Technology and Diversity reflects on the idea that great expectations are achievable through educational projects that foster academic growth with classroom diversity and technology as catalysts for deeper learning and that a narrow focus on grade expectations yields superficial results. Arguing today's learning principles need to incorporate the core values of community learning, critical pedagogy, multilingualism, anti-racist education, high academic standards, and technological fluency, Cummins, Sayers, and Brown provide a thought-provoking introduction into these learning principles that will inspire the life-long learning of students. Take a peek inside! Provides examples of projects backed by research-based theories for their effective adaptation to help both pre-service and practicing teachers become more independent and creative in the ways they use technology. Gives useful suggestions on how to effectively integrate literacy and technology into the classroom. Presents Portraits: Case studies of collaborative projects promoting literacy learning and often involving technology on such topics as Cognition, Assessment, Community of Learning, and Tools and Resources in Section II.
