums as it illustrates ways they can become pedagogical spaces of possibility This edited volume showcases the imaginative social critique that can be found in feminist exhibitions and the role that women's museums around the world are attempting to play in terms of transforming our understandings of women gender and the potential of museums to create inclusive narratives

Front Cover

Iconography and Algerian Women's Writing Pamela A. Pears, 2015-10-29 The front covers of books written by Algerian women serve as the primary source of investigation in Front Cover Iconography and Algerian Women Writers. These covers have implications that extend beyond selling the book. What we see on one side of the page or in this case the cover recto controls what we read on the reverse in this case the text itself verso. Using theories of the paratext including those of Gérard Genette and Jonathan Gray, this book determines how four dominant iconographies used on the covers of Algerian women's writing: Orientalist art, the veil, the desert, and the author portrait, work with and against the texts they represent. These images have an impact on the initial reception of the book but beyond that, book covers determine how both the informed and uninformed reader categorize and interpret francophone Algerian women's writing in France and beyond. As the covers help to sell the works, they also produce messages represented via their iconographies that embed themselves into the texts. A sometimes explicit and at the very least implicit dialog between the visual paratextual representation and the written textual one is created, a dialog that extends beyond the life of the physical book to a sort of canonical paradigm for reading these authors' works. Thus, even if the cover image appears ephemeral, it never truly disappears. Its powerful control over critical reception and ultimately interpretation of francophone Algerian women's writing remains. Feminist Practices Lori A. Brown, 2016-04-15 Women continue to be extremely underrepresented in the architectural profession. Despite equal numbers of male and female students entering architectural studies, there is at least 17-25% attrition of female students, and not all remaining become practicing architects. In both the academic and the professional fields of architecture, positions of power and authority are almost entirely male, and as such, the profession is defined by a heterosexual Eurasian male perspective. This book argues that it is vital for all architectural students and practitioners to be exposed to a diversity of contemporary architectural practices, as this might provide a first step into broadening awareness and transforming architectural engagement. It considers the relationships between feminist methodologies and the various approaches toward design and their impact upon our understanding and relationship to the built environment. In doing so, this collection challenges two conventional ideas: firstly, the definition of architecture, and secondly, what constitutes a feminist practice. This collection of up and coming female architects and designers use a wide range of local and global examples of their work to question different aspects of these two conventional ideas. While focusing on feminist perspectives, the book offers insights into many different issues, concerns, and interpretations of architecture, proposing that through these types of engagement, architecture can become more culturally, politically, and environmentally relevant. This next generation of architects claim feminism as their own and through doing so, help define what feminism means and how it is evolving in the 21st century. Regarding Muslims Gabeba Badero, 2014-06-01 An analysis of the role of Muslims from South Africa's founding to the present points to the resonance of these discussions beyond South Africa. How do Muslims fit into South Africa's well-known narrative of colonialism, apartheid, and post-apartheid? South Africa is infamous for apartheid, but the country's foundation was laid by 176 years of slavery from 1658 to 1834 which formed a crucible of war genocide and systemic sexual violence that continues to haunt the country today Enslaved people from East Africa India and South East Asia many of whom were Muslim would eventually constitute the majority of the population of the Cape Colony the first of the colonial territories that would eventually form South Africa Drawing on an extensive popular and official archive Regarding Muslims analyses the role of Muslims from South Africa s founding moments to the contemporary period and points to the resonance of these discussions beyond South Africa It argues that the 350 year archive of images documenting the presence of Muslims in South Africa is central to understanding the formation of concepts of race sexuality and belonging In contrast to the themes of extremism and alienation that dominate Western portrayals of Muslims Regarding Muslims explores an extensive repertoire of picturesque Muslim figures in South African popular culture which oscillates with more disquieting images that occasionally burst into prominence during moments of crisis This pattern is illustrated through analyses of etymology popular culture visual art jokes bodily practices oral narratives and literature The book ends with the complex vision of Islam conveyed in the post apartheid period

