CBSE Class 5 - Mathematics Study Notes - Central Board of Secondary Education , Transnational Public Spheres Mohammadbagher Forough,2024-10-28 This book offers the first systematic theorisation of transnational public spheres from non Western spatial and infrastructural perspectives The current era is characterised by transnational challenges such as climate change pandemics and financial crises that cannot be adequately addressed by national public spheres Public spheres defined as arenas of collective communication and action are the cornerstone of any people centred system of governance This book puts forward a transnational public sphere theory and focuses on spatial infrastructural and non Western perspectives thus adding to the public sphere theory and practice at both national and transnational levels The author offers a new conceptual construct the right to space as a way of transnationalising the theory and addressing its efficacy issues Providing conceptual clarity on the public private distinction this book examines the historical roots of the public sphere in both Asia and Europe establishes the methodological and ontological foundations for a theory of transnational publics and analyses contemporary empirical instances of transnational publics in both Asia and the West This transnationalisation is crucial now that authoritarianism is on the rise and democracy is in decline worldwide A timely addition to the literature this book will be of interest to researchers in international relations political science political theory sociology media and communication cultural and literary studies and Asian studies Offbeat Physics P.I.C.

Teixeira,2022-04-28 Offbeat Physics Machines Meditations and Misconceptions is a collection of articles on various topics in classical physics that have intrigued the author and their students throughout the years The book is divided into three parts Part I Machines comprises chapters that explain or model the workings of a number of machines understood in a broad sense on the basis of physical principles These machines can be as simple as a rolling wheel or as complex as a jet engine Then in Part II Meditations the authors go beyond the standard examples experiments and approximations discussed ad nauseam in most physics textbooks but which are not always very exciting or realistic For example what happens when colliding bodies are not perfectly rigid as we know real bodies are not Finally Part III Misconceptions aims to correct misconceptions that students may have about physical phenomena or clarify issues that are often presented misleadingly confusingly or imprecisely in textbooks such as the relationship between angular momentum and angular velocity in rotational motion This is a book for all those who wish to learn physics beyond the textbooks and from more realistic problems often occurring in engineering contexts It will be useful to instructors at all levels as well as highly motivated students taking General Physics courses in higher education

The Architecture of Home in Cairo Mohamed Gamal Abdelmonem, 2016-03-03 The hawari of Cairo narrow non straight alleyways are the basic urban units that have formed the medieval city since its foundation back in 969 AD Until early in the C20th they made up the primary urban divisions of the city and were residential in nature Contemporary hawari by contrast are increasingly dominated by commercial and industrial activity This medieval urban maze of extremely short broken zigzag streets and dead ends are defensible territories powerful institutions and important social systems While the hawari have been studied as an exemplar for urban structure of medieval Islamic urbanism and as individual building typologies this book is the first to examine in detail the socio spatial practice of the architecture of home in the city It investigates how people live communicate and relate to each other within their houses or shared spaces of the alleys and in doing so to uncover several new socio spatial dimensions and meanings in this architectural form In an attempt to re establish the link between architecture past and present and to understand the changing social needs of communities this book uncovers the notion of home as central to understand architecture in such a city with long history as Cairo It firstly describes the historical development of the domestic spaces indoor and outdoor and provides an inclusive analysis of spaces of everyday activities in the hawari of old Cairo It then broadens its analysis to other parts of the city highlighting different customs and representations of home in the city at large Cairo in the context of this book is represented as the most sophisticated urban centre in the Middle East with different and sometimes contrasting approaches to the architecture of home as a practice and spatial system In order to analyse the complexity and interconnectedness of the components and elements of the hawari as a collective home it layers its narratives of architectural and social developments as a domestic environment over the past two hundred years and in doing so explores the in depth social meaning and performance of spaces both private and public

Least Action Principle of Crystal Formation of Dense Packing Type and Kepler's Conjecture Wu Yi Hsiang, 2001 The dense packing of microscopic spheres i.e. atoms is the basic geometric arrangement in crystals of mono atomic elements with weak covalent bonds which achieves the optimal known density of $\frac{\sqrt{2}}{6}$ In 1611 Johannes Kepler had already conjectured that $\frac{\sqrt{2}}{6}$ should be the optimal density of sphere packings Thus the central problems in the study of sphere packings are the proof of Kepler's conjecture that $\frac{\sqrt{2}}{6}$ is the optimal density and the establishing of the least action principle that the hexagonal dense packings in crystals are the geometric consequence of optimization of density This important book provides a self contained proof of both using vector algebra and spherical geometry as the main techniques and in the tradition of classical geometry

