A Teen's Guide to Getting Stuff Done Jennifer Shannon, 2017-11-01 What's your procrastination type That's the question author Jennifer Shannon asks teens in this fun and illustrated book Blending acceptance and commitment therapy ACT and cognitive behavioral strategies A Teen's Guide to Getting Things Done helps teens recognize and understand their procrastination habits discover the strengths of their unique procrastination type warrior pleaser perfectionist or rebel and find the motivation they need to meet important deadlines and reach their highest goals Emotions, Decision-Making and Mass Atrocities Olaoluwa Olusanya, 2016-05-06 This book rehumanizes perpetrators of mass atrocities At present a victim perpetrator dichotomy appears to be the dominant paradigm perpetrators have either been mechanistically dehumanized that is perceived as unemotional hard hearted and conforming and thereby lacking the core features of human nature or alternatively they have been animalistically dehumanized In other words they are seen as immoral unintelligent lacking self control and likened to animals Within sociology and criminology the dominant view is that genocide and other mass atrocities are committed by technologically lobotomized perpetrators Somehow the process of rationalization is believed to have transformed these people from emotionally healthy people into hollow soulless shells of human beings or zombies devoid of a full range of normal emotions These people are considered bereft of any ability to reason think or feel yet ambulant and able to respond to surrounding stimuli However it is difficult to imagine crime especially those involving a group of people working together for the duration of a particular criminal activity without emotions For instance there is ample evidence suggesting that both crimes of passion and pre meditated crimes involve emotional arousal Furthermore research in fields such as evolutionary biology psychology and sociology of work and organizations suggest that emotions are essential for human progress and survival In addition emotions help us make the right call in risky and uncertain situations in other words the majority of real life situations There is therefore a need to revisit existing assumptions around the role of emotions in mass atrocities What Have We Learned? Charmine E. The Pleasant Path Juana Cantador,2014-12-12 The Forty Percent Is it possible to become happier Believe it or not the answer is yes and the great news is that we have forty percent control over our happiness If we think of our lives as a pie chart in which our circumstances represent ten percent and our set point our genetically determined predisposition for happiness or unhappiness represents fifty percent that leaves us with forty percent of intentional activity What makes up that forty percent Our behavior does Besides our genes and the situations we encounter the way we choose to think and behave is the one critical thing left We can see that the key to happiness lies in our daily intentional activities not in changing our genetic makeup or life circumstances All of us could be happier if we scrutinize what precise behaviors and thoughts happy people naturally and habitually engage in
