Ppv Marketing Simplified With Plr:

PPV Marketing Simplified Jim Stephens, 2021-04-28 Pay per view advertising is interesting in part because you are presenting offers to a unique audience type. The people who will be viewing your ads have all agreed to download the PPV company's Adware. While you can't read too much into this fact, it does have an impact on the way one should approach the practice. What do you know about the audience for your ads? Obviously, you have some idea about them based upon the search queries they will be making or the URLs they will be visiting. You know something else too. They agreed to download the software that shows them your advertisements in exchange for some inducement.

Video Marketing Simplified Jim

Stephens, 2021-04-27 Prior to television, commercials used to be aired on the radio. Before radio, businesses used to advertise their wares in a variety of different ways, mostly through print media. Even before print media, metal signs depicting the nature of the product were produced. For as long as there have been people in business, they have sought different ways to advertise their business. The purpose was to get more sales leads and generate more revenue for the business. Things have not changed. Although advertising has come a long way, the nature of the reason for advertising has not changed since the days of the metal signs. Radio commercials used to often feature jingles. The purpose of these jingles was to make the listener remember the product. Remember that people could not visualize the product back then, so they identified with the jingle. Commercial jingles were so popular they were also later used in television advertising, although they seem to have lost their appeal. Early radio advertisers were the sponsors of the radio program. They were short and sweet, and people were forced to listen because they didn't want to miss the next installment of their favorite radio show. Plus, back in those days, there was no remote control. When television came out in the late 1940s, advertisers quickly saw this as a good media to sell their product. They began sponsoring certain television shows. They often found ways to not only sponsor by their frequent commercials but also within the program itself. One example of this is the old I Love Lucy television program, probably one of the most popular sitcoms of all times. It was sponsored by Phillip Morris. Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz had stipulations in their contract that they had to often be seen smoking during the program. This is why Ricky was often seen coming out of his child's bedroom with a cigarette hanging out of his mouth.

PPC Marketing Simplified Jim Stephens, 2021-04-28 PPC stands for Pay Per Click, a popular advertising technique on the Internet. Found on websites, advertising networks, and especially on search engines, PPC advertising involves sponsored links that are typically in the form of text ads. These are usually placed close to search results where an advertiser pays a particular amount to visitors who click on these links or banners and land on the advertiser's web page.
