international efforts which will have to be framed by new rules and more democratic and inclusive mechanisms of global governance Global Governance and Rules for the Post 2015 Era provides a unique assessment of global rules and governance a reflection of how global rules have been shaping development experiences and outcomes an identification of the shortcomings of current global governance mechanisms and innovative suggestions for reforming and improving them The various chapters analyse whether current rules and governance structures enables the building of effective responses against international problems and promote a fair distribution of development opportunities among countries This book is a timely contribution to the discussions on a new global development agenda undertaken under the leadership of the United Nations It reflects the outcome of a research programme by a group of independent development experts brought together by the United Nations Committee for Development Policy CDP a subsidiary body of the Economic and Social Council It will be of interest to policymakers worldwide experts of international agencies scholars students and the wider public What We Think About When We Try Not To Think About Global Warming Per Espen Stoknes,2015 Today about 98 percent of scientists affirm that climate change is human made and about 2 percent still question it Despite that overwhelming majority though about half the population of rich countries like ours choose to believe the 2 percent And paradoxically this large camp of deniers grows even larger as more and more alarming proof of climate change has cropped up over the last decades This disconnect has both climate scientists and activists scratching their heads growing anxious and responding usually by repeating more facts to win the argument But the more climate facts pile up the greater the resistance to them grows and the harder it becomes to enact measures to reduce greenhouse gas emissions and prepare communities for the inevitable change ahead Is humanity up to the task It is a catch 22 that starts says psychologist and climate expert Per Espen Stoknes from an inadequate understanding of the way most humans think act and live in the world around them With dozens of examples he shows how to retell the story of climate change and apply communication strategies more fit for the task Publisher s description Global Health 101 Skolnik,2016 Rated by an independent panel as the best introductory Global Health text for undergraduates Global Health 101 Third Edition is a clear concise and user friendly introduction to the most critical issues in global health It illustrates key themes with an extensive set of case studies examples and the latest evidence Particular attention is given to the health development link to developing countries and to the health needs of poor and disadvantaged people The Third Edition is a thorough revision that offers an extensive amount of new and updated information while maintaining clarity simplicity and ease of use for faculty and students Offering the latest data on the burden of disease the book presents unique content on key topics that are often insufficiently covered in introductory materials such as immunization and adolescent health Soviet Physics ,1965-04 Technology For Transformation Libbi R. Miller,Daniel Becker,Katherine Becker,2016-04-01 This book serves as a platform for educators and researchers to unite educational technology and social justice While educational technology is a rapidly changing and progressive field of research and practice it remains largely separate from education for social justice Current literature about educational technology is often approached from a technical how to perspective that emphasizes ways to implement technology into the classroom Technology is often viewed as inevitable yet neutral and value free Educational technology however is anything but neutral The contributors collectively advance a hopeful discourse by exploring the potential of technology as a vehicle to transform and emancipate while not forgoing a critically reflective measure of self conscious critique of our own role as educators students or scholars in oppressive silences constraints and conditions This edited collection makes an important and unique contribution to the field as it will be the first published volume to detail research theory and practice regarding student use of technology in achieving liberatory aims since IAP s 2009 publication ICT for Education Development and Social Justice The fields of educational technology and social justice are vast and applicable in many domains including teacher education graduate programs and K 12 education This work is intended to appeal to a diverse academic and professional audience of K 12 teachers teacher educators educational technology and social justice scholars and policy makers Scholars and academics instructing graduate level educational technology courses can reference this edited collection as the most current text on socially just educational technology Educational practitioners from teacher education programs and the K 12 sector may use this book as a source of ideas and inspiration to incorporate student use of technology toward emancipatory aims This title could be adopted as a course text for both undergraduate and graduate education courses in media literacy digital literacy distance education education for social justice and teacher preparation and educational technology courses Readers will also be able to use the book as a guide when critically analyzing their own professional practice whether it is in research working with K 12 students or preparing future educators or scholars The
