Allison, 2016-01-14 This book critically analyzes the portrayals of Black women in current reality television Audiences are presented with a multitude of images of Black women fighting arguing and cursing at one another in this manufactured world of reality television This perpetuation of negative insidious racial and gender stereotypes influences how the U S views Black women This stereotyping disrupts the process in which people are able to appreciate cultural and gender difference Instead of celebrating the diverse symbols and meaning making that accompanies Black women's discourse and identities reality television scripts an artificial or plastic image of Black women that reinforces extant stereotypes This collection's contributors seek to uncover examples in reality television shows where instantiations of Black women's gendered racial and cultural difference is signified and made sinister Religion and Reality TV Mara Einstein, Katherine Madden, Diane Winston, 2018-04-17 Why is reality television flourishing in today's expanding media market Religion and Reality TV Faith in Late Capitalism argues that the reality genre offers answers to many of life's urgent questions Why am I important What gives my life meaning How do I present my best self to the world Case studies address these questions by examining religious representations through late capitalist lenses including the maintenance of the self the commodification of the sacred and the performance of authenticity The book's fourteen essays explore why religious themes proliferate in reality TV audiences' fascination with lived religion and the economics that make religion and reality TV a successful pairing Chapters also consider the role of race gender and religion in the production and reception of programming Religion and Reality TV provides a framework for understanding the intersection of celebrity media attention beliefs and values The book will be of interest to students and scholars of religion and media studies communication