Stereotypes of Muslim Women in the United States Alexis Tan, Anastasia

Vishnevskaya, 2022-06-21 This book brings into focus the perception of Muslim women in the United States often overlooked in research literature and common media narratives but at the same time facing increasing hate and aggression based on their religious and gendered identities Guided by data from three original experiments and theories of priming and media effects Alexis Tan and Anastasia Vishnevskaya discuss how stereotypes of Muslim women in the media influence public stereotypes and how public stereotypes direct aggressions towards them This book contributes to existing literature in the field by presenting evidence that both verbal and visual symbols in the media can activate implicit prejudices and that activation can be controlled by people who self identify as social liberals Ultimately Tan and Vishnevskaya suggest both media and intrapersonal interventions to mitigate harmful consequences of prejudice towards Muslim women in the United States Scholars of media studies communication religious studies gender studies and cultural studies will find this book particularly useful

Commitment and Complicity in Cultural Theory and Practice B. Firat, S. De Mul, S. Van

Wichelen, Sarah De Mul, Sonja Van Wichelen, 2009-05-21 An international line up of scholars examines the role of the intellectual in the twenty first century looking at the gap between contemporary cultural theory and cultural practice and asking whether knowledge and methodologies in the humanities can intervene in everyday politics and vice versa

Woman, Man, and God in Modern Islam Theodore Friend, 2011-11-16 Award winning historian Theodore Friend recently set out alone across Asia and the Middle East on a quest to understand firsthand the life situations of women in Indonesia Pakistan Saudi Arabia Iran and Turkey Woman Man and God in Modern Islam recounts Friend s remarkable journey and relates hundreds of encounters and conversations with people he met along the way Commingling a deep respect for Islam and his faith in the potential of women to change their worlds Friend presents an open exploratory outsider s perspective on women in five very different Islamic cultures timely fare for all who wish to broaden their world horizons

Seeing Differently Amelia Jones, 2013-06-19 Seeing Differently offers a history and theory of ideas about identity in relation to visual arts discourses and practices in Euro American culture from early modern beliefs that art is an expression of an individual the painted image a world picture expressing a comprehensive and coherent point of view to the rise of identity politics after WWII in the art world and beyond The book is both a history of these ideas for example tracing the dominance of a binary model of self and other from Hegel through classic 1970s identity politics and a political response to the common claim in art and popular political discourse that we are beyond or post identity In challenging this latter claim Seeing Differently critically examines how and why we identify works of art with an expressive subjectivity noting the impossibility of claiming we are post identity given the persistence of beliefs in art discourse and broader visual culture about who the subject is and offers a new theory of how to think this kind of identification in a more thoughtful and self reflexive way Ultimately Seeing Differently offers a mode of thinking identification as a queer feminist durational process that can never be fully resolved but must be accounted for in thinking about art and visual culture Queer feminist durationality is a mode of relational interpretation that affects both art and interpreter potentially making us more aware of how we evaluate and give value to art and other kinds of visual culture

Disorientation: Muslim Identity in Contemporary Anglophone Literature E. Santesso, 2013-09-12 Focusing on British novels about the Muslim immigrant experience published after 9 11 this book examines the promise as well as the limits of British Muslim identity as a viable form of self representation and the challenges particularly for women of reconciling non Western religious identity with the secular policies of Western states      The Arab-American Handbook Nawar Shora,2009 Tune up your knowledge of the Arab and Muslim worlds with this easy to read text The Arab American Handbook contains useful reference material and comment by a wide variety of participants and observers The book includes a thumbnail history the essentials of Islam social insights cultural norms The perfect tool for teachers employers travelers law enforcement Government workers and the general public will find that they can quickly penetrate the stereotypes and misconceptions to appreciate the tenor and nuance of Arab and Muslim life Without a better grasp of this subject the citizens of liberal democracies are unsafe at home and at a disadvantage in the global competition for hearts and minds      Fashion and Psychoanalysis Alison Bancroft,2012-02-28 In this innovative new book Alison Bancroft re examines significant moments in twentieth century fashion history through the focal lens of psychoanalytic theory Her discussion centres on studies of fashion photography haute couture queer dressing and fashion art in an attempt to shed new light on these key issues According to Bancroft problems of subjectivity are played out through fashion in the public arena and not just in the dark unknowable unconscious mind The question of what can be said and what can only be experienced and how these two issues may be reconciled become questions that fashion addresses on an almost daily basis By interpreting fashion within a psychoanalytic frame Bancroft illustrates how fashion articulates some of the essential and sometimes frightening truths about the body femininity and the self
