Intergenerational Space Robert Vanderbeck,Nancy Worth,2015-06-03 Intergenerational Space offers insight into the transforming relationships between younger and older members of contemporary societies The chapter selection brings together scholars from around the world in order to address pressing questions both about the nature of contemporary generational divisions as well as the complex ways in which members of different generations are and can be involved in each other s lives These questions include how do particular kinds of spaces and spatial arrangements e g cities neighbourhoods institutions leisure sites facilitate and limit intergenerational contact and encounters What processes and spaces influence the intergenerational negotiation and contestation of values beliefs and social memory producing patterns of both continuity and change And if generational separation and segregation are in fact significant social problems across a range of contexts as a significant body of research and commentary attests how can this be ameliorated The chapters in this collection make original contributions to these debates drawing on original research from Belgium China Finland Poland Senegal Singapore Tanzania Uganda the United States and the United Kingdom

Accessibility, Equity and Efficiency Karst T. Geurs,Roberto Patuelli,Tomaz Ponce Dentinho,2016-02-26 Leading researchers from around the world show in this volume the importance of accessibility in contemporary issues such as rural depopulation investments in public services and public transport and transport infrastructure investments in Europe The trade offs between accessibility economic development and equity are comprehensively examined and a variety of approaches to measuring accessibility and equality presented The book s interdisciplinary contributions also provide different geographical contexts from the US to various European and developing countries and cover ex ante and ex post evaluation of transport investment Improving transport accessibility is a main objective in transport policy and planning in developed and developing countries all over the world Investment is motivated by the need to develop and or reduce spatial or social inequalities However the economic and equity implications of investments in transport are not straightforward The concepts of accessibility and equity can be defined and operationalized in many different ways influencing outcomes and conclusions Moreover equity and efficiency goals are often conflicting Accessibility models not only help to explain spatial and transport patterns in developed and developing countries but are also powerful tools to explain the equity and efficiency impacts of urban and transport policies and projects This state of the art overview of the accessibility economic efficiency equity relationship will appeal to researchers as well as transport and urban planners interested in accessibility issues and transport regional developments

Framing Civic Engagement, Political Participation and Active

Citizenship in Europe Cristiano Bee,Roberta Guerrina,2017-12-22 This book evaluates the role that civic engagement political participation and active citizenship can play in promoting the establishment of a European polity The chapters included here examine how the practice of active citizenship is managed and constructed in the context of a European drive to increase civic engagement and political participation in three member states Portugal Italy and the UK and one accession country Turkey Looking at both processes and policies promoting active citizenship at the European and national levels this book uncovers current discourses as well as political priorities and values that surround the activities of non governmental organizations NGOs Of particular interest are debates about the nature and level of civic and political participation and engagement of marginal groups women youths migrants and minorities as they are particularly vulnerable to social exclusion The book focuses on the interaction between institutions and civil society actors addressing a number of questions related to their reciprocal role in influencing shaping criticising or disregarding certain political priorities This book was published as a special issue of the Journal of Civil Society

Handbook on Water Security Claudia Pahl-Wostl,Anik Bhaduri,Joyeeta Gupta,2016-01-29 Water security has received increasing attention in the scientific and public policy communities in recent years The Handbook on Water Security is a much needed resource that helps the reader navigate between the differing interpretations of water security It explains the various dimensions of the topic by approaching it both conceptually and thematically as well as in relation to experiences in different regions of the world The international contributors explore the various perspectives on water security to show that it has multiple meanings that cannot easily be reconciled Topics discussed include challenges from human security to consumerism how trade policies can help to achieve water security in a transboundary setting the potential of risk based governance arrangements and the ecology of water security Scholars and postgraduate students in the social sciences working on water related issues will find this book to be of substantial interest It will strongly appeal to policymakers and practitioners looking at the strengths and limitations of water security

