Computational Intelligence in Communications and Business Analytics Somnath Mukhopadhyay,Sunita Sarkar,Paramartha Dutta,Jyotsna Kumar Mandal,Sudipta Roy,2022-07-21 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 4th International Conference on Computational Intelligence Communications and Business Analytics CICBA 2022 held in Silchar India in January 2022 The 21 full papers and 13 short papers presented in this volume were carefully reviewed and selected from 107 submissions The papers are organized in topical sections on computational intelligence computational intelligence in communication and computational intelligence in analytics The Languages and Linguistics of South Asia Hans Henrich Hock,Elena Bashir,2016-05-24 With nearly a quarter of the world s population members of at least five major language families plus several putative language isolates South Asia is a fascinating arena for linguistic investigations whether comparative historical linguistics studies of language contact and multilingualism or general linguistic theory This volume provides a state of the art survey of linguistic research on the languages of South Asia with contributions by well known experts Focus is both on what has been accomplished so far and on what remains unresolved or controversial and hence offers challenges for future research In addition to covering the languages their histories and their genetic classification as well as phonetics phonology morphology syntax and sociolinguistics the volume provides special coverage of contact and convergence indigenous South Asian grammatical traditions applications of modern technology to South Asian languages and South Asian writing systems An appendix offers a classified listing of major sources and resources both digital online and printed Subject Guide to Books in Print ,1993 The Demands of Recognition Townsend Middleton,2015-10-21 Since the British colonial period anthropology has been central to policy in India But today while the Indian state continues to use ethnography to govern those who were the objects of study are harnessing disciplinary knowledge to redefine their communities achieve greater prosperity and secure political rights In this groundbreaking study Townsend Middleton tracks these newfound lives of anthropology Offering simultaneous ethnographies of the people of Darjeeling s quest for tribal status and the government anthropologists handling their claims Middleton exposes how minorities are and are not recognized for affirmative action and autonomy We encounter communities putting on elaborate spectacles of sacrifice exorcism bows and arrows and blood drinking to prove their primitiveness and backwardness

Conversely we see government anthropologists struggle for the ethnographic truth as communities increasingly turn academic paradigms back upon the state. The Demands of Recognition offers a compelling look at the escalating politics of tribal recognition in India. At once ethnographic and historical it chronicles how multicultural governance has motivated the people of Darjeeling to ethnologically redefine themselves from Gorkha to tribal and back. But as these communities now know not all forms of difference are legible in the eyes of the state. The Gorkhas search for recognition has only amplified these communities anxieties about who they are and who they must be if they are to attain the rights autonomy and belonging they desire.

Language Issues in Comparative Education II Carol Benson, Kimmo Kosonen, 2021-01-25. This second volume of Language Issues in Comparative Education following the tradition of the first introduces the state of the field re establishes core terminology and concepts and situates the chapters in terms of their contributions to multilingual education based on non dominant languages. The first group of chapters examines language in education policy change applying an innovative framework to analyze diverse contexts including Mozambique Estonia and the Philippines. The next group of chapters describes activities designed to implement multilingual education. Using examples from Chad Ethiopia Kenya and Nepal they explore progress in teacher professional development and elaboration of materials for literacy and learning through non dominant languages. Some highlight new areas of the field attending to speakers of non dominant languages other than the ones chosen for instruction and to the urgent multilingual needs of refugee learners. The final group of chapters presents strategies for research and advocacy illustrated with examples from DR Congo Uganda and India. Taken together these contributions form a cohesive body of work that takes stock of advances in multilingual education and moves the field forward. The authors and editors share a common commitment to comparativism in their methods and analysis and aim to contribute to a more inclusive and multilingual education for all. See inside the book.