Feminist Periodicals and Daily Life Barbara Green, 2017-10-03 This volume uncovers the ideas concerning everyday life circulating in the burgeoning feminist periodical culture of Britain in the early twentieth century Barbara Green explores the ways in which the feminist press used its correspondence columns women's pages fashion columns and short fictions to display the quiet hum of everyday life that provided the backdrop to the more dramatic events of feminist activism such as street marches or protests Positioning itself at the interface of periodical studies and everyday life studies Feminist Periodicals and Daily Life illuminates the more elusive aspects of the periodical archive through a study of those periodical forms that are particularly well suited to conveying the mundane Feminist journalists such as Rebecca West Teresa Billington Greig E. M. Delafield and Emmeline Pethick Lawrence provided new ways of conceptualizing the significance of domestic life and imagining new possibilities for daily routines p

Holland,Christine Utber,2022-12-27 Routledge Handbook of Global Environmental Politics Paul G. Harris,2013-10-15

This handbook provides a comprehensive and authoritative survey of Global Environmental Politics. It brings together leading international academic experts and features 40 chapters that describe the history of global environmental politics as a discipline and explain the various theories and perspectives used by scholars and students to understand it. Examine the key actors and institutions in global environmental politics explaining the role of states, international organizations, regimes, international law, foreign policy, institutions, domestic politics, corporations, and transnational actors. Address the ideas and themes shaping the practice and study of global environmental politics including sustainability, consumption, expertise, uncertainty, security, diplomacy, North-South relations, globalisation, justice, ethics, participation, and citizenship. Assess the key issues and policies within global environmental politics including energy, climate change, ozone depletion, air pollution, acid rain, sustainable transport, persistent organic pollutants, hazardous wastes, water, rivers, wetlands, oceans, fisheries, marine mammals, biodiversity, migratory species, natural heritage, forests, desertification, food, and agriculture. With an in-depth new preface by the Editor, this edition of the handbook is an invaluable resource for students, scholars, researchers, and practitioners of environmental politics, environmental studies, environmental science, geography, international relations, and political science.

Liberating Women's History Berenice A. Carroll, 1976. Papers furnishing a review and critique of past work in women's history are combined with selections delineating new approaches to the study of women in history and empirical studies considering ideological and class factors.

Media, Technology and Everyday Life in Europe Roger Silverstone, 2017-03-02. The importance of the daily experience of new information and communication technologies is highlighted by this timely volume. The book is based on work carried out in the European Media Technology and Everyday Life Network and is structured round a series of seven empirical case studies drawn from research within Europe. The application of this perspective draws attention not just to the significance of information and communication technologies for a mature understanding of the conduct of everyday life in contemporary Europe but also for the significance of that understanding for the development of communication and information policy. The research makes a significant contribution to our understanding of the dynamics and evolution of a core dimension of European society as well as informing on going and important debates on the nature of the relationship between the social and the technological in the information and communication arena.

A New Old Spirituality? Tone Stangeland Kaufman, 2017-07-11. How do pastors live their spiritual lives both as private persons and as professionals? How can their spirituality be characterized and understood? Drawing on in-depth interviews with Norwegian clergy as well as literature from the fields of Christian spirituality, practical theology, congregational studies, and the sociology of religion, this book offers a nuanced understanding of clergy spirituality. Tone Stangeland Kaufman identifies three locations and sources of spiritual nurture for pastors: the ministry itself, vocational spirituality, daily life, everyday spirituality, and spiritual practices located at the margins of daily life, intentional spirituality. The participants in this study engage in classic Christian practices yet approach them in a subjective and new way that also potentially revitalizes their spiritual lives Hence the author makes the case that their spirituality can aptly be described as a new old spirituality The book also seeks to nuance Paul Heelas s and Linda Woodhead s Spiritual Revolution claim and thus engages in the broader spirituality vs religion discourse A New Old Spirituality is an exciting example of how qualitative empirical research can be used in creative ways to make a practical theological argument It is a book for scholars students and practitioners