Institutional Challenges to Intermodal Transport and Logistics Jason Monios,2016-05-23 While the operational realities of intermodal transport are relatively well known the institutional challenges are less well understood This book provides an overview of intermodal transport and logistics including the policy background emerging industry trends and academic approaches Establishing the three key features of intermodal transport geography as intermodal terminals inland logistics and hinterland corridors Jason Monios takes an institutional approach to understanding the difficulties of successful intermodal transport and logistics Key areas of investigation include the policy and planning background the roles of public and private stakeholders and the identification of emerging strategy conflicts Substantial empirical content situates the theoretical and practical issues in real world examples via three detailed case study chapters covering the USA UK and Europe making the book useful to students as well as practitioners desiring an understanding of how intermodal transport and logistics work in practice The identified challenges to intermodal transport and logistics are used to demonstrate how competing port and inland strategies can inhibit the necessary processes of integration required to underpin successful intermodal transport The book concludes with a look at the future of institutional adaptation that may enhance the capacity of freight actors to engage with intermodal transport developments The Plausible World B. Westphal,2016-04-30 In The Plausible World the intersections of literature and cartography enable readers to understand that place is anything but purely geographic a plausible world is created as a strategy to fill the void Innovative in his approach Westphal challenges the view that perceptions and representations of space are stable or straightforward Territorial Disputes in the South China Sea J. Huang,A. Billo,2014-12-09 Heightened tensions in the South China Sea have raised serious concerns about the dangers of conflict in this region as a result of unresolved complex territorial disputes This volume offers detailed insights into a range of country perspectives addressing the historical legal structural regional and multilateral dimensions of these disputes Towards Good Order at Sea Thomas Mandrup,Francois Vre~,2015-03-01 The problems originating from the resultant bad order at sea can be directly felt on land when smuggling terrorism and related criminal activities operate more or less unhindered The book provides an important mapping of the challenges preventing good order at sea off the African coast and East Africa in particular Rear Admiral N Wang Commandant Royal Danish Defence College Land of the Fee Devin Fergus,2018-06-08 The loans ordinary Americans take out to purchase homes and attend college often leave them in a sea of debt As Devin Fergus explains in Land of the Fee a not insignificant portion of that debt comes in the form of predatory hidden fees attached to everyday transactions Beginning in the 1980s lobbyists for the financial industry helped dismantle consumer protections resulting in surreptitious fees often waived for those who can afford them but not for those who can't Bluntly put these hidden fees unfairly keep millions of Americans from their hard earned money Journalists and policymakers have identified the primary causes of increasing wealth inequality fewer good working class jobs a rise in finance driven speculative capitalism and a surge of tax policy decisions that benefit the ultra rich among others However they miss one commonplace but substantial contributor to the widening divide between the rich and the rest the explosion of fees on every transaction people make in their daily lives Land of the Fee traces the system of fees from its origins in the deregulatory wave of the late 1970s to the present The average consumer now pays a dizzying array of charges for mortgage contracts banking transactions auto insurance rates college payments and payday loans These fees are buried in the pages of small print agreements that few consumers read or understand Because these fees do not fall under usury laws they have redistributed wealth to large corporations and their largest shareholders By exposing this predatory and nearly invisible system of fees Land of the Fee reshapes our understanding of wealth inequality in America 21st Century Homestead: Sustainable Agriculture I Marlon Henkel,2015-02-22 21st Century Homestead Sustainable Agriculture I contains the first part of everything you need to stay up to date on sustainable agriculture Suburban Urbanities Laura Vaughan,2015-11-12 Suburban space has traditionally been understood as a formless remnant of physical city expansion without a dynamic or logic of its own Suburban Urbanities challenges this view by defining the suburb as a temporally evolving feature of urban growth Anchored in the architectural research discipline of space syntax this book offers a comprehensive understanding of urban change touching on the history of the suburb as well as its current development challenges with a particular focus on suburban centres Studies of the high street as a centre for social economic and cultural exchange provide evidence for its critical role in sustaining local centres over time Contributors from the architecture urban design geography history and anthropology disciplines examine cases spanning Europe and around the Mediterranean By linking large scale city mapping urban design scale expositions of high street activity and local scale ethnographies the book underscores the need to consider suburban space on its own terms as a specific and complex field of social practice

