Internationalisation of Cluster Organisations Pavel Bednář,Drahomíra

Pavelková,Magdalena Lucyna Bialic-Davendra,2016-06-22 This book presents the results of research conducted on clusters and their internationalisation highlighting the importance of international collaboration It shows the possibilities and benefits of internationalisation activities of cluster organisations in increasing the competitiveness of affiliated members In addition it offers a detailed evaluation of this type of cluster activities in relation to a range of relevant variables The research presented here constitutes a valuable contribution to debates concerning cluster internationalisation issues drawing attention to current trends and presenting a comparison with foreign studies A particular advantage of the book is that by focusing on a specific region namely the Czech Republic and offering a profound analysis of cluster internationalisation its findings and recommendations shed new light on internationalisation issues and can further enrich development of such activities among clusters and cluster policies support in other countries The book will serve as a guide for practitioners policy makers and academics and offers insights into the internationalisation of clusters

Clusters in Automotive and Information & Communication Technology Paul J.J. Welfens,2014-07-08

Information on the other hand the importance of outsourcing and off shoring has increased Against this background the intensification of innovation dynamics becomes crucial and with them the role of regional innovation clusters The analysis examines seven regions and six EU countries The focus is on cluster and network dynamics in both industries as regional ICT clusters are playing an increasingly central role in many European regions Specialization and structural change in the automotive sector are highlighted and new strategic approaches for multinational companies and changes in policy options are identified

Running the Numbers: A Practical Guide to Regional Economic and Social Analysis: 2014 John Quintero,2014-12-18 Through use of practical examples and a plainspoken narrative style that minimises the use of maths this book demystifies data concepts sources and methods for public service professionals interested in understanding economic and social issues at the regional level By blending elements of a general interest book a textbook and a reference book it equips civic leaders public administrators urban planners nonprofit executives philanthropists journalists and graduate students in various public affairs disciplines to wield social and economic data for the benefit of their communities While numerous books about quantitative research exist few focus specifically on the public sector Running the Numbers in contrast explores a wide array of topics of regional importance including economic output demographics business structure labour markets and income among many others To that end the book stresses practical applications minimises the use of maths and employs extended chapter length examples that demonstrate how analytical tools can illuminate the social and economic workings of actual American regions

Business Clusters C. Jayachandran, Michael Thorpe, Ram Subramanian, Vishnuprasad Nagadevara, 2020-11-29 The book contains a selection of papers on business clusters in its multiple perspectives It has evolved from the research symposium organized by the The Society for Global Business and Economic Development SGBED an international group of academicians at Dubai during January 2009 It begins with an introduction to the concept of clusters and then examines their link to a host of strategic issues such as their nexus to competitive advantage their performance vis vis their competitors who are not similarly agglomerated and the challenges in measuring the performance of clusters Regional economic clusters have serious policy implications Governments local as well as national have used clusters as the unit for investment and infrastructure upgrading policies It focuses on the normative aspects as well as practices and provides pointers on how public policies can help the development and growth of regional economic clusters With numerous examples and cases from a host countries such as Dubai Mexico Spain and Karnataka India the book is a must read for all students of business strategy Regional

Cohesion Piotr Pachura, 2009-11-11 This book presents an interdisciplinary analysis of EU regional cohesion based on a network and clusters approach The author explores the question if and how the presence of network structures supports the effectiveness of transformation in EU regions in particular with a focus on non pecuniary factors of regional growth For a theoretical foundation of the topic characteristics of a networking economy as well as the determinants of EU policies on regional development and innovation are examined and discussed The empirical analysis at the core of this work presents and makes use of interdisciplinary methodological tools such as Data Envelopment Analysis DEA K means models and self organizing maps Cluster Development and Policy Philip Raines, 2017-11-22 This title was first published in 2002

Examining cluster development policy in Europe and outlining its distinctive features this innovative text places it within the national context of regional policy making It also identifies the features supporting the successful development of industrial clusters and provides a clear overview of cluster theory and policy practice followed by seven key case studies on the history and operation of different cluster policies in Europe While there has been a number of books on the theory of cluster development little research has been published on policy By filling this gap this book will be of interest to a policy making audience as well as students and researchers of regional economic development throughout Europe The Clusters

Phenomenon in the Selected Central European Countries Magdalena Lucyna Bialic-Davendra, Eva Jirčíková, Drahomíra Pavelková, 2014-03-17 This book presents the current results of research conducted in the area of clusters and cluster policy development in Central European countries with a focus on Poland the Czech Republic the Slovak Republic and Austria It maps and compares the various conditions influencing cluster development in these selected countries from both the macro policy government and the micro cluster organisation level analyses good practices and proposes a framework for cluster development in this region Additionally the depicted research provides a new perspective on the cluster issue drawing attention to current trends such as the concept of inter cluster cooperation and World Class clusters The book serves as a guide for successful cluster development and is a source of valuable research concerning the issue of clusters in the specified region Its findings will be beneficial both for clusters and institutions supporting their development The recommendations presented in this volume will be useful for further cluster policy development and shaping the programmes of support for clusters for the new programming period in these countries The practical findings contained here will also be beneficial in the academic sphere and will provide assistance for teaching activities

Developing Practice Guidelines for Social Work Intervention Aaron Rosen, Enola K. Proctor, 2003-11-26 This book bridges the gap between social work knowledge and empirically based practice Although there is a significant need for the use of empirically tested and verified knowledge in social work practice the empirical basis of support is nearly absent from practitioners considerations as they make clinical decisions in routine practice The authors advocate the development of readily available accessible and professionally sanctioned practice guidelines for use by practitioners a necessity in the age of managed care and demands for greater accountability effectiveness and efficiency in practice This book features a much needed discussion of racial and ethnic differentials in relation to practice guidelines and on the relationship between practice guidelines and different aspects of service delivery
