Olthoff,1996 The GEC RF Reference Cell is a parallel plate capacity coupled rf plasma reactor that in principle is suitable for studies of basic discharge phenomena investigation of industrial type plasmas and theoretical modeling This report contains 12 articles that review nearly all of the experiments and theoretical modeling efforts that have been performed over the last 5 years using GEC cells Together they serve as a users guide to the operation and performance of the GEC cell Scientific and Technical Aerospace Reports ,1988 Lists citations with abstracts for aerospace related reports obtained from world wide sources and announces documents that have recently been entered into the NASA Scientific and Technical Information Database Lees' Loss Prevention in the Process Industries Frank Lees,2005-01-10 Over the last three decades the process industries have grown very rapidly with corresponding increases in the quantities of hazardous materials in process storage or transport Plants have become larger and are often situated in or close to densely populated areas Increased hazard of loss of life or property is continually highlighted with incidents such as Flixborough Bhopal Chernobyl Three Mile Island the Phillips 66 incident and Piper Alpha to name but a few The field of Loss Prevention is and continues to be of supreme importance to countless companies municipalities and governments around the world because of the trend for processing plants to become larger and often be situated in or close to densely populated areas thus increasing the hazard of loss of life or property This book is a detailed guidebook to defending against these and many other hazards It could without exaggeration be referred to as the bible for the process industries This is THE standard reference work for chemical and process engineering safety professionals For years it has been the most complete collection of information on the theory practice design elements equipment regulations and laws covering the field of process safety An entire library of alternative books and cross referencing systems would be needed to replace or improve upon it but everything of importance to safety professionals engineers and managers can be found in this all encompassing reference instead Frank Lees world renowned work has been fully revised and expanded by a team of leading chemical and process engineers working under the guidance of one of the world s chief experts in this field Sam Mannan is professor of chemical engineering at Texas A principles practice codes standards data and references needed by those practicing in the field Messenger and Visitor ,1909 The Illustrated London News ,1887 Thalamic Function - Beyond a Simple Relay Vincenzo Crunelli,William Martin Connelly,W. Martin Usrey,2016-05-20 The thalamus is often described as a relay Typified by sensory pathways this concept leads to thalamic nuclei being viewed as areas that passively streams information from a single source to the cortex without affecting the nature of that information However diverse intrathalamic connections the varying synaptic and membrane properties of thalamic neurons and the large number of inputs from non sensory sources make the idea that the thalamus is just a passive relay unlikely Furthermore a large number of thalamic nuclei are not primarily driven by sensory signals nor do they exclusively target the cortex meaning the thalamus must do more than simply pass sensory signals to the cortex Finally there is a wealth of research demonstrating that the thalamus does indeed function in ways that are not captured by the concept of a simple relay So why given all of this is the primary paradigm for describing the thalamus a relay This Research Topic covers original research reviews and hypotheses on thalamic function that explore the concept that the thalamus performs computational tasks other than simply passively relaying information
