Writing Games Christine Pears Casanave, 2005-04-11 This work explores how writers from several different cultures learn to write in their academic settings and how their writing practices intersect with their evolving identities as students and professionals in academic environments

Journal Writing in Second Language Education Christine Pearson Casanave, 2011-02-04 Journal writing is not new journals have been around for centuries More recently journals have been viewed as a means of scaffolding reflective teaching and encouraging reflectivity in research processes As a result some educators may ask What more do we need to know Those likely to raise this question are probably not thinking of the explosive growth of reflective writing enabled by social networking on the Web the blogs and other interactive e vehicles for reflection on experiences in our literate real and virtual lives This revisiting of journal writing from a 21st century perspective informed by relevant earlier literature is what Christine Pearson Casanave guides readers through in this first book length treatment of the use of journal writing in the contexts of language learning pre and in service teaching and research Casanave has put together existing ideas that haven't been put together before and has done it not as an edited collection but as a single authored book She has done it in a way that will be especially accessible to teachers in language teacher education programs and to practicing teachers and researchers of writing in both second and foreign language settings and in a way that will inspire all of us to think about not just do journal writing Those who have never attempted to use journals in their classes and own lives as well as others who have used it with mixed results will probably be tempted to try it in at least some of the venues Casanave provides guidance for Those already committed to journal writing will very likely find in this book new reasons for expanding and enhancing their use of journals      Theory Into Practice

Timothy S. O'Connell, Janet E. Dymont, 2013-06-01 Reflective journals have been used by post secondary educators in a wide variety of teacher training courses to encourage students to better understand the topics that they are studying Reflective journals are often used in courses in which pre service and in service teachers are studying both the theoretical and practical aspects of the subject matter such as secondary teaching methods language and literacy teacher education and outdoor education While there are books on the market that address some facets of reflective journaling there are no integrative books such as Reflective Journaling Unlocking the Power and the Potential that are targeted specifically to pre service and in service teachers There are few resources currently available to teachers wishing to use reflective journals that include the theoretical underpinnings of reflection the integration and impacts of research on the praxis of journaling in each chapter and practical strategies for successful fun journal writing for students This book addresses this need by providing full coverage of using reflective journals as a pedagogical tool Reflective Journaling Unlocking the Power and the Potential includes four figures 15 tables 25 works of art four cartoons and 10 photos that enhance each chapter      Take Me to Your Readers Larry Swartz, 2017-09-22 This thoughtful book is rooted in the belief that teachers can lead their students to develop their reading tastes and grow in their love of reading at the same time as supporting and stretching students in their meaning making experiences This practical resource highlights more than 50 instructional strategies that invite students to work inside and outside a book through reading writing talk and arts experiences It highlights the work of guest voices that include classroom teachers occasional teachers special education teachers and librarians who share their best literacy practices Take Me to Your Readers uses 5 essential areas to structure classroom experiences through children s literature Motivation Theme Connections Genre Connections Cross Curricular Connections and Response Extensive booklists teaching tips a wide range of activities and reproducible pages provide practical support Ultimately this book is designed to take teachers to their readers and start them on a lifelong journey through great books      Sarah Plain & Tall Lit Link Gr. 4-6 ,