Elizabeth Bennett, 2023-12-14 Performing Folk Songs is the first full length volume to explore English folk singing from the perspective of performance studies Using archival sources family repertoire and recorded performances of interviewees this book argues that archives and repertoires are produced in sensory environments and through embodied encounters Autoethnography sensory ethnography life writing and landscape writing are used to explore the affective and emotional aspects of learning songs by heart Drawing on her experience as a folk singer Bennett contributes to discourse on English folk traditions in the 21st century and brings performance scholarship to the contemporary folk song resurgence In analyzing the performance of English folk songs in the affective context of the archive and the landscape the book engages with and contributes original insights to scholarship on folk music performance studies affect theory cultural geography and intangible cultural heritage studies

Intellectual Property and Free Trade Agreements in the Asia-Pacific Region

Christoph Antons, Reto M. Hilty, 2014-12-05 This book is highly topical The shift from the multilateral WTO negotiations to bilateral and regional Free Trade Agreements has been going on for some time but it is bound to accelerate after the WTO Doha round of negotiations is now widely regarded as a failure However there is a particular regional angle to this topic as well After concluding that further progress in the Doha round was unlikely Pacific Rim nations recently have progressed with the negotiations of a greatly expanded Trans Pacific Partnership Agreement that includes industrialised economies and developed countries such as the United States Japan Australia and New Zealand recently emerged economies such as Singapore but also several developing countries in Asia and Latin America such as Malaysia and Vietnam US and EU led efforts to conclude FTAs with Asia Pacific nations are also bound to accelerate again after a temporary slowdown in the negotiations following the change of government in the United States and the expiry of the US President's fast track negotiation authority The book will provide an assessment of these dynamics in the world's fastest growing region It will look at the IP chapters from a legal perspective but also put the developments into a socio economic and political context Many agreements in fact are concluded because of this context rather than for purely economic reasons or to achieve progress in fields like IP law The structure of the book follows an outline that groups countries into interest alliances according to their respective IP priorities This ranges from the driving forces of the EU US and Japan via Asia Pacific resource rich but IP poor economies such as Australia and New Zealand recently emerged economies with strong IP systems such as Singapore and Korea to leading developing countries such as China and India and second tier industrializing economies such as Thailand Malaysia and Indonesia Deepening Neoliberalism, Austerity, and Crisis Julien Mercille, Enda Murphy, 2015-07-07 From bank bailouts to austerity Europe's and Ireland's response to the economic crisis has been engineered specifically to shift the burden of paying for the crisis onto ordinary citizens while investors financiers bankers and the privileged are protected The authors expose the class based nature of Ireland's crisis resolution , Inside the Enemy's Computer Clement Guitton, 2017-08-01 Attribution tracing those responsible for a cyber attack is of primary importance when classifying it as a criminal act an act of war or an act of terrorism Three assumptions dominate current thinking attribution is a technical problem it is unsolvable and it is unique Approaching attribution as a problem forces us to consider it either as solved or unsolved Yet attribution is far more nuanced and is best approached as a process in constant flux driven by judicial and political pressures In the criminal context courts must assess the guilt of criminals mainly based on technical evidence In the national security context decision makers must analyse unreliable and mainly non technical information in order to identify an enemy of the state Attribution in both contexts is political in criminal cases laws reflect society's prevailing norms and powers in national security cases attribution reflects a state's will to maintain increase or assert its power However both processes differ on many levels The constraints which reflect common aspects of many other political issues constitute the structure of the book the need for judgement calls the role of private companies the standards of evidence the role of time and the plausible deniability of attacks
